

PAPA'S BOYS TAKE RUBBER

Blag Out a Victory from the Star Twirler of Denver.

INCIDENTALLY PLAY CLEAN FIELDING GAME

The Cubs Start Out to Win It, but When Safe Hits Begin to Rain They Change Their Mind About It.

DENVER, Colo., July 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Pa Bourke's pet twirler, Ned Kenna, today to the tune of 1 to 5 and touched him up whenever they thought a run or two was needed to keep the Cubs in the background, and thus getting three out of the five games of the series.

Denver was the first to score. Smith touched up the sphere for a single. Braun secured transportation to the first station, purloined second and Lucid helped the game along by rapping out a single, scoring Smith and Braun.

Omaha carried the battle into the Cubs' territory in the fourth and started the fireworks. With two men on bases, Dolan solved the twister of Kenna with a single. Then came Thomas, who sent a long one into McHale's territory. The old grizzly failed to connect with it, and two men crossed the rubber. Omaha touched off another torpedo in the sixth. Welch sent one wide over the head of Denver's shortstop. Dolan followed with a sizzler to the left garden, scoring Welch, and was in turn brought across the plate by Thomas' fly to the right field, which was not relayed in good time.

The Cubs evened up the score in the same inning. Hallman surprised himself as well as the fans by connecting for a three-bagger. Hayes singled, purloined second and galloped home, immediately following Hallman on Braun's single.

Omaha got another in the seventh when Nick Carter went down the line on a hit and was scored by Hartnell's fumble of a grounder. The visitors got two more in the eighth on a single and a double. The invaders landed on Kenna in the last inning at will and showed him no mercy. When the final score was put up it was found that Omaha had eleven runs to five for Denver. Attendance, 200. The score:

RUBBER'S TEAM IS DOING WELL Wins Three Out of Five from Denver and Goes to Springfield. Three out of five from Denver, and those three of the best pitchers in the Tabor roster are in contention for the Omaha flag. Brown is the best pitcher in the other, but at that the outlook is not hopeless. The game which pitched was very encouraging, while it is not likely that Companion or McCarthy will show up at the Springs as well as they did at Denver. Companion, suffering to some extent from lack of work, and will get his chance at the Superstition and Lowell. Doubledheaders will be played at the Springs today, tomorrow and Thursday. This will give the team Friday to come home in, reaching Omaha Friday evening with Des Moines, and a ready to start the big fight at the visitor's expense on Saturday afternoon. Three games will be very important to the team, for with the team playing the game it is at present, the promised change in leadership could be put off much longer. The Des Moines team is bidding high for front place, keeping pace with the Bourke family. There is surely something wrong in the Western league circles just at present.

According to the reports on which the pitchers have been working, Pfeister and Companion will go in this afternoon. McCarthy and Quick tomorrow and Brown and Pfeister on Thursday. This ought to insure three of the six games for Omaha, with a better chance than they have for the fourth. Having broken the record of three years at Denver by winning three, the Bourke family may easily be expected to keep it going at the Springs and win the series.

Steeple of the North Presbyterian Church is Blown Across the Street into a Grocery Store. ST. LOUIS, July 11.—A terrific storm of wind, rain and hail prevailed in St. Louis and vicinity for a short time this afternoon, causing considerable damage to property. One man was killed by lightning and five others were injured, but not seriously hurt, by flying missiles. The maximum reached by the wind was sixty-five miles an hour, but this velocity was sustained for only a minute, or the damage might have been much greater. The average velocity was about forty-eight miles an hour. Twelve barges were blown across the river and eighteen or twenty houses on Twenty-first street, between Washington and Carr streets, were completely unroofed, and other damage was done throughout the city. Some of the hail stones that fell during the storm measured an inch in diameter.

A man named O'Toole was struck by lightning near his home and killed. Wind struck the steeple of the North Presbyterian church and blew it across the street into the front of a grocery store. Several buildings were unroofed, trees were uprooted or broken off, heavy plate glass windows were broken by wind and hail, and telephone and telegraph wires were carried away in various parts of the city. The wind was so strong that the Jefferson guards were ordered to close the doors to the large World's fair buildings in order that the wind might not raise the roofs. Lightning struck the Agricultural building, but did no serious damage.

Be Want Ads are the best Business Boosters. NEW YORK, July 11.—General Superintendent Brooks of the Western Union Telegraph company, said today that the message sent by Judge Parker to Mr. Sheehan at St. Louis relative to the platform adopted by the democratic national committee was not delayed by the Western Union Telegraph company in delivery. The message, Mr. Brooks says, was transmitted from Esopus immediately and delivered promptly to the address given, and a copy handed to Mr. Sheehan personally as soon as he could be found, which was 2:30 p. m. The Associated Press can state, however, that the story of a verification of the dispatch is correct and that the request for the same came from St. Louis but from whom is not known.

A man named O'Toole was struck by lightning near his home and killed. Wind struck the steeple of the North Presbyterian church and blew it across the street into the front of a grocery store. Several buildings were unroofed, trees were uprooted or broken off, heavy plate glass windows were broken by wind and hail, and telephone and telegraph wires were carried away in various parts of the city. The wind was so strong that the Jefferson guards were ordered to close the doors to the large World's fair buildings in order that the wind might not raise the roofs. Lightning struck the Agricultural building, but did no serious damage.

NEW YORK, July 11.—General Superintendent Brooks of the Western Union Telegraph company, said today that the message sent by Judge Parker to Mr. Sheehan at St. Louis relative to the platform adopted by the democratic national committee was not delayed by the Western Union Telegraph company in delivery. The message, Mr. Brooks says, was transmitted from Esopus immediately and delivered promptly to the address given, and a copy handed to Mr. Sheehan personally as soon as he could be found, which was 2:30 p. m. The Associated Press can state, however, that the story of a verification of the dispatch is correct and that the request for the same came from St. Louis but from whom is not known.

TORNADO STRIKES ST. LOUIS

One Man Killed by Lightning and Five Others Injured.

TWENTY HOUSES COMPLETELY UNROOFED

Steeple of the North Presbyterian Church is Blown Across the Street into a Grocery Store.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—A terrific storm of wind, rain and hail prevailed in St. Louis and vicinity for a short time this afternoon, causing considerable damage to property. One man was killed by lightning and five others were injured, but not seriously hurt, by flying missiles. The maximum reached by the wind was sixty-five miles an hour, but this velocity was sustained for only a minute, or the damage might have been much greater. The average velocity was about forty-eight miles an hour. Twelve barges were blown across the river and eighteen or twenty houses on Twenty-first street, between Washington and Carr streets, were completely unroofed, and other damage was done throughout the city. Some of the hail stones that fell during the storm measured an inch in diameter.
