

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER HAWAII

Governor Carter Tells of Prosperity of the Government's Islands. HAS KICK OR TWO AGAINST UNCLE SAM

Displeased at Reduction in Republic Representation - Wants Harbor Redesign for James J. Hill's Mammoth Ships.

George R. Carter, governor of the Hawaiian Islands, passed through Omaha yesterday on his return from a conference with President Roosevelt and attendance at the republican national convention.

"I took up several matters while in the east. Among other things the expenditure of public moneys collected by tariffs imposed at our ports, deepening of our harbors, lighthouse maintenance, present laws governing the leasing of public lands in the islands and other matters of less importance.

"At present the financial affairs of the islands are in very good condition. The United States government has collected through customs duties imposed at our ports the $2,000,000 which was assumed as debts when the islands were annexed and that is at this time a balance in the treasury of the United States of $200,000, so you see Uncle Sam has returned to him all he has paid out on our account and has money left.

Cannot Get Improvements. "Still in the face of this we cannot secure improvements which we are entitled to without a great deal of trouble, and not even then unless we take extreme measures. When the cost of maintaining the lighthouses and other public buildings upon us and supported by direct taxation of our people a vigorous protest arose from the islands. I took the matter up with Washington and informed the government that we would no longer stand the expense and that if it came to be made in the method of paying the bills the lights in all the houses along our coast would be turned off January 1, not to be relighted until someone else paid the bill. The result was the national government came to our assistance and the cost is now paid out of the funds in the hands of the national government.

Originally our harbors were only twenty-eight feet in depth. For a long time this depth was sufficient to float the ships which came to our shores, but when the larger vessels were built they drew thirty feet of water. We raised the money and had the harbors dredged to carry ships of this draft, but not until we had asked the government at Washington to do the work. Now James J. Hill has built vessels which draw thirty-two feet of water and the harbors again must be deepened, but we are not going to do the work. The United States government will have to take the matter up and stand the expense or the ships of Mr. Hill will have to remain outside.

Amount of Per Capita Tax. "The tax at present through import duties collected by the United States on our 15,000 population amounts to $3.57 per capita, and when we are paying the amount annually into the treasury we do not feel that we can collect additional revenue to do the work which should be performed by the national government.

Another matter which is of vital importance to us is that of land leases. Under the present law the public lands cannot be leased for a longer period than five years. Originally it was twenty years. It requires our years to prepare the land and produce a product, and it is scarcely probable that a producer is going to put in four years' work to secure one crop. Before the passage of the present law, which had the ardent support of Senator Newlands of Nevada, we had no difficulty in leasing our public lands and they produced good revenue. But Senator Newlands was making a comparison of our country with his in Nevada, and it was worked a great hardship upon us. Our homestead laws are very good. Under the provisions of the laws a settler is enabled to make a contract with the government for land which he can head him and his heirs for a period of 99 years, but cannot be sold or mortgaged. This prevents the lands from falling into the hands of capitalists, who would attempt to hold it for sugar production in some tract. In order to hold the land the settler must reside upon it and work it. There are other means by which a man may settle on the islands to good advantage to himself and the country.

Good Chances for Young Men. "There are good opportunities for a thirty young man to get on in the islands. The things the production of sugar, apples and vanilla beans offer good openings. The vanilla bean is an aerial plant, and it is not necessary to have a large estate to grow it. It is a very profitable crop. Just within her grasp is safety—but she does not see it; she is looking the wrong way. There is a woman struggling in a sea of disease who is doing the same thing. She is looking the wrong way—snatching at medicinal straws when the life buoy, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is within her reach.

WHO CANNOT BE CURED. So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, such as Leucorrhoea, or Falling of the Womb, and Leucorrhoea, that after over thirty of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $50 in cash for any case of these diseases which it cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressing conditions. It is a simple, natural, and safe remedy, and its success is due to its being a purely medicinal preparation, and not a chemical compound. It is a remedy that would warrant its manufacturer in making such an offer; and no other remedy has such a record of cures as which to be such a remarkable one.

OLD MAN FALLS FROM WAGON. Tenmeter Hurled to Ground and Hurt When His Horses Ran Away.

Daniel Bentz, an aged teamster living alone at 411 North Twenty-eighth street, fell from a wagon yesterday and sustained several ugly scalp wounds and a gash on the forehead on the left eye. Mr. Bentz was about to leave his barn when the horse was frightened and started away before the driver could recover himself. Bentz was driven to the police station and attended by the surgeons, who say there is nothing serious in the wounds so far as can be detected at present.

Maus began work this morning. He is a carpenter by trade and a leader in union labor circles. Politically Maus is a democrat.

A LETTER TO OUR READERS.

33 COTTAGE ST., MELROSE, MASS. DEAR SIR: "Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the last year it has become so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

"I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition, sugar free, and in every respect.

"I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers, I am,

Very truly yours, L. C. RICHARDSON.

You may have a simple bottle of this wonderful remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root. If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

raised in the forest. An Englishman of my acquaintance came out to Hawaii some time ago and secured a tract of 100 acres of forest land. He has planted various beans and the plants now are developing. In a conversation with him recently he told me that in three or four years more he would have a steady income of from $3,000 to $5,000 per year. He does the work himself and country and desires to sell and his wife to do the housework for him. The kind of land which this man has can be obtained practically without cost to the settler. Of course the sugar business has got beyond the man with limited capital. A first-class sugar plantation cannot be started now with an investment of much less than $100,000 and the industry is in the hands of a few men.

Honolulu is now a thriving little city of about 30,000 population and is gradually growing. Governor Carter is a young man, probably about 35 years of age, of very pleasing address. He was born and raised in the islands, of the second generation, as he expresses it. He is evidently in love with this country and desires to stay here, which he believes it is destined to do.

ON HIS OLD BATTLEFIELD

General Wint Will Command Maneuvers Where He Fought Forty-Two Years Ago.

Brigadier General T. J. Wint, commanding the Department of the Missouri, with his personal aids, First Lieutenant William J. Karnes, Sixth cavalry, and First Lieutenant Charles C. Allen, Thirtieth infantry, will depart about August 20 for Manassas, Va., to participate in the army maneuvers September 5 to 10 on that historic ground made famous by two of the greatest battles of the civil war—the first battle of Bull Run, July 21, 1861, and second battle of Bull Run at Manassas August 28 and 29, 1862. General Wint will have charge of the First brigade, consisting of five companies and the headquarters and band of the United States infantry, First Georgia Infantry, National Guards; Fifth Massachusetts Infantry, National Guards; Fifth New Jersey Infantry, National Guards, and Seventy-fourth New York Infantry, National Guards.

The ground over which the maneuvers will take place is practically the same over which General Wint participated in real warfare as a private soldier in the Sixth Pennsylvania cavalry forty-two years ago. Major Charles R. Noyes, adjutant general of the Department of the Missouri, also is detailed for duty at the army maneuvers as adjutant general of the First division and will accompany General Wint. The party will be absent until about September 15.

WOMAN GETS OUT WITH FINE

Keeper of Baby Farm Assessed Ten Dollars and Case Will Be Appealed.

Mrs. Mary A. Lowrey of 246 Larimore avenue, arrested about a week ago on the charge of cruelty to children, has been found guilty of negligence by Police Judge Berka, who fined the woman $10 and costs. Attorney John M. Macfarland has furnished an appeal bond for his client and said the case would be taken to the district court. In announcing his decision in the case Judge Berka said he had given the matter much thought since the hearing of the evidence last Thursday morning and he found that Mrs. Lowrey had been negligent in her duties as the mother kept at the home for a certain stipulation, but he could not find from the testimony that any cruelty had been committed within the meaning of the law. In view of the defendant's good character and on the understanding that the home had been closed the Judge said he was inclined to be lenient in the matter of the fine.

Board of Education Likely to Select Janitors at Tonight's Meeting. RUMORS OF NUMEROUS CHANGES IN FORCE

City Opens New Fiscal Year Without an Overlap in Any Fund, the Floating Debt Having Been Bonded.

This evening the Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting, and if street reports are true there is going to be a lively shaking up among the janitors. When the board elected teachers no mention was made of janitors, although frequently the board has designated the janitors it wishes to retain at or about the time the teachers are named. Report has it that tonight a majority of the janitors employed last year will be dropped from the rolls and new selections made. When this rumor became current Saturday there was considerable excitement among the janitors who thought they had a cinch on their places for another term of nine months.

The statement is made by those who pretend to know that some of the best men are to be let out because they have displaced some of the members of the board. An increase in the number of janitors to be employed is also reported. No examination is held to ascertain whether a janitor is familiar with the working of a steam boiler. A couple of months ago Councilman Kiewit endeavored to have an ordinance drafted providing for an examination of all persons in charge of heating plants in the city. The city attorney was instructed to draft the ordinance, but it has never been done, the matter being allowed to drop. Mr. Kiewit insists that some such regulation should prevail in order that competent men may be placed in charge of heating plants in the city. There seems to be little likelihood of such an ordinance being passed during the present year.

Fiscal Year Commences. Today the city starts on a new fiscal year and for the first time in many years it begins without an overlap in any of the funds. Heretofore there has always been an overlap to be paid out of the money to be derived from taxes levied during the summer. Year by year this overlap increased until it amounted to $70,000. As the interest on this amount of outstanding warrants was large, it was decided to vote general levies in order to take up the overlap. This was done and all of the old obligations were disposed of.

On a valuation of $17,700,000, the city will derive $103,444 in taxes, which will be enough, the officials say, to pay the running expenses and leave a balance in the treasury at the expiration of the present fiscal year. The year's books were closed Saturday night, but the treasurer and clerk have until September 1 in which to prepare reports for the mayor and council. It is expected that quite an amount of business will be transacted at the council at the meeting tonight. July claims and salaries will be paid and the business of the last fiscal year will be disposed of. Some appointments may be made by the mayor, but there is nothing sure about the chief executive naming seven members of the library board.

Bids for paving Thirtieth street will be opened. This work has been delayed on account of the failure of bidders to submit samples of the material to be used. Erecting False Work. False work for the support of the heavy steel trusses used in the construction of the O street viaduct is being built. The long span of this bridge is nearly completed and the engineer in charge of the work hopes to have the second span, which is a short one, completed in fifteen days. The understanding is that the bridge will be opened to traffic just as soon as the span is in position and the flooring laid. Readings at both the ends of the viaduct approaches are finished except the painting. No start will be made on the painting of the spans or the woodwork until after the viaduct is opened. August 1 was the date originally set for the completion of this bridge, but delay in securing steel put the work behind about two weeks.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES

"The Crooks" at the Boyd. The local popularity of the play that has been made out of the Dumas story, "Article 47" and called "The Crooks," was well shown by the crowd that filled the Boyd theater last night to witness its presentation for the first time this season by the Ferris Stock company. It is a thrilling romance, this story and its situation are of the sort that hold the attention of the auditor from beginning to end. And it was well acted last night. Several faces new to the company were seen in the cast, but the performance was a very smooth one, and the applause that greeted the actors was genuine. Miss Pavey, despite her hard summer's work, enters with zest and vigor on the exciting role of Cora, and gives a really fine portrayal of an exceedingly difficult character. Mr. Bricker, on whom falls the role of villain, is a dignified and careful actor, with acceptably correct methods and made an excellent impression. Mr. Raymond again proves his versatility by singing a song and singing it well. The belief is growing that Raymond learned to be an actor somewhere where he had to do about all the parts in the bill. He has so far shown himself here in a wide range of characters, and has done uniformly good work in all. Sheets, 404 Seward street, returned Sunday from Niagara Falls, where they attended the fifth annual convention of the International Federation of Commercial Travelers. The two most important subjects considered were the interchangeable mileage proposition in connection with the Central Passenger association and the question of old age as it affects accident risks. A committee of three was appointed to gather statistics on the latter subject and present them to the next annual convention, which will be held at Put in Bay, O., next July. Twelve traveling men's associations, with a combined membership of over 100,000 commercial travelers, were represented by about fifty delegates.

ORIGINALS THE CHAMPIONS

Defeat Nonpareils and Regents in Very One-Sided Games. FORMER TEAM FAILS TO MAKE A RUN

Later Only Gets Two, While Victors Pile Up a Total of Twenty-Five Runs for the Afternoon.

The Lee-Glass-Andrews Originals secured a clean hit to the city champion ship Sunday afternoon at the Vinton street park by giving decisive beatings to the Nonpareils and the Regents. The former were defeated by a score of 15 to 4, and the latter 13 to 2. The victors simply played all around the other teams, both Adams and Skully doing splendid work in the pitcher's box. Each allowed but four hits and each struck out seven men. Neither game was in doubt from the start. A crowd of more than 1,000 noisy partisans saw the game. Lawler, Creighton and Minikus produced a fast article of ball and the team generally had its opponents outclassed.

Prendergast, who pitched for the Regents, and Lynch, who did the slab work for the Nonpareils, were inclined to wildness and when they were hit it was at the time when the stick work did the most good. Prendergast had indifferent support, while that behind Lynch was good. Empire Reagan of the Missouri Valley league, who has been assigned to the Three-I league, umpired both games. The score:
