FALL TERM

Of the OMAHA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE 17TH AND DOUGLAS STS.

Opens Thursday Morning, September 1.

Courses of Study-Regular Business, Shorthand and Typewriting, Telegraphy, Penmanship, Civil Service Branches, and Pen Art.

Our Location and Quarters—Our location at Seventeenth and Douglas Streets is one of the most desirable in the city. It is free from holse and has most excellent surroundings. Our quarters, consisting of the second and third floors—each fixible feet—oertainly could not be more desirable. We have light upon all sides, the best ventilation and the building is heated by steam. Pure air and quiet surroundings are conducted to the best work on the part of students. Our quarters have recently been thoroughly revolutionised. We have repaired and repainted and made numerous important changes. Everything is in first-class shape for the opening. Considerable new equipment in the way of typewriters and other furnishings is being provided. The symnasium has been moved to the second floor and is now being fitted up in first-class shape. Basket bell will be a popular game this year.

Queery Book—We have enough Query Books left, to supply present demands. Nearly three thousand copies have been ordered in two weeks. Another edition will soon go on the press. If you desire a copy of this most popular and instructive little book, send us the names of ten young people desiring a commercial education, or send us ten cents in postage stamps. soon go on the press. If you desire a copy of this most popular and institutive stock book, send us the names of ten young people desiring a commercial education, or send us ten cents in postage stamps.

Night School—This will open Thursday, September 1. It will run four nights each week. All branches taught in the day school may be had. Every possible advantage is given those who cannot possibly attend the Day School.

Our attendance—The prospects now are for the largest school we have ever had. Our correspondence is immense. New students from all over the country are coming. Numerous parties from Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs have called and partially made arrangements to begin September 1. All departments will be largely attended. If you are going to school this year, you cannot afford to overlook the Omaha Commercial College.

General information—Fall Term begins September 1. New classes will be organised in all departments. Special circulars have recently been printed in the interests of our Penmanship and Telegraph Departments. They will be sent you free. Over a thousand students were enrolled last year. In addition to thorough and comprehensive courses of study, we can promise you other advantages worthy of your consideration. We refer to our Literary Society, Lecture Course, Board of Trade, Public Entertainments, Gymnasium, Foot Ball and Basket Ball; features not possessed by any other school west of Chicago. We maintain these things for two reasons: First, because the scholarship of the student is broadened; second, because students must have profitable recreation.
