The Price Current says: "Wheat situation in the northwest is such that a satisfactory intelligent conclusion cannot be reached as to what may be expected as to harvest results. There has been great extent of serious injury to the crop. There is, however, a large part of the crop not injured, or not to a degree of importance. Situation some weeks ago was one of high promise, in fact, pointing to a crop decidedly above usual proportions. Comparisons bow being made are with that high promise rather than average or usual position that the extravagant statements from some sources as to percentage may be regarded as of less significance in reaching conclusions as to comparative situation than the eastern observer may give them credit for.

There were comparatively few corn fed steers included in the offerings, and as buyers all wanted a few the better grades sold without much trouble at good steady prices. the corn fed line was disposed of in fairly good season.

A large proportion of the arrivals consisted of western grass beef steers, and owing to the big runs at other points packers were inclined to be bearish. The market was slow and while some of the more desirable grades changed hands at about steady prices the commoner kinds were rather slow and weak.

There were so few cows on sale that the competition among buyers forced prices upfully a dime and some of the better loads showed even more improvement than that. The demand from packers was not heavy, But at the same time they all wanted a few, and as a result salesmen held for more money and buyers had to pay the advance. Most everything changed hands at an early hour.

everything they had on hand, and as a result they were all anxious for fresh supplies this morning. There were only a few on sale and prices improved fully a dime and in some cases the more desirable loads sold as much as 15c higher. Representative

Totals2,967 5.218 CATTLE-Receipts of cattle this morning CATTLE—Receipts of cattle this morning were very neavy at nearly all points. Chicago reported 28,000, with the market 102 25c lower, and Kansas City 16,000, with prices 102 100 lower. The run at this point was about 4,300, but of this number 33 cars were billed through, so that the actual number on sale was rather small for a Monday. That helped out the situation here materially and a fairly satisfactory market was experienced.

Sugars seemed to be playing for a big run tomorrow and consequently did not want to get too many on hand today unless they could get them cheap enough to pay. Their hids in many causes were 100 like lower, particularly on the heavier hogs, but whenever a salesman could get within a dime of Saturday's pfices he cut loose. At noon there were still several loads in first hands for which there seemed little demand. Buyers apparently had their orders filled and did not appear to cars whether they got any more hogs or not.
