

SWEDISH ENDORSE KENNEDY

Choose Him for Support at the Coming Congressional Primaries.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN PLEDGE SUPPORT

Open Meeting at Washington Hall Develops Much Enthusiasm for Preferred Champion and Strong Resolution is Adopted.

Swedish republicans to the number of about 100 unanimously endorsed John L. Kennedy for the republican congressional nomination at an open meeting in Washington hall Friday night.

The full resolution concerning Mr. Kennedy's candidacy is:

Whereas, The republican primaries for the nomination of a candidate for congress will be held on the third day of September, 1904,

Whereas, This district is now represented in congress by a democrat because of factional differences among republicans,

Whereas, We are entitled to be represented by a republican, as the district is republican by a large majority, and it is our duty to strengthen and uphold president Roosevelt and the administration by electing a representative in sympathy with republican principles and policies,

Whereas, We have in the person of Hon. John L. Kennedy a candidate on whom all elements of the party can unite, a lawyer of the highest standing and integrity, capable, safe, conservative and loyal to republican principles, and

Whereas, Political wisdom demands his nomination by reason of the fact that he is the strongest candidate presented and his election is absolutely assured, therefore,

Resolved, That we, the Swedish-American voters of this district, in joint assemblage, heartily endorse the candidacy of Hon. John L. Kennedy and pledge to him our earnest support at the primaries and at the polls.

Endorse the Party Principles.

Besides this the assembly took occasion to voice its faith in the party, as follows:

We, the Swedish-Americans of Douglas county, reaffirm our adherence to the cardinal principles of the republican party, as enunciated by its national convention and commend unequivocally the policies by which republican principles have been carried into effect under the administrations of William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

As loyal republicans, we esteem it a high honor and privilege to follow the standard of Roosevelt and Fairbanks; and we pledge our cordial support to the nominees of the republican state and congressional conventions.

In calling the meeting to order, Theodore Johnson said that the action contemplated, that of endorsing a candidate before the convention, was unprecedented among the Omaha Swedes, but he saw no reason why it should not be done, and the whole Swedish vote encouraged to vote for the candidates considered the best after thorough discussion.

Jacob L. Jacobson was made chairman of the meeting, and John N. Westberg secretary. The latter, although stating he would work for Burbank, made the motion to approve Mr. Kennedy's candidacy.

Debate of the Meeting.

In the discussion, which was very careful and complete, many of those present participated and nearly every one expressed a personal preference for Mr. Kennedy. Chairman Jacobson told how he had stood by him loyally when he was a candidate for the honor of representing the Nebraska electoral college at Washington after the last national election, and other instances of his friendliness to the Swedes were enumerated.

William F. Gurley was several times referred to as a "railroad tool" and C. E. Malm said he never would vote for him because he had said to him in discussing the Henry Bullin prosecution, "What difference does it make to you? Can't we go right out here and get $100,000 from the taxpayers to give to him or any one else?"

Adjournment was taken to next Wednesday night, when the Swedes will meet again for ward organization and effective work for all branches of the republican ticket.

FIRST WARDERS OUT IN FORCE

Large Meeting Listens to Aspirants on the Political Issues.

The First Ward Republican club met with an exceptionally large attendance, Friday night at its hall, corner Sixth and Pierce streets. The principal speakers were Howard Kennedy, Jr., candidate for district judge, and John P. Breen, candidate for the republican nomination for congress.

Mr. Kennedy spoke briefly of his own candidacy and then drifted into general politics, comparing the republican and democratic national platforms and candidates. His eulogy of President Roosevelt and the certainty of his election were greeted with enthusiastic applause. He predicted an overwhelming victory for the state and county republican tickets.

Mr. Breen's address bore upon national topics and the race question. He spoke also upon the railroad taxation question as

To Make a Bride

Many a woman would make a beautiful bride but she is deterred from entering the married state because of ill-health.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

If women would study the laws of health and use a little more common sense there would not be such a large number to-day suffering with the ill peculiar to our sex," writes Mrs. Sallie Martin (President Mutual Social Science Club of the South Broadway Street, Chicago, Ill.) "Then when medicine is needed if they would take the 'Favorite Prescription,' they would have a chance to get well. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three years ago and it cured my trouble. I am now a healthy woman and I know what I am talking about when I write this. I can always know what the result will be when I use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with 'Favorite Prescription' whenever a laxative is required.

PLAN TO STOP FOREST FIRES

Wireless Telegraph May Be Tried, Says Richard E. Follett.

ON HIS WAY TO SCENE OF DISASTERS

Declares Some Means Must Be Taken to Preserve Timber Against Fires Which Entail Terrible Losses.

Among the guests registered at the Her Grand yesterday was Richard E. Follett, vice president of the Forestry, Fishing and Game Association of America. Mr. Follett is on his way to Portland and expects to investigate conditions in Oregon, Washington and Montana regarding the fishing and game interests. He expects to stop in Omaha upon his return, when he will be ready to report the result of his investigations.

One feature of the work in which he is interested at this time is the forest fires now prevailing in the west. He said one of the problems which has absorbed the attention of the association is these fires.

"The association and government have worked in harmony to devise means which will lead to a reduction of the conflagrations which are yearly not only reducing vast tracts of timber, but destroying game and its natural haunts. Many schemes have been under consideration from time to time, but they have been abandoned for one reason and another as unfeasible. The plan of a system of wireless telegraphy is one of several now under consideration and it is intended to put a few experimental stations in operation to test them. The idea of these stations is to give warning of these fires and enable them to be located when they are in their incipency. The news of the fire would be transmitted by a system of signals produced as a result of the heat. The idea is by no means impracticable and it is not so expensive to establish as may appear upon the surface. The cost of maintenance is slight after the recording instruments are once in place, while the saving to property would more than justify the expense if after a thorough trial it is found feasible.

Candidates for Congress Must Fight It Out for Delegation.

The Second Ward Republican club Friday night refused to endorse any individual candidate for the nomination for congress. Each contestant will, therefore, go into the fight for delegates to the convention without the strength which such backing gives and it will be a free-for-all affair at the primaries. Whoever is successful will receive the support of the organization.

After deciding upon this course, the club arranged for a marching branch. The meeting was most enthusiastic and it was decided to have the largest marching club in the history of the organization. John Berger was selected as captain and Messrs. Graves, Kaspar and Morris, the subcommittee, stated that arrangements had been made to secure 150 uniforms.

"That won't be enough," declared Martin Sugarman. "We'll need twice that number."

Frank Kaspar attempted to have the club endorse a set of congressional convention delegates that were to go unopposed. This raised a vigorous protest and his resolution was laid on the table. This placed the club out of the light over the selection of a candidate, and each man seeking the nomination was left to shift for himself at the primaries.

At the meeting newly elected President Ed Schoenraef and Secretary Corliss F. Hopper took their places for the first time. The former appointed the following executive committee: Judge Troup, chairman; Mike Lee and P. W. Handauer.

"This is a republican year," declared Judge Bartlett, in addressing the members of the club. "The way that people turn out at preliminary meetings during warm weather demonstrates that fact. I deprecate factional fights. They are bad. Let us get together and this fall the party ticket will be successful from top to bottom."

Short speeches were also made by Howard Kennedy, candidate for district judge; ex-Judge Slabaugh, candidate for county attorney; and James C. Kinsler, who also seeks the nomination for the latter position.

None of the congressional candidates was present. Another meeting will occur at the same place next Friday night.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARRESTED

Man's Street Car Manners Are Bad and Wife Interferes When Policeman Appears.

Because George Percy of 1814 North Twenty-fourth street "had such a way with him" last evening on a Hanscom park car he was arrested by Patrolman Crowe and booked at the city jail with the charge of disturbing the peace on a car and assaulting an officer. Mrs. Anna Percy, his wife, who threw herself into the breach when her husband was being taken into custody, was arrested for interference with an officer.

Percy's little mannerism that brought him to grief was the placing of his feet across his wife's lap while riding on a car. The conductor told Percy that such conduct was against the peace and dignity of the community and unpleasant to the other passengers on the car. One fat man with two suit cases, enroute to the Union station, stumbled over the acrobatic Percy and lost his temper.

The conductor continued to object to Percy's conduct and the latter continued to rest his feet across his wife's lap. At the junction of Sixteenth and Farnam streets Officer Crowe was called and requested to eject Percy. During the ejection process the irate passenger put up a stiff fight with the policeman, whom he struck in the face with his fist. Mrs. Percy rushed to her husband's aid and took Officer Crowe's club away. A large crowd congregated and after some difficulty the twin was loaded into the patrol wagon.

"Guilty," answered Percy when arraigned in police court this morning, charged with disturbing the peace. One eye had been blacked and the skin knocked from the bridge of his nose as the result of the scuffle with Officer Crowe. "I was drunk and not myself," was his excuse for his conduct.

He was fined $5 and costs and Mrs. Percy $5 and costs. She paid the money.

FOUNDERS OF PUBLIC LIBRARY

Book Containing Autograph Signatures of Original Subscribers is Placed on File.

All the members of the Library board, with the exception of Perrine and Deuel, were present at the regular meeting of the board held last night, with President Reed presiding. The president called the board's attention to a book in his possession which bears the subscription autographs of the shareholders of the Omaha Library association, an association which was the forerunner of the present Omaha library. The book was deposited in the public library by Mr. William Wallace. Each share cost $100, and many of the names of Omaha's leading business and professional men of the years 1871 and 1872 are down in the book.

The deed to the Jocelyn property was examined and accepted, and arrangements made for the payment of the purchase price. Besides the regular monthly statistics, the librarian made a report on the pay collection department, which showed sixty volumes purchased for the department, twenty of which had been paid for from the special fees. The books were transferred to the regular library shelves; the net cost to the library being only $23. Bills to the amount of $125 were audited.
