

LAUGH AT THE PARKER MEN

Populists Say They Will Not Let Up on Democratic Candidate.

EXPECT THE PARKERITES TO CUT BERGE

Attorney Burr Filed Affidavits to Disprove that He Mutilated Record in Case Submitted to the Supreme Court.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The threat the Parker Democrats made to the populists yesterday that they would not support Berge for governor unless the populists stopped their warfare on Parker has created more amusement than alarm in the populist camp. The few democrats there are in the state are too near the ragged edge of extinction to cause a stampede among the victorious pops, known of all men as the boss of the two parties. In fact, the democratic state organization is absolutely in the hands of the pops or under the control of the pops, and the chairman and the officers of the committee may as well be so many clerks so far as heading off anything the pop committee may want to do. The democratic committee wants to land Bryan in the senate and Bryan cannot hope to break into the senate or have any of his friends break into the senate unless the pops are willing.

A number of pops were asked about the democratic threat this morning and most of them prefaced their remarks with a look of pity for their misguided allies of the past. "Cut Berge, will they?" said one. "Well, we expected them to do that anyhow. The people who are holding these indignation meetings are those democrats who wouldn't vote for a populist under any consideration and if they think we intend to let up on our fight on Parker they are foolish. They will vote the republican state ticket or stay at home anyhow, so it is mighty little comfort they will get out of making such threats to us. We are getting thoroughly organized in this state in the union and we know we will have to get our votes from the democrats who were for Bryan during the last two campaigns. That is why we are fighting Parker, and you bet we will continue to fight him until the polls are closed. The democrats who are kicking us on the issue about cutting Berge all they please. We can't help that. They would do it anyway just for revenge, so we won't try to argue it with them. We expect to elect Berge, too."

Requisition for Kite.

A requisition was issued this morning for the return to Nebraska of Charles Everett, alias Donakin Kid, who is wanted out in Lincoln county for breaking jail, an incident in his arrest for horse stealing. He is now under arrest at Woodbury, Ia. It is charged that Kite, with another man, a husky and a horse, returned to Lincoln and sold the outfit instead of returning it to its owner.

Attempts Suicide.

Mrs. William Wilkerson took fifteen grains of morphine last night in an attempt to end her life, and was unsuccessful. Family troubles are supposed to have been the cause of her wishing to die. Last year she was in the asylum for several days after a separation from her husband, and recently she has been very despondent. Yesterday it was reported her husband packed up the household goods in their former home and notified her to move out from her share. She is said to have sent him word to come and see her, and when he failed to respond she went to the home of a relative and took the poison. She was discovered in time to be saved.

Attorney Denies Charge.

L. C. Burr, attorney for Hays B. Tomson in a suit against the Western Travelers' Accident association, who was accused of mutilating the records by Attorney Gilbert of Omaha, filed his own and several other affidavits in the supreme court this morning denying the charge. In the original papers filed it was admitted by Burr that his client was suffering with a diseased mind, and according to his affidavit he asked permission, and it was granted by the judge, to scratch out the admission and enter a denial. The affidavit of Judge Holmes upholds the Lincoln attorney.

Circular to Teachers.

Superintendent Fowler has issued a circular letter to county superintendents and principals regarding the work of the school year. Among the new things discussed in Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"YOUNG WOMEN:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, and spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only secured good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at it until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—NETTIE BLACKMORE, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.—25000 letters in original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be printed.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will hold your letter in strict confidence. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass.; her advice is free.

the circular is the teachers' book review club. Mr. Fowler advocates the organization of these clubs, whereby a teacher, by buying one or two volumes, can get the benefit of a dozen or more by going into a club. He also explains the manner of registering certificates, which many teachers have not understood heretofore.

son Cassius Fisher Trouble.

Chancellor Andrews has published in the local papers a notice to the effect that he will no longer be responsible for the debts contracted by his son, Guy A. Andrews. For some months the younger Andrews has been addicted to the liquor habit to the extent that at times he has been wholly irresponsible for his acts. On several occasions he has forged the name of his father to checks and these have been faithfully paid, but so far has this gone that the chancellor has had to take heroic measures to prevent his own financial ruin. The young man is a graduate of the law department of the State university and of Brown college. The disease of drink has secured such a hold on him, however, that last summer he was sent to the asylum, but later released, and it was thought he was permanently cured. He has practiced law in Lincoln and until recently was possessed of a brilliant mind.

Surprise on Papa.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaks Kautzman of 1821 O street had planned on having a wedding at their home last Tuesday, but it didn't come off. They had expected and planned to celebrate the marriage of their daughter, Miss Eudora L. Kautzman, and Mr. Fred J. Winter, a young merchant of Yutan, Neb. The groom-expectant, as they deemed him, had come to Lincoln Friday evening, and there was much domestic discussion of the felicitous event which it was thought by the parents to be approaching.

It was not until Monday evening that the event was declared off. It was so declared because it developed that it was unnecessary and wholly superfluous. Late Monday evening Mr. Kautzman was sitting at the foot of the stairs at his home thinking of the suspected developments of the morning when he was approached by Mr. Winter. With some embarrassment that young man explained to him that it would be impossible to become his son-in-law next day because he already stood in that position.

Explanations brought out the fact that Miss Kautzman was not to be married to Mr. Winter because she was already such person as Miss Eudora L. Kautzman, she having, as long ago as June 22 last, already become Mrs. Fred J. Winter of Yutan. Mr. Kautzman was astonished to learn that on the date named his daughter and Mr. Winter were married at Grace Methodist church in Yutan, and that she had had carefully and successfully guarded the secret ever since.

GENEVA, Neb., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—An enthusiastic meeting of the women voters convened last night at the home of Mrs. Peter Youngers, the object being the school bond question and to form a plan for work for the remainder of the week. The members were divided into their respective wards and three were elected from each ward to form an executive committee. Next Saturday will decide whether Geneva will vote to spend $50,000 in building and equipping a good, modern high school building, making room for the children of the district, or whether they will still be crowded in rooms far too small, with the poorest furniture and poorly ventilated and poorly lighted, freezing in cold weather and roasting in hot. he had met the little girl at the circus ground, inveigled her out into the corn field, snatched her and left her tied and bound. He went back to the circus and was working with a tent gang when news of the assault began to be circulated. He left his coat and started down the tracks along nearly the same road where he had taken the girl and out to East End. There he took a passing fright and went to Scribner. The next morning he went to Newman Grove and the following day returned to Fremont, where he was apprehended. The sheriff was anxious to get him back to a safe place as soon as possible. There was a good many people on the streets and about the jail, but none knew that the man wanted was inside. At 12:20 the prisoner, heavily ironed, accompanied by the sheriff and two special deputies, went over to the county judge's office, where the complaint charging assault was read to him and he started to explain the affair to the court, but was interrupted by the court, who told him this was a preliminary examination. He then waived preliminary and was held to the district court for trial. A double rig was in waiting and he and the sheriff started south across the river, the intention being to drive to Wahoo and there take the train for Lincoln.

The prisoner gave his name as Harold Bailey and his home as Osceola, Ind., where he said his mother lives. He said he sometimes goes by the name of Frank Newman. Upon his capture, which he left at the circus grounds, was a button of the International Restaurant Waiters' union. Schuttlesworth, the man who first recognized him, has only been here a few days. He has been working at the canning factory.

The Olson girl is doing as well as can be expected this evening, and unless something unexpected occurs, will recover.

NO FUSION IN CUSTER COUNTY

Democrats Willing, but Populists Will Have None of It.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Sept. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—The fusion party representative convention of the fifty-sixth district was held in this city last night. Only eight of the nineteen delegates were present, but the convention seated enough voters from the districts not represented to increase the number of delegates to thirteen. James H. Stockman was elected chairman and J. J. Tooley secretary.

The question of fusion was a troublesome one that entered into the proceedings and was the cause of heated discussions and personal animosity between the factions. Only six votes could be mustered by those who favored fusion. The balloting and discussions were continued until nearly 1 o'clock this morning before the ticket was completed. The nominations were offered to several, who declined to accept. The nominees are Thomas Holliday of Arnold and John Murray of Lee Park.

The democratic senatorial convention, which was to have been held here yesterday afternoon, was postponed until today to await the results of the republican representative convention.
