FUSIONISTS SECURE TWO CANDIDATES

W. C. T. U. Convention Reports Omaha as the Best Field to Secure Funds to Carry, on the Work of Society.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 12 - (Special.) -- A real spiritualist who can bring the who can make the self same dead speak began at the First Presbyterian church of out in meeting can find a good job in Lin- this city this afternoon with a devotional coln. Because none such has been found and no good seances have been held the State Spiritualist association, which is in centage of the 150 divines and laymen exsession here, adjourned today until Sunday afternoon. By that time it is expected W. W. Aber of Kansas City, who has a great reputation as a drawing card for the spirits, will be here and the real meetings will begin, At the session today P. S. George of Lincoln was elected president, Fred Wheeland of Exeter, vice president and G. S. Klock of Lincoln secretary. Max Hoffman, the former president, was thrown over the transom, figuratively speaking, by the association because he was short on scances and on interest in the cause. As a reason for a lack of mediums it was given out that so much interest is being taken in spiritualism that most of the mediums were now ergaged in different parts of the country and could not come to Lincoln just at this time. Many experiences have been given by the delegates, one man telling that he saved a leg by applying to the spirits. He had been injured, he said, and of committee on devotional services and poleoning set in. The doctors decided that his life could be saved only by amputation. He wrote to the spirits and they gave him the ingredients for a liniment that cured him. Others have told of talking with their dead, and it is expected the Sunday meeting will be an interesting one.

Fasionists Get Candidates. last the republican party in this have finally secured the use of the names Paine to put on the ticket for state senator and the name of J. W. Morning for state representative. These are the only candidates the fusionists will came and they will not put up a county ticket. This was all arranged at a meeting of the two committees held yesterday, and though Colonel Eager said late yesterday afternoon that he knew nothing about the matter. Chairman Weber of the populist committee said he would stand for the inio .-

able to secure a couple of candidates has greaf'y enitosed them and arrangements will be started at once for a great big ratification meeting to celebrate the event This meeting will be held in the Auditorium on the night of October 29, and George W. Berge will again talk to his own people. It is probable that Joseph W. Folk of Missouri will also speak if he can arrange to get hele on that date. Mr. Folk is to deliver two specches in Nebraska, one here and the other at Omaha. and an effort will be made to get him here for the big show on October 29.

W. C. T. U. Convention. The members of the Nebraska Woman's business early this morning and passed a very strenuous day listening to reports of committees and officers, Mrs. Mary D. Routebert storetory, said that the gain in embership during the year was soo, with thirty-one new unions organized. Omaha carried off the banner for raising the intgest amount of money during the year, the union there collecting $4,000 to help alorg, the work. At Elmwood, one of the smaller towns in which there is a union. were held the most meetings, it not missing a single week during the year. Besides the president's address, which was delivered this afternoon, papers were read by Mrs Sup D Coase of Haigler, Miss Pearl Kendal of North Bend, Mrs. Martha E. Patterson of Omaha, Mrs. S. K. Dailey of University Place, Mrs. Hornby of Valentine and Mrs. E. H. Shinrock of Omaha.

the evening session Mrs. Newman, who was to have delivered the principal address, was ill and her place was taken by Judge Wilber F. Bryant, who talked on the juvenile court law.

Digs Up Skeleton. In the rear of the Kennard flats this of a man. He discovered the bones about a foot under the ground and when first discovered the skeleton was intact. One side of the skull was crushed in and physicians who have examined the remains stated that this was sufficient to have caused death. There was no trace of any clothing or a coffin and it is evident that the bones had been under the ground for many years.

Fill Up the Ticket. The republican county committee met this afternoon and nominated J. W. Blystone for san tary trustee. This was a little matter that in the turmoil of the late county convention the delegates overlooked and the matter was not called to the at tention of the committee until recently Chairman Roberts made a talk in which he urged the committeemen to hustle up in their precinct work and urged prompt recommendations of electica officials to the State Committee Wakes Up. The managers of the republican headquarters at Omaha have begun to notice things evidently, and from now on they may be counted on to do things. This fternoon a member of the headquarters telephoned to Lincoln in regard to the publishing of the circular to answer the fusion charges that is in course of construction here, and asked that the copy be sent to fact that they were disposing of his per- opera house a reception will be tendered to the state committee for publication. The copy will be sent to the committee, but for four the matter will be forgotten a copy will also be kept here for use in case of emergency. is too much like Roosevelt to suit us." That is the sentence, correctly quoted, which is doing all of the harm. As a result of these words, the peerless leader has been severely scored by the democratic managers in New York headquarters, and the advirability of sending the Nebraskan into Indiana has been much questioned. "There is no excuse for such a statement." said one of the national leaders in New York, "and our only hope is that he has been misquoted." The day after the speech, much was made of that remark in eastern papers. It was printed on the front page, under black

When the remark was made, there was a gasp and then an outburst of applause at his courage in standing by his former speech against Parker. Democrats anxious to see the ticket elected were a bit shocked at it. Next morning Mr. Bryan asked Dr. Alexander Bear-one of the leading democrats of the state-what he thought of the speech.

"It was a very fine lecture, Colonel," replied Dr. Bear, "but there was no democracy in it.

Sues Rock Island Road. PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Oct. 12.—(Special.)

Thomas W. Fountain, a Cass county farmer residing near South Bend, has brought suit in the district court against the Rock Island railroad to recover damages in the sum of $704. In the petition he alleges that he is the owner of thirtyfour acres of land along and near the south bank of the Platte river, in the vicinity of South Bend, and that he used the land for farming, gardening, etc. During the month of March. 1903, he claims that the company's bridge, which spans the river near his premises, blockaded the stream with ice and flooded his land. He also sets up the claim that the bridge was not properly constructed to carry away the ice and water.

reported the loan of fourteen manuscripts to clubs and state federations in various parts of the United States; eighty manuscripts have been loaned to clubs in the state, and fourteen new manuscripts added to the bureau during the year. In its reciprocity work Nebraska stands prominent among the federations of the country. The district vice presidents reported thireen new clubs added to the state federation and the withdrawal of two clubs during the year, the greatest increase in club extension being reported from the Fifth district, where seven clubs have been federated. Regarding the plan proposed at the Fremont convention for the establishment of a state club organ, to be sent free to all state club women and maintained by advertising, the executive board reported that it considered it inexpedient owing to the difficulty in securing a competent editor who could give the itme to it. The board further recommended that each club give during the year some time to the consideration of forestry.

Amendments to Constitution. The fellowing amendments proposed to the constitution of the state federation perpetrated a lively discussion:

First—To article ly the addition of the following words. "Who shall be a member of the executive board," making the article read: "The officers shall be a president, vice president, recording secretary, treasurer, corresponding secretary and auditor. These officers, together with the general federation secretary, shall constitute an executive board for the transaction of the business of the federation, subject to its direction, and make a full report at each annual mesting. In addition to the officers above mentioned there shall be a vice president for each congressio, ald district in the state, who shall be a member of the executive board."

Second Amendment—in article ix, to strike out four and insert seven, making it read: "Seven members shall constitute a quorum of the directors shall constitute a quorum of the directors shall constitute a quorum of the directors shall constitute a quorum of the offices of district vice presidents were created two years ago it was the intention of the convention to make perpetrated a lively discussion:

the intention of the convention to make these officers members of the executive committee, but defeated this purpose by an awkward reading of the amendment. Mrs. William Apperson, former state president, led the opposition to the now proposed amendment, on the ground that the state could not afford to pay the expenses of these additional members. Mrs. liam Jennings Bryan-a sentence hidden I. R. "Sunset" Reception at Beatrice. BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 12 .- (Special.)-The annual "sunset" reception given by the Epworth league of Centenary Methodist Episcopal church was held yesterday afternoon in the church parlors and about 150 persons in the city over 60 years of age were in attendance. The large parlors were beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants. There was an interesting program, which was opened with a short address by Rev. Edgar Price of the Christian church, after which Miss Mayme Liston gave a reading from the Bible in its most beautiful promises, gathered from the books of both the old and new testaments. Mrs. Henry Miller sang a vocal eclo and Miss Blanche Calvin favored the audience with a selection on the piano, after which Rev. Mr. Martin, the new pastor of the church, talked very enter-
