Time Limit Expires on Number of Sidewalks Ordered by City.

WORK MUST NOW BE DONE BY FORCE

At Next Meeting City Conneil is Expected to Order Contractor to Proceed with This Construction.

The time limit on a large number of permanent sidewalks ordered by the city councii has expired. Ordinances were passed October 17, giving a large number of property owners thirty days' notice to lay permanent walks. These notices stated that unless the work was done as directed and In the time mentioned the city contractor pired Thursday of last week the city counoil will, at its meeting Monday night. direct the city contractor to go to work at Preparing Bond Ordinances. City Attorney Lambert is preparing the ordinances for the purchase of parks and the building of a city hall. The proposition to vote $40,000 for parks and $70,000 for a city hall were carried at the last election. Now will come the passage of the ordinances and the preliminaries necessary to the issuing of the bonds. The park bonds are to be offered for 4 per cent, while the city will pay 5 per cent interest on city hall bonds. Both of these bond issues will run for twenty years and will, of course, have the usual five-year option clause. Nothing will be declared in the city hall bonds as to the proposed location of the site for a city hall. This matter of buying group for a city hall building and the let-

Complete Library Walks The permanent sidewalks about the pub-He library building were completed yesterday. The book lifts are expected today and the construction of the book stacks is nearly completed. Most of the interior finishings are in place and the statement is made by members of the board that portions of the permanent furniture w.ll put in place soon. There is some talk of getting the building ready for an opening during the month of December. A portion of the books ordered some time ago are on hand and are now stored in Dmaha. These can be delivered to the ibrarian as soon as the book stacks and

Lodge No. 154, Fraternal Order of Eagles. will give a social dance and musical entertainment to members and invited lady friends on Tuesday evening at the lodge rooms, Twenty-sixth and N streets. This entertainment will be the first of a series of winter dances and musicales. Every member of the order is expected to attend and bring his wife or sweetheart. This order now has a large membership and is working to secure permanent quarters where there will be more room for lodge work and entertainments.

Saturday afternoon Frank Dolezol closed a deal whereby he becomes the owner of the property at 2519 N street. The purchase price is reported to be $4.500. At present the ground is occupied by a small frame structure used as a confectionery and fruit store. It is Mr. Dolezol's intention to construct a brick building on the ground in the spring. This Dolezot building will adjoin the new Packers bank building when constructed. The Packers bank secured some time ago the ground adjoining the bank on the east and will erect a more commodious and pretentious building just as soon as the weather will permit in the spring. Delinquents Pay Promptly. Saturday forencou Personal Tax Collector Ridgeway started out with the city treasurer's van to collect delinquent taxes. Three calls were on the list, but word must have been sent ahead about the departure of the wagon, for three delinquents hurried to the treasurer's office and While the van has been out a number of times, only one stock of goods has been taken for taxes. Collector Ridgeway declares that the van is a hoodoo, for whenever he starts out with the big wagon delinquents hurry to the treasurer's office and settle. several musical selections.

Important improvements were suggested to the battalion assembled in the large study room by Captain Stoggsdall. The advisability of having new caps for the cadets similar to those worn by the cadets at the West Point Military academy was considered. It was further announced that the Board of Education would secure the services of the military bandmaster at Port Crook, if a band of twenty-five pieces could be formed, composed of boys able to read music readily. These suggestions promise to be carried out, for they meet with the hearty approval of all cadets.

ERNEST EMERSON DISAPPEARS Benson Man Has Return of Malady Which Afflicted Him Once

Before. Ernest A. Emerson, a clerk in the employ of Hayward Brothers, shoe manufacturers, has disappeared from his home and place of business for the second time within a few months. He has been missing since Thursday of this week, and up to this writing no trace of him has been found by either his family or the police, who have sent out notices of the disappearance to other cities.

One afternoon last spring Emersor Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wulff spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends in and was lost to all who knew him as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him. His case promised to beome one of the unsolved mysterics of local police history, and even Emerson's family had almost despaired of ever hearing from him. However, one day several weeks after his disappearance a telegram came from a small town in lowa saying that Emerson was there and would at once start for home. He had no recollec-tion of how he came to be in the Iowa town, nor did he remember why or how he had left Omaha. Whether he walked or rode, or what he had been doing in Larsen, last week.

Mrs. Walter Demure of Chicago, who has been visiting friends of this place, left for St. Paul last week.

No trace of the Benson postoffice robbers has been discovered and the matter has about been dropped.

Julius Peterson of Rose Hill has had for his guest his mother of Sloux City. She has returned home.

Mrs. Wampler and family have taken possesion of their new cottage recently erected on Ricks street. without the slightest inkling or consciousness of the true facts concerning hims if. In no manner or form had he acted so as to give rise to any suspicion among his new acquaintances that he was or ever had been other than just what he seemed > total lapse of memory as to anything he had done or anyone he had known previous to the moment when the two onsciousnesses had switched places. After his return home Emerson fell right into his old position and habits of life as naturally as if he had not been away for an hour and had not lived another man's appearance now for a second time is undoubtedly caused, as his family and employers think, by an unfortunate, even if unnoticed, combination of causes or cirumstances similar to those which pro-

explained on the ground of overwork which had affected certain brain cells, producing duced the first lapse of memory. He is a middle-aged man of faithful disposition, who gives close attention to his work, has no vicious habits, no neurotic weaknesses of the kind that might very naturally be supposed to induce such strange and irresponsible actions.

In this case, as in many other exactly similar cases of record in various parts of the country, the most inexplicable circumstance of any connected with it is the fact that no one of all who know or meet the persons so afflicted can give any trace or any clue as to how they went away, or where, nor is any suspicion raised in any mind that the newcomer to the town where the walking piece of forgetfulness may land is other than just what he or she may seem. The old familiar everyday for a longer or shorter space of time, of the money has been found. Failing to locate the missing man by descriptions and personal search, Emerson's family and friends must simply bide their time until the suspended neurons again resume their sway and he once more becomes his old self. There is this consolation to be noted, that persons so afflicted rarely or never meet with accident, nor do they ever pass into the other life without regaining the cast-off consciousness perfect health and normal existence.

Coke Fiend Has Great Collection.

A. R. Lasell, a cocaine fiend whose mind has been ruined, was lodged in the city jail last night as a vagrant. His pockets were the receptacles for all kinds of junk from a prong of a lady's back comb to the perforated top of a pork and beans can. Desk Sergeant Marshall's philosophy accounted for the man's queer manis on the theory that every piece of street refuse that had any sort of bright glitter was to him a piece of virtue to be treasured and fondled as a demented miser might fondle gold and jewels. The police officer states it as a fact, verified by his experience, that a man in Lasell's condition will spend hours in playing with and examining such a picturesque collection as that dumped out at the station last night. Jailer Rinn, who religiously wrapped up Lasell's effects, added the package to the already very large collection of junk at the jail with the remark that a man who would be guilty of such foolishness in Ireland would be made to take the pledge forever and

The theft of a valuable hat from the store of the John Beno company in Council Buffs was the occasion of the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Evans of 1816 Chicago street and Mrs. J. Lang of 1866 Chicago street. The case was compromised and the parties discharged, but while they were in custody the apartiments occupied by the Lang woman were searched and a quantity of liquors and valuable goods were found. The goods were all new and embraced only costly fabrics, but where they came from has not yet been determined. The Lang woman and her husband were taken to the station at the time of the robbery of the fur store in the Deliane hotel on suspicion that they knew something about the crime, but nothing could be proven and they were discharged. They left the hotel and later Mrs. Lang took unquarters on Chicago street, Lang afterward leaving the city.

MONEY DISAPPEARS DURING THE NIGHT

Season Ended Yesterday and Cash Had Been Collected to Pay Off the Employes-Several Arrests Made.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 29.-While enroute on a flat car between Greenville and Tarbore, N. C., early Saturday morning, the ticket wagon of the Forepaugh & Seils Bros, circus was entered and robbed of $20,000.

The entrance to the wagon was effected by the use of the regular keys, which had been stolen from the treasurer of the cir-The robbery was not discovered until after the entire circus, which was traveling in three sections on the Atlantic Cast Line, had reached Tarboro. The ticket wagon was on the second section and arrived at Tarboro at 1 o'clock Saturday morning. The first section reached there a half hour earlier and the third at 3 o'clock in the morning

It was 5 o'clock before the robbery had been discovered and from that time until late tonight, when the last report was received in Norfolk by telephone, a continuous search of the effects of the people connected with the circus had been in progress. The police are holding a man and woman, both performers, on suspicton of having committed the robbery. It has been impossible so far to secure the names of these two persons.

Several theories are held by the police and circus people. One of these is that the robbery was committed while the train was in motion and that the money was thrown off the train. Searching parties are at work along the line between Tarboro and Greenville in an effort to find any trace of the money or of any person who might have left the train with it. Up to this time no one has been missed from the cir-

Another theory is that the cash has been hidden in Tarboro by the robbers and innumerable search warrants have been sworn out. Armed with these the regular police and special detectives are searching every place in Tarboro thought likely to conceal the money. There were a score of arrests made during the day among the circus people. All apprehended were taken into custody on suspicion and while in the town lockup their belongings were searched nature is simply forgoften, sidetracked, at the show grounds. Absolutely no trace

"An' I call to Mistah Johnsing and ast him. 'Please, sah, won't you come an shoot dat 'possum?' and dat he do; an' want ter say dat dere was a mos' powerful big load ob shot in dat gun." "Go on, bruddah!"

"And dat's why I say dat w'en de temptah cum ter us an' show us whar dere's er tuhkey coop we oughter rej'ice dat Providence done gib er houn'-dawg an' er 'possum appertite to de po'r brack man."- jury in the case of the State against Wells, in the district court, was dised at 5:15 Saturday afternoon, the Frank Weils, in the district court, was discharged at 5:15 Saturday afternoon, the jurymen failing to reach a verdict after long deliberation. The jury was six for and six against conviction when discharged. Wells was arrested nearly a year ago, charged with complicity in the street car hold-up near Hanscom park. He was promptly bound over from the police to the district court. It is believed a new trial will be had.

are by Maxfield Parrish, John Cecil Clay, J. M.

No more distinguished company of Contributors has ever appeared in a Christmas magazine than those in the DECEMBER METROPOLITAN

W. A. Fraser contributes a | Richard Le Gallienne story so strong, and so remarkable for its originality and interest, that it was voted the $500 prize in a story-contest open to all writers.

Joel Chandler Harris has an Uncle Remus story, as good as any he has ever written. E. S. Martin treats sympa-thetically and happily of "Children and the Christmas time." Alfred Henry Lewis sums up, and comments upon, the events of world-interest during the past few weeks. This is done in an illustrated review.

Thomas Nelson Page contributes a charming article in which he shows us a quaint old neighborhood in Virginia.

writes a Christmas story which he calls, in memory of youthful days, "Once upon a Time." 20 pages of the issue are devoted to The Stage at Holiday Time. Fully illustrated with over fifty pictures of stage celebrities of the day. The authors of "The Lightning Conductor" continue their mile a minute story, -"The Princess Passes." Jules Guérin, the wellknown illustrator, has provided some marvelous colored pictures, illustrating John Corbin's

"A Boy's-Eye View of the Circus." Something of the futhat we have all had at the circus, in younger days, will return to us on reading this article. Other short stories and special articles are by Carolyn Wells, Oliver Herford, Broughton Brandenburg, Charles G. D. Roberts, Theodosia Garrison and Clinton Scollard. These articles complete a magazine brimming with interest and Christmas cheer
