HAMILTON SUCCEEDS MURPHY
Elected President of the Omaha Gas Company and Clabaugh Advanced to Vice.

Frank Hamilton has been elected president of the Omaha Gas Company to fill the vacancy made by the death of Frank Murphy. The company should have had its annual meeting and election the second day of this month, but it was postponed twice because of the various interests which were left without a head by the loss of Mr. Murphy. After the street car company and the Merchants' National bank had chosen their presidents, the gas company could do the same. Secretary Clabaugh was advanced at this election to the position of vice president to succeed George Barker.
