Sheep and Lambs Not Particularly Active, but Still Just About Steady Prices Were Paid for Anything at All Desirable.

The cow market also broke about 10c to 15c, as compared with yesterday's general market. Wool Market.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—WOOL—Concerning the wool market the Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: The sales of the week are a trifle larger. There have been more buyers looking the market over, but demand and business are both short of expectations. Buyers are holding off, expecting prices to go no higher. Market favors buyers and trades are made under pressure from sellers. Bids that were turned down six weeks ago would be quickly accepted now. Shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 29, 1904, according to the same authority are 22,406,006 lbs., against 23,006,552 lbs. at the same time last year. The receipts are 36,560,002 lbs., against 23,006,567 lbs. for the same period last year. Wool Market. The receipts are sales, we too, again to oscient that for the same period last year.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—COFFEE—Market for futures opened steady at an advance of 5m10 points, following a good set of European cables and rather smaller receipts. There was no snap to the demand, however, and when later cables from the French market reported the loss of most of the early gain, prices here worked lower under a renewal of liquidation and the hasty realizing of buyers at the recent low point.
