

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE

E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday), one year, $4.00. Daily Bee and Sunday, one year, $5.00.

DELIVERED BY CARRIER. Daily Bee (without Sunday), per copy, 2c. Daily Bee (including Sunday), per week, 12c.

OFFICES. Omaha—The Bee Building, Twenty-fifth and M streets.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas City, ss.: George H. Tschuck, secretary of the Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, says that the actual number of full and complete copies of the Daily, Morning, Evening and Sunday Bee printed during the month of February, 1905, was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Circulation category and number. Total 798,000. Net unsold copies 10,461.

Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 1st day of March, 1905. M. H. HUNGATE, Notary Public.

Omaha is decidedly on the up grade. It is always a good thing to get in on a rising market.

President Roosevelt has inserted another peacock feather in his cap by his St. Patrick's day oration.

The "Iowa idea" won out again and that state now has two consular jobs where it had but one before.

Governor Folk seems to have less influence with the democratic senate than with the republican house in Missouri.

Sir Anthony MacDonnell seems to be playing the role of anvil to perfection in the unionist "knocking" contest in Ireland.

Senator Cockrell can now qualify as interstate commerce commissioner and begin to "get wise" as to railroad affairs.

Our lawmakers may have a chance to celebrate another holiday fittingly if they only hold their session open over April 1.

The efficacy of prayer was never better illustrated than by the prompt response made by the hens to those who observe Lent.

The most surprising thing in the entire Colorado election contest is that Alva Adams should express surprise at being ousted.

Major William Warner was not made pension commissioner, but he is probably satisfied that he has landed something "just as good."

The question in France at present does not seem to be so much one of divorce of church and state as the amount of alimony to be allowed.

Just to add emphasis to its honoring of the green, the legislature also signalized the day by taking a poke at the green trading stamp.

The call for Russian troops in Poland would indicate that all the soldiers of the czar are not to be sacrificed to the fury of the Japanese.

If Russia succeeds in floating any considerable loan at home it may produce a certain form of patriotism in the hearts of the investors where none exists at present.

The maximum rate law will rest on the statute books a few years longer. The question is whether it ever will be revised to make it effective and supreme court proof.

That Utah investigating committee is doing its best to turn public attention from that state to Missouri, but at present the Mothers' Congress is not interested in medals.

The Countess of Warwick is said to have joined the social democracy. Verily, the family of the "king maker" is presenting some startling developments in these latter days.

According to latest dispatches, President Castro of Venezuela may be given an opportunity of practicing upon French troops before beginning his war upon the United States.

It is announced that an artist is to "do" John D. Rockefeller in oil. This is probably the only possible oil deal in which Mr. Rockefeller cannot qualify as an expert, and the man who can "do" him is certainly an artist.

Admiral Kamimura says that the success of the Japanese navy is due to the Jiu Jitsu exercises of the sailors. If this be true recent events here in Omaha foreshadow what would happen if America and Japan should go to war—Jiu Jitsu would go down before American brawn.

TO THE EQUATOR BY RAIL.

The project of a pan-American railway to connect the continents of North and South America is still commanding interest on the part of the men who have identified themselves with it and the promise of the ultimate consummation of the great project appears to be very favorable.

A few days ago Mr. Davis gave a dinner in Washington in honor of the committee and had as guests the diplomatic representatives of the South and Central American countries. In speaking of the proposed intercontinental railway Mr. Davis referred to the rich possibilities of the countries of the south, which he said have all the resources that make for material wealth and prosperity.

The proposition is to build a railway line connecting the systems of the United States and Mexico on the north with those of several countries on the south traversing all of the Central American republics and all of those in South America which touch the Pacific ocean, with branch lines into Venezuela and Brazil.

The construction of such a railway would be a vast undertaking, involving an estimated expenditure of not less than $200,000,000, but in this era of vast enterprises it is by no means improbable that the plan of connecting the northern and southern continents by rail will be an accomplished fact within a generation.

For at least a third of a century the name of Joseph R. Hawley has been prominently before the country, respected and honored for valuable services to the country as soldier and statesman. He served the public in many spheres and always ably, fearlessly and fruitfully.

It has been justly said of General Hawley that he belonged to the race of American statesmen, soldiers and citizens who have made their country great, honored and strong by their patriotism, their unswerving lives and their quick response to the call of duty.

In a recent address President Roosevelt made an appeal for the uplifting, both physically and spiritually, of the thousands upon thousands of immigrants pouring into this country. He said that the United States government does endeavor to do its duty by the immigrants who come to these shores, but unless people have had some experience with the dangers and difficulties surrounding the newly arrived immigrant they can hardly realize how great they are.

In a recent address President Roosevelt made an appeal for the uplifting, both physically and spiritually, of the thousands upon thousands of immigrants pouring into this country. He said that the United States government does endeavor to do its duty by the immigrants who come to these shores, but unless people have had some experience with the dangers and difficulties surrounding the newly arrived immigrant they can hardly realize how great they are.

garded by all who are not controlled by a blind and narrow prejudice. It may not be easy to indicate just what should be done to meet the obvious duty which the president points out, but those who realize the importance of the matter and take a proper interest in it will find a practicable way to fulfill the duty.

The visit to Washington of a band of cowboys right off the ranges of the west to participate in the inauguration festivities seems to have proved a dismal disappointment to some of our friends in the effete east, who expected quite different things from what they saw.

According to one account of the inauguration, the people in Washington and those from abroad were particularly struck with the good conduct of the cowboys. From the tales with which they were familiar they imagined that the delegation, whose coming had been announced, would be of a wild, boisterous, dissipated character, and they were greatly surprised to find that instead the party was made up of "gentlemen," who, "while anxious for all the fun and pleasure at their command, were never once rowdies, or boisterous in their behavior."

The people of Colorado have reason for self-congratulation over the termination of the gubernatorial contest that threatened to culminate in anarchy. For all that, however, the Colorado compromise is a travesty upon popular government. The only issue before the legislature was whether Penbody or Adams had been elected governor.

Harper's Weekly prints an article, and a cartoon intended to reinforce it, making the assertion that the control of elections in this country by purchased votes is a growing menace. That the corruption of voters is a menace to every popular government goes without saying.

The proposed merger of the city and county treasuries will necessarily involve some drawbacks as well as benefits. The main object of the proposed consolidation is greater economy, efficiency and simplicity in the collection and disbursement of public funds in the city and county.

Under the existing system city and county taxes are payable at different times of the year and taxpayers are seriously inconvenienced by being compelled to pay taxes to two sets of treasurers in the city hall and court house.

Senator Burkett is feeling the weight of double responsibility now that, in addition to his senatorial duties, he has the business belonging to the vacant congressional place of the First district devolving upon him. He ought, however, to be quite equal to the task, especially when he remembers that Senator Thurston a few years ago found himself loaded down as the sole republican senator from Nebraska, with four congressional districts in the hands of the fusionists, and still survived.

Another change of government agents has been ordered for the Winnebago Indian reservation. It is to be hoped the new agent will be on his guard against the gang of land grabbers and grafters that has infested the reservation and whose grip seems at last to have been loosened as a result of Father Schell's vigorous campaign. The new agent can make a record for himself by helping his good work on to completion.

which he is held by members of the house regardless of partisanship, where nothing in the statutes compels him to return it to the donors. There is, of course, a reason, and a good one at that, for the difference between the legal prohibitions upon present-taking by the occupants of the two positions, but that is poor consolation for Mr. Wynne and his admiring friends.

The firm in faith never stand still. Saints are more than pickled sermons. Dwarf-like sins often have gigantic children. The pure in heart never stop to think whose eyes are in his pocket.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

the south end of the national capitol from what it is in the north end. If President Roosevelt is to go to Colorado on a hunting expedition next month he might easily lay his route so as to put Omaha on the itinerary.

SERMONS BOILED DOWN. The firm in faith never stand still. Saints are more than pickled sermons. Dwarf-like sins often have gigantic children.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Nothing accuses a hypocrite does not prove your holiness. No man is ready for heaven who is willing to enjoy it alone. The hungry for righteousness are not to be satisfied with rhetoric.

Yale Beauty Bargains SPECIAL SALE

Mme. Yale's Remedies CONTINUED

We are pleased to announce that we are continuing the Special Sale on Mme. Yale's Remedies for another week. A fresh supply of "Skin Food" samples has been received from Mme. Yale's Laboratories for free distribution to all who purchase the Yale Remedies this week to the extent of 79 cents or more.

- INTERNAL HEALTH REMEDIES. Mme. Yale's Fruitaria, general tonic for women, per bottle, 79c. Mme. Yale's Blood Tonic, per bottle, 79c. Mme. Yale's Complexion Tablets (two sizes), per box, 49c and 79c.

Drug Dept., Boston Store.

English and American Railroads. American and English railroads are operated under different conditions. The American track mileage is 20,000, the English 22,182. The American railroads carry more than 655,000,000 passengers, the English roads fully 1,200,000,000.

Girls' and Misses' Tailor Made COATS BROWNING, KING & CO.

Eye Trouble the cause Perfect fitting glasses the cure. Be your employer or employe, you can't afford to be seen at your place of business yawning and stretching.