RUMOR OF PROBABLE MARRIAGE Incident May Result in Smoot International Controversy.

RESPONSE TO WILLIAM'S TANGIER LETTER Interview Emphasizes Anglo-French Entente and Strengthens Policy of French Republic Toward Morocco.

PARIS, April 6.—The arrival of King Edward in Paris today was the occasion for a notable manifestation of Anglo-French cordiality which is being generally interpreted tonight as a conspicuous response to Germany's attitude regarding Morocco.

NEW MINISTER TO MOROCCO German Selects Profound Oriental Scholar for Representative.

BERLIN, April 6.—The cabinet of the appointment of Privy Councillor Dr. Rosen, who until recently was special envoy to Germany at the court of King Menelik of Abyssinia, as German minister to Morocco in succession to the deceased Baron von Metzinger, has been confirmed.

DEATH LIST IS STILL GROWING Eighty Per Cent of People of Dharmasala Lost Lives.

LAHORE, Ind., April 6.—It is reported here that 80 per cent of the inhabitants of Dharmasala, the hill station ninety-five miles northwest of Simla, were killed as a result of the earthquake which struck the government camp dispatched from Lahore tents, food, blankets, doctors, nurses, etc., for the sufferers at Dharmasala.

SEMI-OFFICIAL STATEMENT The semi-official communication relative to the meeting of King Edward and President Loubet says:

It is natural to suppose the conversation between the king and the president led to a change in the attitude of the two governments, the two rulers exchanged their first greetings. The king conducted President Loubet to his private car where conversation continued until the Lyons railway station was reached.

It is a new affirmation of the Anglo-French entente, following the Egyptian demonstrations by British and French squadrons.

This, says the Debats, is the response to the meeting of King Edward and President Loubet, and the paper adds:

It will be imprudent if statements at Berlin fail to observe this particular conspicuous reaffirmation of the Anglo-French entente.

The Temps also says that the interview emphasizes the entente of the Anglo-French entente. The effect of the visit appears to be to strengthen the determination to proceed with France's policy in Morocco in accordance with the terms of the Anglo-French agreement, as the visit is considered as an answer to the signatories of that agreement.

King Leaves London. LONDON, April 6.—King Edward started to join Queen Alexandra at Marseilles by way of Paris, where he will meet President Loubet. The Marquis de Salaberry accompanied the king as minister in attendance.

Not much attention is paid here to the suggestion from some quarters of the continent that the king's visit to France may be preliminary to an Anglo-French alliance. Nevertheless, it is expected that an active exchange of views between London and Paris, it is expected to help in smoothing away some of the international controversies.

Address Under the Knife. LONDON, April 6.—Camille Clifford, the American actress, was operated on for appendicitis today. She had been ill for several days, but continued to appear in Charles Frohman's production of "The Catch of the Season" at the Vaudeville theatre until obliged to give up while playing last night.

EMPEROR IS MET BY KING

Ruler of Germany and Italy Exchange Salutations in Harbor of Naples.

NAPLES, April 6.—King Victor Emmanuel arrived here today from Rome, accompanied by Foreign Minister Tittoni and Naval Minister Miraballo, to meet Emperor William. An Italian squadron was anchored around the imperial yacht Hohenzollern and the docks, steamers and small craft were crowded with thousands of spectators.

The royal yacht approached the Hohenzollern amid the booming of cannon and with the salutes greeting such other.

Emperor William received the royal visitors at the gangway and their majesties embraced and kissed each other in the most cordial manner. The emperor then shook hands with the Italian ministers, whom he already knew, after which the sovereigns greeted each other with the members of their respective suites. The whole party lunched on board the Hohenzollern.

It was reported later that Emperor William and King Victor Emmanuel conversed lengthily about the international chamber of agriculture planned by the latter, who had previously been openly congratulated on the subject by all the European rulers with the exception of Emperor William.

POLICY HOLDERS WIN FIGHT

Hereafter They Will Elect Majority of Board of the Equitable.

MEETING SAID TO BE HARMONIOUS Directors Deplore Controversy Among Officers Which Causes Loss of Confidence in Society—No Resignations Tendered.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Out of the fifty members of the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society, thirty-eight assembled in the company's board room this afternoon and after an hour and thirty minutes' discussion, in the course of which it is understood the whole Equitable controversy was gone over, an announcement was made that those present unanimously had decided to adopt the new constitution plan announced several days ago.

Rumors of resignations did not bear fruit and it was authoritatively said this evening that none was tendered.

"Everything harmonious," was the tenor of the official statement issued after the meeting by Senator Dewey and Cornelius N. Bliss. This announcement also said that a committee of directors would thoroughly investigate the company management.

President Alexander of the company and James H. Hyde were present and it is notable that many of the directors came from a distance in order to attend the session.

Directors to Investigate. A new feature in the Equitable matter is the resolution adopted for the appointment of a committee of seven headed by K. H. Harrison to thoroughly investigate Equitable affairs.

The original plan for the mutualization of the company provided that it would be accomplished in four years, but after last week's session with the state superintendent of insurance this was amended to make the time two years. The two-year plan was acquiesced in by Mr. Hyde. The plan begins to take effect next December.

During today's meeting there were various rumors of a controversy between Mr. Hyde and Mr. Alexander, but so far as is known nothing of this kind took place.

President Alexander, Mr. Hyde and John D. Grimmins declined to add anything to the official statement this evening, and said they had no comments to make on today's meeting.

Official Statement of Plan. The following statement was given out at the close of the meeting of the directors:

The board of directors after full discussion of the proposed amended charter approved at a meeting of the superintendent of insurance, the amendment being at once adopted.

The board of directors shall continue to be divided into four classes of thirteen each, the purpose of which is to insure a steady and continuous management of the company.

Amendment of Charter. A resolution was unanimously adopted that the committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Dewey, Harrison and Knecht, be appointed a committee of the board to consult with the superintendent of insurance about the amended charter.

Controversy is Deplored. Speeches were made by James J. Hill, Melville B. Ingalls, John A. Stewart, Charles Stewart Smith, Brayton I. Smith, DeWitt Cuyler and others, insisting upon a cessation of the entire controversy and of the use of the press, which is so injurious to the company.

Defective Stove Responsible for Death of Members of New York Family.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Four persons were killed by illuminating gas today in a tenement house in the upper East Side. The bodies were found by the father of the three children, Sam Clark, a truck driver, who, with his wife and young son, occupied an adjoining room. When Clark awoke he smelled gas and traced it to the next room, where he found his three children and the woman, a friend of the family, dead. The gas had seeped from a defective gas stove.

SANTA FE GETS INJUNCTION

Striking Machinists at San Bernardino Restrained from Interfering with Company Property.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 6.—United States Judge Welborn today issued an injunction on petition of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company, restraining A. B. Davis and 144 other machinists of San Bernardino from interfering in any way with the operations of the company's property. The defendants are all members of the International Association of Machinists, which about a year ago declared a walkout in the company's shops at San Bernardino and still persists.

COURT PROTECTS THE LUMBER

Owner of Dam Is Enjoined from Stopping Movement of Logs by Water.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., April 6.—The injunction recently issued by the district court has been served on John Dietz and his wife by a United States deputy marshal. The injunction restrains Dietz from interfering with a lumber drive at Cameron dam, on Thorny Apple river.

Dietz claims that, according to the deed which his wife holds, she has control of the Cameron dam and has a right to ask 10 cents per 1,000 feet for all logs passing through the dam. Thus far Dietz alleges the company has driven about $6,000,000, which means a claim of about $5,000,000, which must be settled. There are now about 50,000,000 feet lying high and dry above the dam. Dietz says that in March, 1904, he surveyed the dam and found the Cameron dam was on his land. He therefore posted a notice not to trespass. Then Dietz claims the Chippewa company sent their surveyor, who also found Dietz's survey correct and said the company would make a settlement. It is claimed by Dietz that the Chippewa company offered him $500 to give up all rights, which he refused.

Then the story went forth, according to Dietz, that he was guarding the dam with a Winchester rifle. Dietz says this was not true, that he has never aimed his rifle at any person.

On April 5, 1904, Dietz was served with an injunction by Judge Powell, but the sheriff, according to Dietz, informed him that it did not amount to anything, that it was only a bluff. From that time on all efforts to apprehend Dietz failed until yesterday.

An effort was made last night to bring the matter before the officers of the grand lodge of Free Masons of Wisconsin, but the plan fell through.

Deputy United States Marshal Jones and another marshal seized the injunction on the Cameron dam. When Dietz received the signature of Judge Sanborn of the Federal court, he was already in the face and ordered the marshals from the house at the point of a revolver. Dietz said he will not obey the injunction.

FATHER OF SHOW GIRL CALLED

J. Randolph Patterson Is Asked to Appear Before New York Grand Jury.

NEW YORK, April 6.—J. Randolph Patterson, father of Nan Patterson, the show girl who is accused of killing Caesar Young, was summoned today to appear before the grand jury in New York.

It is stated that some of the letters received by the possession of Mrs. J. Morgan Smith in Cincinnati were from Patterson.

Assistant District Attorney Rand said today that he expects nothing affecting the Patterson case will be done at Cincinnati until next week.

CINCINNATI, April 6.—By order of District Attorney Jerome of New York, J. Morgan Smith and wife, who are in the county jail here pending the result of the contest over the extradition to New York, today placed on the list of guests instead of prisoners at the jail. They are still detained under arrest, but they are to have the best food the market affords and other wise be allowed everything to which they have been accustomed except their liberty.

MEETS ROUGH RIDERS

President Given Noisy Greeting by Comrades-in-Arms at San Antonio.

TWO ADDRESSES MADE AT AUSTIN Chief Executive Visits State House and Drives Over the City.

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION AT WACO Train Also Stops Three Minutes at Temple in Obedience to Special Law.

WEATHER MAY INTERFERE WITH HUNT Deep Snow in the Mountains of Colorado Will Probably Make a Change in Plans Necessary.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 6.—After an eventful trip across a large portion of Texas, President Roosevelt arrived in San Antonio at 8:30 o'clock tonight. With the special train bearing the president reached the station he was greeted with cheers from thousands of throats and the lusty "hurrahs" of his old comrades in arms. The famous rough riders of the Spanish-American war, who are holding their annual reunion near the crumbling walls of the historic Alamo, could plainly be heard above the din.

The city is a mass of color in honor of the president's visit. Business houses and residences are decorated with flags and bunting and tomorrow's exercises promise to be the most patriotic demonstration ever held in the state.

The president's train was run on a siding near the depot, where it will remain until tomorrow night, when the visitors will leave for Fort Worth. The train is being guarded by a detail of city police and as the president will be astray early tomorrow, every precaution will be taken to permit him to secure a good night's rest.

The president's train left Dallas at 6:30 this morning. The occupants were sleeping soundly when the long run across the state began, but the president was up and active at 7 o'clock. The first stop of the day was at Hill Country, where practically the entire population of the town turned out. The president spoke briefly and was given a cordial reception.

When the train reached Waco cannon were fired and bands played patriotic airs. The area about the depot and the railroad tracks were crowded with humanity. A reception committee made its way to the president's carriage and he was escorted to a stand in the city park nearby. His appearance was the signal for a remarkable demonstration. Thousands of tiny American flags were seen waving in the air, and it was several minutes before the president could begin his address. The band played the stirring strains of "Dixie" and the president smiled and waved to the throngs. The president's address was brief and he was frequently applauded.

Train Stopped by Ordinance. The president returned to his train with difficulty, so great was the crowd. As the train moved away he stood upon the rear platform and waved his hand to the people. The train glided swiftly across the bridge over the Brazos. Several stops were made and one especially interested the president because of the manner in which it occurred. When the citizens of Temple learned that the train would not stop at their city a hurried call of the city council was made. The city fathers immediately passed an ordinance requiring the train to stop at the depot three minutes. When this news was telegraphed the president he laughed heartily and agreed to the ordinance. Immediately issued instructions that the stop be made. Nearly the whole population of the little city was on hand and the greeting accorded the chief executive was most hearty.

Two Speeches at Austin. At Taylor, which was reached at 12:30 the train was switched from the tracks of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad to those of the International & Great Northern and the run to Austin begun. The capital city was reached at 2 o'clock and President Roosevelt was met at the depot by Governor Lathrop, Lieutenant Governor Nell and a committee of thirty citizens and members of the Texas legislature. The president was in excellent spirits and appeared none the worse for his long ride across the country. He expressed himself as being most pleased to arrive in Austin under such auspicious circumstances. The entire party were placed in carriages and driven to the statehouse, where President Roosevelt made two speeches, one in the hall of representatives and the other on the lawn. The president was taken for a drive over the city. The day was ideal and so crowded were the streets that it proved a difficult matter for the military to control the vast throngs. The school children of the city, both white and black, were lined up for review along the line of the parade and cheered lustily as the president passed.

One of the most enthusiastic demonstrations of the day occurred at New Braunfels. When the train arrived there it was surrounded by a dense mass of urging people all anxious to greet the chief executive. New Braunfels is a German settlement and is noted for its thrift and enterprise, and the president spoke encouragingly to the people who cordially applauded his utterances.

The long ride was brought to an end when the president was reached shortly before 9 o'clock.

Snow Interferes with Plans. COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 6.—A heavy fall of snow in the mountains around Red Stone, Colo., may necessitate a change in the plans of President Roosevelt's Rocky mountain outing. Philip B. Stewart of this city, who is in charge of local arrangements for the trip, today received a note from Jake Borah, who is to be one of the president's guides, giving information of the conditions at Red Stone. "I learn from Borah's note," said Mr. Stewart, "that the snow in the upper country is very deep, which may necessitate starting out at a point considerably below Red Stone. It may prove to be advisable to leave the train at a point below New Castle on the Grande river and thence strike out to camp, gradually working in the direction of Red Stone as the weather will permit."

Secretary Hay at Nevil. NEVIL, Idaho, April 6.—Secretary Hay and Mrs. Hay, who are stopping here, as they find Nevil most pleasant and declare they will remain here for some time.
