SPECIAL WORK FOR FLEMING

City Attorney Finds Job to Fill the Tax Commissioner's Time.

TO REPRESENT CITY AT SCAVENGER SALE

Fleming Thinks Conflict in Law May Yet Require Him to Make Another City Assessment, but is Passive.

Tax Commissioner Fleming will probably be designated by the city council as the official representative of the scavenger tax sales after May 1. The legal department has suggested that it will be economy on the part of the city to have the tax commissioner perform this duty, as under the consolidation section of the charter his active work on city assessment rolls ceases when he has completed and sent to the city treasurer the rolls for the 1905 taxes. The charter provides that the commissioner shall continue drawing the pay of his office until his term expires, in May, 1906, but he shall do such work as the council may direct. Mr. Fleming has announced that he will discharge his office as soon as the rolls are sent down, with the exception of one assistant, probably R. B. Wallace, who will remain in the office to receive complaints regarding assessments.

It is necessary that the city have a representative at the tax sales in order to bid in property for which less than a fair percentage of the taxes is offered by prospective buyers. This policy has added not a little to the success of the sales, and the amount of property acquired by the city in this way has been comparatively small. Harry G. Cousman, of the city treasurer's office has been performing the work for the city, but he has now resigned and entered other business. Departmental heads say they can't spare any employees, so the legal department has attempted to solve the difficulty without additional cost by suggesting that the tax commissioner accept the post. A resolution to this effect will be introduced at the council meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. Fleming's Position.
 Tax Commissioner Fleming says: "Of course I shall do whatever the council orders, and if I am given instructions to attend the scavenger tax sales I shall do so. I do not admit that the way to the abolition of the city tax department this year is clear and that the county assessment which the county assessor is now making will suffice for the 1905 levy by the county commission. I do not say that it will not, but I maintain that the laws conflict and that the matter is anything but clear. In view of a possibility that the city may, after all, have to make an assessment this year, I shall do all I can toward shaping up the usual summer work with respect to real estate values. Of course, if my time is taken up at the scavenger sale and by other work, I may not be able to do a great deal of it, but I shall endeavor, so far as possible, to be prepared for such an emergency. The making of the city assessment does not begin officially until September 15, so even if the courts do not get a chance to and do decide the merger proposition until that time we can still go ahead and make the assessment. I am very much afraid that the deal, so far as it affects the assessing, is defective and cannot be made to work out properly so as not to cause great inconvenience and confusion, aside from the possibility of an illegal assessment upon which nothing can be levied or collected. I think it would be well if some steps are taken so the courts can decide the question before September 15."

WOMEN IN CLUB AND CHARITY.

Some excitement marked yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Women's club; some traditions were upset, some precedents established and incidentally the club accomplished one of those feats that have earned for the sex of its members the reputation of being incomprehensible, unbusinesslike and a few other undesirable things. After several weeks of preparation for a union civil service reform program that should be its part in the great woman's movement to educate the public to the importance of civil service reform, the club restricted the attendance at that program to its members and invited guests and so defeated one of its prime objections in withholding its benefits from many to whom and through whom it might have proven most profitable.

Several weeks ago the club decided to invite the club of South Omaha and Omaha to join in a union civil service meeting April 24 and appoint a committee to prepare a program. Because of the club's unbusinesslike and a few other undesirable things. After several weeks of preparation for a union civil service reform program that should be its part in the great woman's movement to educate the public to the importance of civil service reform, the club restricted the attendance at that program to its members and invited guests and so defeated one of its prime objections in withholding its benefits from many to whom and through whom it might have proven most profitable.

Another member appealed from the decision of the chair and those of the recognized parliamentarians of the club pointed out that, being an extra meeting, there was nothing in the constitution to debar guests. Mrs. Andrews still insisted upon her ruling and called upon the house to sustain her. She further asked that the women not only sustain her ruling, but that they adhere to their constitution and uphold the dignity of the club. The first time the question was put there was silence. The second time there were so few votes on either side that a rising vote was called for and upon count there were sixty-four votes to sustain and fifteen against the decision of the chair. Many of the members did not rise at all and it developed later that many others had not understood for what they were voting, thinking that an affirmative vote would make the program open.

Another matter of business that promises to occasion some discussion was a recommendation that all former members whose membership has lapsed be reinstated by paying the annual dues, $5, instead of being required to again pay the $2 initiation. This will be acted upon in four weeks.

The program followed, Mrs. W. H. Wilbur, leader of the current topics department, presiding.
 The program was as follows:
 Violin Solo—Mazourka de Concert, Ovid Mustin
 Miss Grace McErick
 Debate—Resolved, That the opening of the club to non-members is detrimental to the home.
 Affirmative, Mrs. C. R. Glover, Mrs. F. Miller, Negative, Mrs. R. M. Stevenson, Mrs. Charles Rosewater.
 Vocal Solo—Selected.
 "Little" Gladys Chandler

The program was one of the most profitable as well as entertaining of the year. Being presented as a purely educational feature, there was no decision as to its outcome. The two sides of that much discussed subject were well presented and by women qualified by experience to discuss it.

The Nebraska Ceramic club will hold its annual exhibit of work of members April 27, 28 and 29 at the Her Grand hotel.

Extensive preparation is being made for the entertainment of the third annual convention of the Women's clubs of the second district to be held at Blair April 27-29. Last year the Blair club sent a delegation of ten members to the Omaha meeting and this year sends the invitation that Omaha send "ten times that many" to the meeting which they will entertain next week.

The Child Saving Institute will hold its annual May party May 9 and will keep open house between 2 and 5 and 7 and 10 p. m.

Will Open Bids for Indian Supplies.
 A number of Omaha jobbers and manufacturers are interested in the opening of bids for Indian supplies to take place at Chicago April 25 and at St. Louis April 27, because of the many instances include Omaha delivery. The bids to be opened at St. Louis cover medicines, hardware and boots and shoes, and those at Chicago general lines of dry goods, groceries etc. Indian Supply Agent Jordan will attend at both places.

No Hope for Dr. Shannon.
 Word from Ekhorn is to the effect that Dr. W. C. Shannon is nearing his end, members of the family having been summoned, including Mrs. Shannon's brother, W. S. Poppietson, and her sister, Mrs. M. L. Leonard. Dr. Shannon earlier in the winter spent some months at Hot Springs, Ark., trying to regain his health.

WASHINGTON IS DOING WELL

Congressman Cushman Tells of His State's Material Prosperity.

ALASKA ALSO ENJOYS FAIR BUSINESS

Growth of the Great District is Marked and Rapid and Its Political Necessities Call for Recognition.

Hon. Francis W. Cushman, member of congress from the state of Washington, is an Omaha visitor. Mr. Cushman is an old resident of Nebraska, having lived at Bassett, Rock county, Neb., during the years 1880-90 and '91, where he engaged in the practice of law. "I still have quite an extended acquaintance in Nebraska, and Omaha, which I wish to keep up," said Mr. Cushman. "My visit here has no political significance. I have just been on a visit to my old home in Iowa, and will go up to Bassett tomorrow to look up some old friends there, and then on homeward to Tacoma.

"The general prosperity of Washington is all that can be desired. It is a state of the greatest possibilities. The lumber business particularly, is one of our greatest industries. Enormous quantities of the finest lumber in the world is being produced there, and is shipped all over the country. We are not permitting a wanton destruction of the timber, but the business is guarded by rigid restrictions that will preserve the growing timber, thus permitting the industry to be perpetual.

"In the southeastern part of the state is raised some of the finest wheat of the world. It is equal to that produced in the famous Red River valley of Minnesota. Our mining resources and stock industries are at a high stage of development and are growing rapidly.

Washington and Alaska Trade.

"The state of Washington is the great clearing point for the Alaskan country. We are doing a tremendous trade with that new land. It is growing rapidly each year, and has become a permanent thing with ever increasing possibilities. Aside from the mining industries of Alaska there is some little doing in the agricultural line, strange as it may seem. Considerable stock is grown in the Copper River valley country and in the Tanana River valley country. The products are almost wholly vegetables, such as cabbage, potatoes and the quick growing crops, with an abundance of berries. The Tanana river flows into the Yukon river, and Copper river Prince Edward's sound. At the mouth of Copper river is the new, thrifty town of Valdez. I was up there a few months ago and had the pleasure of meeting with Judge Harlan, who is a Nebraskaan. Judge Harlan is very well thought of at Valdez and throughout Alaska, wherever his judicial duties call him.

"I have for six years past endeavored to get the Alaska people to delegate a representative in congress. The bill has passed the house three times, but manages to get killed in the senate. I am an enthusiastic Alaskan, and can see a great future for that section. When up there some time ago I was made a member of the Arctic Brotherhood, which is an organization for booming and advancing Alaska. Its membership comprises all of the very best men of Alaska, with many members in Washington and Oregon."

Announcements of the Theaters.

The coming of the Henry W. Savage English Grand Opera company presages a treat for Omaha that will be fully appreciated. Mr. Savage has put together an organization that is not only fairly representative in American ability on the operatic stage, but which challenges the attention of musicians everywhere as a standard for excellence. His effort to popularize the best grades of music by giving the performances in English instead of the foreign tongue is another point that has been the object of much stress and the triumph he has so far won in this way has been notable. "Lohengrin" Thursday, "Carmen" Friday, "Tannhauser" at the matinee Saturday and "Il Trovatore" Saturday night. Seats for the entire engagement are now on sale.

FREE EXHIBITION OF THE HISTORICAL TAPESTRIES

THAT RECEIVED THE GRAND PRIZE AT ST. LOUIS

These tapestries, each measuring 4 1/2 x 3 1/2 feet, are beautifully wrought in colored silks; they are faithful copies of original paintings illustrating notable events in the exploration of the Mississippi by La Salle and his associates.

By Authority of the United States AWARD

"For the excellent character of the designs; the execution of the work in the delicate and artistic shading, shown in figure and landscape; the expression of faces and attitudes, produced with the accuracy of the artist's brush; the perspective observed the wonderful fidelity of detail in the reproduction of dress. The flesh tints in the faces and the light in the eyes; the hair and the features are so skillfully depicted as to warrant the belief that it is the work of the brush and not of the needle. The high quality of the work merits the most unreserved praise; the advance made in applying to artistic creations what was first intended simply for the useful, marks an Era in the World's Progress as well as in the development of the Sewing Machine." "The advance in this regard in these machine tapestries is both notable and gratifying, creating a new industry that may be claimed as distinctively American and reviving a classic textile decoration formerly restricted to the few, but now available to the many."
