MANAWA CASE IS DECIDED

Board of Supervisors Can Act on Petition to Vacate Streets.

FEDERAL COURT DISSOLVES INJUNCTION

Judge McPherson Rules with Motor Company in Every Contention in the Litigation Over Manawa.

Judge Smith McPherson's ruling in the Lake Manawa case was received here yesterday from Keokuk, where the judge is now holding court. The ruling is a complete victory for the motor company and leaves the Board of County Supervisors free to act in the matter of the application of the motor company for the vacation of the streets and alleys in controversy, which cut through the company's resort at the lake. The supervisors are scheduled to meet today to take action on the motor company's application, which, however, will be strenuously resisted by the owners of property situated on the streets and alleys in the case decided against by Judge McPherson.

Judge McPherson's rulings are on the several motions which were submitted to him recently. Those of the property owners—the plaintiffs in the suit—are denied or overruled, while those of the motor company are sustained.

Shorn of its legal verbiage Judge McPherson's ruling is as follows: The plaintiffs' motion to remand the case to the superior court is overruled. The plea in abatement filed by the plaintiffs is overruled as being wholly unsupported by the records and pleadings and plaintiffs offering no evidence to support it. The former order dismissing the case as to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company is vacated and set aside as having been inadvertently, unadvisedly and erroneously made on oral motion of the plaintiffs to dismiss the case as to the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company is denied.

The motion of the defendant company to dissolve the injunction issued by the superior court of Council Bluffs restraining the Board of Supervisors and the motor company from taking any action looking toward the vacation of the streets in controversy is sustained, the writ of injunction is dissolved and it is ordered that said injunction is no longer in force. The motion to remand the case to the state court is overruled.

Accompanying the ruling is Judge McPherson's opinion, which in brief is to the effect that if the Board of Supervisors has no jurisdiction to vacate the streets in controversy the plaintiffs have a remedy by writ of certiorari and therefore are not entitled to an injunction, but if on the other hand the board does have jurisdiction the court should not interfere with it.

At the outset of the litigation the plaintiffs, who are owners of property at Manawa, brought suit to compel the motor company to open up certain streets which it had fenced in and enclosed in its resort at the lake. This suit was brought in the superior court. The motor company then took the case into the United States court, with the result that it has won a complete victory and the superior court injunction is dissolved.

DES MOINES, April 19.—(Special.)—Mention has been made of late of ex-Speaker D. H. Bowen of Allamakee county as a candidate for governor. It is claimed that a stand-pat candidate he would be strong because he comes from the northern part of the state, while those interests are already strong in the southern part of the state.

CONFERENCE OF SAINTS ENDS
Appointments to Mission Fields the Last Business.
LAMONI, Ia., April 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The attendance at today's business meeting of the general conference of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints was scarcely diminished, notwithstanding the fact that each outgoing train bears a number of homeward bound delegates. President Joseph Smith occupied the chair and the closing of the business progressed smoothly. A resolution was adopted providing for the calling together of the standing high council sufficient prior to the general conference to try the cases scheduled to come before it. This was done to relieve the council of too arduous duties during the sessions of the conference.

A report of the Sunday school association contained the names of teachers quarterly had been ordered published, which will doubtless materialize some time during the coming year.

At this session of the conference a third quorum of seventy was organized, with Hyrum G. Smith as president. This is indicative of the growth of the missionary force of the church.

All other business disposed of and pending the arrival of reports from the first presidency and quorum of twelve, which shall contain the appointments for the coming year, by request of Joseph Smith, made a closing address to the assembly, as has been customary in past years. He urged upon his followers that no words unduly emphatic which may have been spoken in the heat of debate during the present session should be carried out of the house or away from this conference to the detriment of any.

Soon entered the secretaries of the two quorums, who have labored so assiduously upon the work of appointments and amidst grave silence these reports were read. The faces of the large assemblage of men engaged in the work of proselyting the world over were an interesting study as their names were read, assigning them to duty in this field or that, some of them to cross the great waters and labor in far off lands.

The popular song, "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go," DeLoe sang with hearty spirit and the conference adjourned with an earnest benediction by its aged president, Elder Hyrum G. Smith of the seventy preached tonight.

Pencemaker Has Hard Time.
GLENNWOOD, Ia., April 19.—(Special.)—Al Webber of Thurman, Ia., lost his overcoat, a shotgun belonging to Postmaster Cupp of Thurman and had his leg broken while attempting to assist an under dog in a fight in South Glennwood last night. On Sunday A. Herron of Hamburg, Ia., today asked permission to ride part way home with Webber when he drove down Monday. While driving near the old creamery in the south part of town Webber got out to separate two young fellows who were fighting. While engaged in this laudable undertaking his leg was broken.

When he limped back to his wagon he found that Herring had made off with a borrowed shotgun and his overcoat. Herring turned up at Wilson's drug store at 10 o'clock and frightened the occupants by making threatening motions with the gun and warning them by saying, "I'm a bank robber." Whether he really intended holding up the store and his nerve failed him or he was merely exhilarated and having a good time in his own way is not known. Dr. F. E. Donald dressed Webber's leg and a warrant was sworn out against Herring for the larceny of the gun and coat.

Dividend on Broken Bank.
CORNING, Ia., April 19.—(Special.)—C. F. Andrews, receiver for the Corning State Savings bank, has today declared a dividend of 10 per cent to the depositors of the Corning State Savings bank, which failed over a year ago. It requires approximately $15,000 to pay this dividend and it is the second dividend of the same amount which depositors have received. The receiver still has on hand something like $15,000, but this will not be disbursed for the present. This is in addition to other assets, which, it is thought, will bring the total dividends to depositors to over 40 per cent and of the general creditors to about 15 per cent.

Mason City Elks Indicted.
MASON CITY, Ia., April 19.—(Special.)—The grand jury today returned an indictment against the Official directory of the Elks' lodge in this city for selling liquor without the required license. The Elks maintained an Elks' clubhouse and in it had a buffet, which was an issue in a recent municipal campaign. It was raided and liquor seized. The club will pay a $500 fine and abandon the buffet in compliance with public sentiment.

Kutisben Again Indicted.
MARENGO, Ia., April 19.—(Special.)—The grand jury this afternoon returned two indictments against Baron Eric Kutisben for train wrecking and murder. The first indictments against Kutisben for wrecking the Homestead train were quashed because of a faulty jury.
