"PATENT MEDICINES."

Dr. Pierce's "Medical Discovery" which has been so well and favorably known for over a third of a century has nothing but pure and safe remedial ingredients entering into it.

THE PROOF.

It took Dr. Pierce many years of experience and trial to find out just the right proportion of the following medicinal roots and plants to use in his "Golden Medical Discovery"—so that the action would be positively certain. This vegetable remedy can not harm the most delicate system—on the other hand it gives new strength and virility to the constitution. A safe and certain spring tonic, reconstructive and blood-maker. It cures stomach and blood disorders.

This medicine contains the following non-alcoholic vegetable extracts:

- Golden Seal (Hydrastis Canadensis).
- Queen's root (Stillingia Sylvatica).
- Stone root (Gollinsonia Canadensis).
- Cherrybark (Prunus Virginiana).
- Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis).
- Mandrake (Podophyllum Peltatum).

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

The initial performance of the Savage English Grand Opera company in "Lohengrin" last evening amply justified the encomiums which have been showered upon that organization. For melodic beauty, spontaneity, gorgeousness of vocal and instrumental color, inspiring the imagination and moving the heart to pity, what can surpass the most popular of Wagnerian operas? It was a most beautiful stage setting, being almost a succession of stage pictures. The full orchestra of forty-five pieces under the graceful and efficient leadership of Mr. Schneck was thoroughly satisfying.

Mr. Sheehan made an admirable Lohengrin, appearing perhaps to the best advantage in the first and last acts. His voice, of a beautiful tenor quality, is somewhat marred by an unpleasant inclination toward a too nasal tone production. In the declaration of his name in the third act, which contains the musical germ of the whole opera, he was at his very best.

As Elze, Miss Rennybain's voice, which is of more than ordinary sweetness, fulfilled every requirement of a most exacting role. Her ability as an actress alone is of a high order, and when combined with her charming personality and sweet voice, brings forth an ensemble of talents which certainly justified Madame Nordica in encouraging her to study for grand opera. We are the gainers thereby.

In the duet between Lohengrin and Tremas, nothing was lost in that the bass was indicated rather than actually delivered, and when prostrate Mr. Goff burst forth both by voice, and action the crushing effect of his defeat. His voice seemed at times to waver away from the key, which was, however, more than atoned for by his work in the first scene of the second act which, by the way, is the most satisfactory exposition of Wagner's genius in the whole score. The scenic painting, the action, the music, the poetry, all combine to make a most harmonious whole. Otrud was in her greatest height during the evening in her magnificent appeal to her god Wotan, after she has succeeded in winning her way back into the grove of Elze. It was a fine scene, as full of the sweetness of Elze and the magnificence of her evil knowledge, Miss Newman's voice, a beautiful mezzo soprano, is full of richness and dramatic fire and gives no evidence of strain even in the trying scene at the close of the first act.

In the thankless role of King Henry, Mr. Harrison Bennett gave evidence of the years of study, being a most convincing singer. He was at his best in his appeal to the King of Kings, for Otrud's god in the coming dual. Mr. Richardson's performance was also of a high order.

A scene of the home-life of the King.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Packing Houses Make Improvements and Extensions to Their Plants.

ACTIVITY IN BUILDING LINE NOTEWORTHY

Cudahy Puts Addition to Soap Factory and Office, and Others Have Work of Various Kinds Under Way.

Thursday afternoon the Cudahy Packing company let a contract to Parks, Johnson & Parks for additions to the soap factory and to the present office building. This work will cost about $100,000 and will be commenced as soon after May 1 as possible. It is the intention of the Cudahy company to build a four-story brick extension to the soap plant and an addition to the office building. The soap factory is now a big six-story building, but more room is needed, and the four-story addition will be built on the south. This will provide more room for the manufacture and storage of soap. As for the office extension, a large building is to be built at the northwest corner of the present office for vaults and stationary rooms. Probably three months will be required in the making of these improvements.

On Monday the installation of four new Sterling boilers at the Omaha plant will be commenced. All of the work necessary to the installing of these boilers will have been completed by Saturday, and the contractors expect to be ready on Monday to place the boilers in position. The repairs being made at the Omaha plant will amount to about $5,000.

At the Armour plant the work on the big smoke stack is progressing as rapidly as Manager Howe can expect. The concrete foundation for this stack is forty-two feet square at the base and twelve feet in depth. Some improvements may be made to the Swift plant this year, but Manager Edwards has nothing to say on this matter at the present time.

Hunting Missing Girl.

Chief Briggs and Captain Shields had a nasty drive in the rain yesterday hunting for Pearl Hill, who until a day or two ago lived with her mother and brother at Thirtieth and U streets. The girl is little over 12 years of age. Wednesday she left home, leaving a note saying "Good by to all." No report of the disappearance of the girl was made until she was found at Hill, but neighbors took it upon themselves to tell Chief Briggs that the girl had left home on account of being ill-treated. Although the police worked all day on the case no trace of the girl could be found. The stepfather of the girl is Joseph Hill, who is employed at the Swift plant. Neither Hill nor his wife seem to have any idea where the girl went. As they did not report her disappearance to the police Chief Briggs infers that they are indifferent about the matter. He will continue to search for the girl and ascertain from her in case she is located, a statement regarding any ill-treatment.

Heavy Rain Damages Streets.

Some of the unpaved streets in South Omaha were damaged considerably by the heavy rains of Thursday. On Missouri avenue, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets, the water was so deep on the car tracks that one of the Walnut Hill cars was thrown off the track. It was necessary to send to Omaha for a wrecker to lift the car onto the track. No one was injured in this wreck. At Twenty-first and Missouri avenue the water and mud made the street car tracks almost impassable and for quite a time yesterday the running of regular trains was delayed.

As is usual during the falling of a heavy rain, the city had a few accidents, and flooded the jail room. Prisoners were removed to the women's department. Mayor Koutsky had quite a number of men employed on the street force yesterday filling waterways, and this work will be kept up until unpaved streets are again in a passable condition.

All out of door work was suspended yesterday on account of the rain and builders will not resume work until after the weather clears.

The Easter Presbyterian.

Thursday the Easter morning of the Presbyterian was a happy one. It is the day of the usual weekly publication and contains a large amount of advertising as well as the usual number of church notices. The outer cover is a design in Easter lilies and is worked out nicely. Rev. R. L. Wheeler is the editor of the paper, and S. Shafer business manager. Both are to be complimented on the edition issued yesterday. In addition to the usual news the Presbyterian this week prints the Easter morning program at the First Presbyterian church.

Connell Replies to Thomas.

Attorney for Dennison Talks of the Civic Federation Attorney's Latest Interview.

In answer to the question what he had to say in reply to the latest newspaper charges of Elmer E. Thomas, W. J. Connell, as attorney in the Dennison case, said yesterday: "Upon reading my office this morning I found the letter from Elmer E. Thomas, which he had previously reported to me, in my last letter to him, I did not advise him of the probability of Sheriff's leaving the country for the purpose of engaging in an extended correspondence with Mr. Thomas, but merely to inform him of the fact. In the letter I have just received Mr. Thomas fails to enclose the affidavit of Sheriff, but propounds a number of questions to me. I have something to do besides answering questions for Mr. Thomas. As I view the purposes of his frequent interviews in the papers, they are to keep himself and Sheriff before the public and to prevent prejudice to the public against Dennison. We will make full and satisfactory responses to his inquiries when the trial is reached.

"What Mr. Thomas says about Sheriff being in imminent danger of kidnapping or of being killed by Tom Dennison or any of his friends is rank rot. It is on a par with the charge that Tom Dennison, or some of his friends placed the bomb on Mr. Thomas' porch. By the way, why all this silence about the bomb? Why is it that the chief of police and the detective force are no longer berated for not discovering the perpetrators of that outrage?" "Mr. Thomas at present seems very solicitous for the welfare and safety of Sheriff. He says to prevent poisoning Sheriff lived at considerable additional expense in the Elliott house, one of the most expensive hotels in Des Moines. Why he does not have his food carefully prepared at home by his newly acquired wife does not appear. Neither does any intimation as to why Sheriff should stand in such fear of poisoning and in no alarm over the placing of a bomb on his porch. I do not care further to indulge in a controversy with Mr. Thomas outside of the court. When the Tom Dennison case is reached for trial there will be some hotbeds exploded that will give them good reason to be alarmed."

SKATING CARNIVAL DRAWS

Big Crowd at the Auditorium Rink Enjoys an Evening of Great Sport.

While the rain fell last night a large crowd of merry skaters enjoyed a costume carnival at the Auditorium rink. The large attendance in spite of the rain proved the great popularity of roller skating and particularly the costume feature. The costumes were of varied descriptions, all the way from the ridiculous and grotesque to the very beautiful and unique. Cash prizes were awarded for the handsomest costumes, also for the best character and comic costumes.

C. L. Plantene and Miss Clark won the prize for the handsomest costume couple; Miss Laura Miller was awarded the prize for the handsomest woman's costume. She was dressed as a Mexican girl, and Ralph Mackey, dressed as a Mexican cavalier, won first prize for the handsomest man's costume. T. J. Tice, in the most perfect Indian costume imaginable, took first place for character representation, and Henry Bryan, as Happy Hooligan, was given first prize for the best comic makeup. The judges were Dr. Alexander, C. S. Haverstock and Arthur Shields.

MRS. STARKEY IS SET FREE

Jury Returns Verdict of Not Guilty Very Soon After Getting the Case.

"Not guilty" was the verdict rendered at 8:20 last evening by the jury in the Jessie Starkey case. The jury went out at 5:20 p. m., taking an hour for supper. The little disagreement was reported by the jurors. The defendant received the verdict without any apparent display of feeling. She shook hands with the jurors and others present in the court room and with one of her attorneys, S. A. Seale.

Mrs. Jessie Starkey was on trial for the murder of her husband who was stabbed with a potato knife while returning home in the northwest part of the city on the afternoon of February 1, 1904. He was riding in a sleigh with his wife. The case was opened in Judge Day's court a week ago yesterday and was closely contested by both sides. The defense was that Starkey died from pneumonia and not from the knife wound.

The West Leavenworth Street Improvement club is figuring on a big Friday evening, and it intends to do considerable business. Members of the city council are expected to be present to hear and participate in the discussion of the subject. Mr. Carraker will re-take them when needed for public use.

REPAIRING CAR TRACKS.

Thursday forenoon the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company sent down a force of men and a large amount of material for the repairing of the tracks on N street between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. On account of the rain the workmen were sent home, but were directed to report for work today. This block of track is in bad condition, owing to the running of heavy cars over a track built for the old-style motors.

Hog Receipts Normal.

"The receipts of hogs at this market are normal," said H. C. Howe, general manager of the Armour plant yesterday. "To an outsider it might appear that the receipts are falling off, but this is not the case. It is true that as compared with last year the hog receipts show a decrease, but it must be remembered that last year the Armour company bought hogs on the Sioux City market and shipped the purchases to South Omaha while the plant there, which had been destroyed by fire, was being rebuilt. As compared with 1903 there is no perceptible decrease. It is only right that the shippers and others who deal at this market should be made aware of the reason in the seeming decrease in hog receipts." Continuing, Mr. Howe said that the prospects for a good live stock market at South Omaha never looked brighter than at the present time.

FIRE PLUGS WILL BE PLACED

New Hydrants Ordered by Council and Water Board to Go In.

MEMBER HIPPLE TALKS OF MANDAMUS

General Manager Fairfield Says His Company Has No Intention of Evading the Requests for Extensions.

Member Hipple says that the Water board is getting ready to force issues with the water company as to whether hydrants and mains ordered in by the council and which are to be ordered in by the board will be placed. Dr. Hipple says he has held repeated consultations with officers of the water company and cannot reach a satisfactory understanding. The board has been informed by the city attorney that it has all the power formerly held by the mayor and council regarding the ordering of new hydrants and that the mandamus secured by the city from the district court in May, 1904, is as much a lever for the board to force the installation of new hydrants as it was for the council. It is intended to act under this order from the court if the water company does not begin setting new hydrants within a short time. Dr. Hipple says that he has determined that many hydrants and connecting mains are needed in various parts of the city and that members of the board believe it is their duty to do all that is possible to add to the conveniences and fire protection demanded.

Position of Water Company.

General Manager Fairfield of the water company says: "The matter is now in the hands of President Woodbury, who has it up with attorneys in New York. We wish to proceed with care, so that we shall be sure of getting the rental from new hydrants. I anticipate that all that have been ordered and will be ordered in future will be installed and think the matter will be settled by our officers in a week or ten days. It is our business to supply the people of the city with water whenever and wherever they want it, but it must be admitted that the whole subject is now much complicated by the water laws and the appraisement. We simply do not want to get into a situation any more awkward than at present, in view of the fact that provision is made by law providing for the payment of water rentals."

The bylaws were also amended so as to make the president, Edward Rosewater, the editor-in-chief, and the vice president, Victor Rosewater, the general manager of all the business of the corporation.
