EVIDENCE OF GROWTH OF ATHLETIC SPIRIT

Champtons Past and Present Make Up a Party that Will Visit England and Play in Open and Invitation Events.

NEW YORK, May 20 .- No strenger evidence could be given of the love for outdoor athletics which has developed among American girls of the present day than for the English women's golf championships at Cromer on May 29. It is the first organized yearly trial of skill between the United States have ever entered into the Adair, at that time champion of Great While Miss Higgins did not accompany the party sailing on the St. Paul there is still a probability that she will join the others at Cromer. She has been the greatest globe trotter of any of the American women golfers. Last fall she took part in the women's championships at Marion, and lost to Miss F. C. Griscom by 2 up and 1 to play. In 1903 women's championship of south Florida at Palm Beach. Although she sprained her ankle last January, she was able to appear in the championship of the Southern California Golf association, played at the Pasadena Country club in March. She captured the title with case, her long drives and brassey shots being particularly not Champion of Unived States.

Of the party on the St. Paul Miss Georgiana Bishop, the present woman golf champion of the United States, is the one to whom most attention will probably be given. It will be Miss Bishop's second visit to the other side, as she was in Scotland and England with members of her family in 1902, but this time there is a more definite object in view. Miss Bishop plays from the Brooklawn County club of idgeport, Conn., where she made her first apearance in 1899. The following year she took part in the championship of Shinnecock Hills, where she failed to qualify but later in the same year she qualified in the women's invitation tournament at Miss Emily L. Lockwood, who, with Miss Mollie Adams, will represent the Boston district, is one of the foremost women golfers of the Hub. She entered her first championship in 1901, where she qualified, only to be beaten in a twenty-two-hole match by Miss Lucy Herron, the runner up. Since then she has been a contestant in every national championship, qualifying in all of them. In 1903, at the invitation tournament given in Philadelphia for Miss Adair, then the British champion, she was within one stroke of Miss Adair's medal score. Miss Adams first played at the Balthursol championship in 1901, where she tied with Miss Lucy Herron for the best score in the medal round. She has siways taken a prominent part in the tournaments about Boston and will be a desirable acquisition to the party.

Miss Griscom a Veteran. Miss Griscom was national champion in 1900, and is fitted by experience in almost every big tournament for women since 1896, to make a brave showing for the American side. As a result of almost yearly trips abroad she is probably more familiar with English golf courses than any other American women golfer. Her sister, Mrs. Samuel Bettle, who will chaperone the party in the absence of Mrs. Clement A. Griscom, is also a golfer of some experience, although never so prominent as her sister in the competitive tournaments of the last two years. She has been a member of the Philadelphia teams that played in the intercity matches in New York and Boston and is thoroughly qualified to make a satisfactory showing. The party will be joined at Cromer by Miss Fanny Osgood, champion of the Woman's Golf Association of Boston, who is now abroad with her family, and by Miss Florence Borden, who won the women's championship of southern Callof the Atlantic.

But from the showing made here by the two English romen who have come over-Miss Rhons Adair and Miss Charlotte Dod, each at the time of her first visit holding the English championship title-the American players should not be altogether outclassed. Miss Adair, who was here in 1903, met nearly all the leading American women in a tournament at Philadelphia, and led them by only ones troke, while Miss Dod, who came over here last season, did not prove herself a match for our best players, and though she tied for the first score in the medal round of the tourament given in her honor, she was subsequently beaten in the match play by Miss Pauline the sailing recently of the party of golfers | Mackey of Boston. It was generally admitted, however, that Miss Dod was not at her best at any time while she was golfing trip of the kind ever undertaken here, the voyage and the excitement of by women players on this side of the her entertainment being fatal to her golfing water, and may ultimately lead to an poine. From the records published in this country it would seem that English women women of the two countries. At all events, the contests will of Miss Mabel Higgins of Chicago, who afford an interesting basis for comparison was defeated last year by Miss Rhona and will certainly cement the relations between the women golfers of the two countries.

It must not be understood that the party is making the trip in any official relation to the United State Golf association. To present this resolution to the councilmen and to back it up a committee was appointed consisting of H. A. Myers, Ernest Sweet, J. E. Kellogg, William Rothwell, J. Y. Craig, J. J. Smith, E. W. Fields and President Wallace of the Improvement club. This committee will have the assistance of any and all other men living in the district who feel an interest in the question of ward division.

The sentiment of those present who have been working on the division matter for a long time was freely expressed as being opposed to what was denominated as Councilman Evans' notion that the division lines should be just as he wants them and not as the people of the north section of the city desire them to be.

Mr. Rothwell rather took up the cudgels for all the councilmen on the ground that they have a very hard job on hand and are doing the very best they can. "It may be that once in a while some driver does try to make an overcharge," says Mr. Carver, "but if the fare will only take the trouble to make a complaint at the time, giving the number of the driver's icense, which is displayed on his lamps, we can take the needed steps to make the correction. It is unfair to a large body of men who are generally worthy to make them all suffer for the misconduct of one or two. The honest back driver cannot secure protection if the victim of the dishonest one is not willing to make the charges specific. If a complaint is properly filed, we will see that the offender is given his deserts, for we are just as much interested in having this matter right as anyone else can be."

One recent case in which a complaint was made by P E. Her of the treatment of a guest from the east is explained thus: A hack was called to the Her Grand at o'clock in the evening. At 7:30 a man came out and entered the back, was driven to the Omaha club, then to the hotel and then to the depot. The driver presented a charge of $3, which was resisted by the Explanation was of no avail, and finally a policeman was called in to arbitrate the matter. The eastern man left with a poor opinion of Omaha hackmen. In the meantime a party at the Iler Grand hotel walked out, took a carriage and was driven to his destination, and paid $1, the regular fee. It developed on investigation that the second carriage called was for the first party, and that was what made the difficulty. The porter at the hotel had gotten the parties mixed, and while the fare was right in both instances, it was charged to the wrong passengers, and made

Very Bad Cough Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

For three months Mr. Gail Woodworth of Stevens Point, Wis., was troubled with a a very bad cough. He doctored continually, but got no permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a cure. A great many others have had a like experience. Most cough medicines are merely palliative-that is, they give only temporary relief-while Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures the disease that causes the coughing and effects a permanent cure. No one can afford to neglect a cough, for a persistent cough is the first symptom of consumption, the most fatal of all diseases.

BOARD ORDERS THE WATER

Supply Streets from Hydrants.

WILL GO INTO COURT IF NECESSARY

Attorney Wright is Put to Work Devising Rest Method of Procedure Should Company Refuse,

The Water board held a special meeting at the city hall at noon Saturday and passed two official orders, one "ordering and requiring" the water company to furnish any and all water from hydrants demanded by the city for purposes not specified in the contracts, and fixing the maximum rate to be charged for water so the contracts the city can use water from hydrants for flushing gutters, ditches and sewers for sanitary purposes, but not for flushing streets or for sprinklers. The other order "authorizes and empowers" the foremen of city street and sewer departments to attach hose to hydrants and take all the water they need for ushing strets and sewers.

"I shall proceed to get water from the hydrants for street cleaning on Monday." said Street Commissioner Hummell. "Acting Mayor Zimman has instructed me to do this and announced that he will enable me to get the water with the aid of the police department if the company tries to prevent us by forcible means. We need this water and need it badly and propose to have it."

Water company officials are noncommit tal as to what they will do. They have nsisted upon a contract with the city holding the company free from damages, before permitting the hydrants to be used for street flushing and automatic sprinklers.

To Force the Company. According to Member Congdon of the Water board probably steps will be taken soon in the courts if necessary, to compel An indignation meeting for last night the water company to extend mains and ordered by the board.

"Lord Cromer ostensibly 'represents' England in Egypt, but really he controls, to a great extent, the policy of the Egyptian government. He has done a great deal for the English nation and for Egypt and the influence of the greater nation, has resulted in enormous benefit and development for Egypt.

"Had we been a little earlier we would ave met Horace G. Burt in Egypt, where I found letters from him written a few days before I arrived. Although Mr. Burt was not chosen as head of the Isthmian Canal commission, yet I am confident no stronger or better engineer in the United States could have been selected by the president for the undertaking. 'I found Constantinople one of the dirtiest and filthiest cities it has ever been my lot to enter. Its big feature is its dogs counted 106 in the streets within five blocks while driving one day. The animals belong to no one and live on refuse and carrion.

"We remained at Jerusalem two weeks, but did not find It or the surroundings as interesting as we anticipated. We visited Gibraltar for the second time and were shown part way through the immense fortresses. This fortification, one of the most wonderful in the world, enables England absolutely to control the Mediterranean.

"I found an ever increasing admiration and respect for Americans in Europe and northern Africa. Our republic is coming to be looked upon as a pattern in many ways with respect to government and social progress. There is no doubt whatever but that we have advanced to a point in the eyes of the world that is second to none Quite contrary to the tales of extortion practiced upon Americans abroad we met with nothing but good treatment and cour-

WILL IS MADE AFTER DEATH Post-Mortem Testament Involving Farm Near Bennington to Come

Up in Court. Judge Sutton will have up for hearing Monday a case involving title to a farm near Bennington and also a will which one man swears was made three days after the person whose will it purports to be was dead. The farm was originally owned by Wilhelmina Klabunde. After her death in 1894 it passed into the possession of August Klabunde, her son, on condition that he care for his father, Ernest Klabunde, the supreme court and must all be done over again.

The affidavit alluded to above is made by Paul Penke, whose name is on the will that the Slavs will arise as conquerors and as a witness. He also helped to have it subdue other nations. During the worst of passed through the probate court in Febthe disorders in Russia I heard the opinion ruary, 1894.
