 Council Meets Tonight.
 The city council will meet tonight in adjourned regular session, when the resolution calling for the paving of a number of streets will be brought up for final action. Mayor Macrae has, as already made public, vetoed the resolution, and it is understood that there will be a sufficient number of votes to pass it over his head tonight. The mayor is opposed to the use of home made brick for the lower course and insists on concrete being used, while the majority of the aldermen is in favor of stone. It is expected that the matter will be taken up on an opposite vote of the matter and are in favor of the home made product as against concrete on certain streets where the traffic is not heavy.

Medicine Man Indicted.

The recent grand jury was one against F. H. Parker, proprietor of a patent medicine show, on the charge of selling medicines without a license. Parker was arrested at Charter Oak Saturday evening by Sheriff Canring and brought to Council Bluffs and lodged in the county jail late that night in default of bail. He had not succeeded in furnishing a bond yesterday. Parker had his show at Neola, this county, about a week ago and went from there to Charter Oak, Crawford county.

WOULD ABOLISH GRAND JURY SYSTEM

Bar Association Will Consider Resolution Advocating a Change in the State Constitution.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, May 28.—(Special.)—It has now become apparent that there will be a good increase in the population of Iowa when the returns are all in from the counties of the state. A large number of the small counties where there are no large cities and where the population is largely rural have completed the statistics of their population. While the executive council has given out no official figures public and editors have made their figures and they are substantially correct. Out of sixteen counties twelve show a loss in population of about 50 per cent, while four counties of the sixteen show gains of about 15 per cent. The twelve lost 13,377 in population and the four gained 5,511, or more than half the loss. Of one dozen cities in the state the population figures of which have been returned, the gain is over 14 per cent. Not a city of any size so far reported shows a loss. The counties thus far reported are as follows:

Jefferson	1906	1900

Abolish Grand Jury System.

The resolution which will be presented to the State bar association abolishing the grand jury system has been made public by Judge L. G. Kline of the State Board of Law Reform, who is chairman of the committee. Resolved, That a constitutional amendment should be adopted providing for the abolition of the grand jury and for placing parties upon trial upon information. The committee has also formulated four topics which will be presented to the association for discussion. These are:
 1. Shall the exemption law be amended? Ought the court to have power to limit the arguments of counsel in the jury? Ought the jury to be advised by the judge as to weight and credibility of testimony?
 2. Shall the law be amended so that a party to the suit and to exclude other evidence be admissible and constitutional?
 3. It is understood that Judge H. M. Turner of Cornish and ex-Attorney General Remley of Anamosa do not agree on the recommendation to abolish the grand jury system.
