WESTERN MACCABEES WANT DAMAGES

Insist Injunction Secured by Mac cabees of the World Has Been an Injury to the Newly Formed Order.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 1 -- (Special.) -- The nemiarmua! statement issued today by State Treasurer Mortensen indicates that $993,805.32 has been received into the state general fund during the past six months ending May 31, while in the same period 1973.448.45 has been paid out. At the beginning of the half year the general fund had $15.52 to its credit, while at the close the amount was $21,372,39. The receipts in the general fund would have been much larger had the Union Pacific and Burlington railways paid their taxes promptly. Of the expenditures $100,000 was used in payment of legislative expenses. The showing under normal circumstances, it is said. would have left a substantial surplus of income over expenditure.

During the six months the permanent school fund received $1,022,532.55, while $914,290.29 was paid out, leaving at the close of the period $108,142.16 on hand as compared with the entire absence of cash funds, reached the enormous total of nearly $3,000,000. Receipts from all sources amounted to $2,883,943.69, while disbursements amounted to $2,611,568.20.

The treasurer's comparative statement of receipts and disbursements, with the balances at the beginning and the end of the period beginning December 7, 1906, and ending May 21, is as follows: Balances

The Order of Western Maccabees, who were permanently enjoined a few days ago at the instance of the Knights of the Maccabees of the World, have filed suit in the district court against the older order for $5,000 damages because, it alleges, the older order harassed it with an injunction suit and caused it to lose prestige with the public. PROCEEDINGS ARE ACTUALLY IN MOTION

District Attorney Baxter, in Outlining Case, Tells of Alleged Attempt of Defendants to Onst.

The trial of the land fencing cases began before Judge Munger in the United States district court Thursday morning, with the court room well filled with interested spec tators, among whom was Bartlett Rich arde, the well known cattleman of northwestern Nebraska, and who is also under indictment for the illegal fencing of portions of the public domain.

The full jury finally was selected at 10:1 o'clock and comprised the following named persons:

W. O. Bartholomew, attorney, Omaha; C. Edward Early, real estate agent, Colum bus; E. W. Snider, tanner, Auburn; John Stewart, Priend; D. F. Skinner, Palmyra A. F. Ross, clerk, Omaha; A. L. Shouka, Schuyler, The rest of the federal petit jury not en gaged in the 'rial of this case was excused until Monday, June 5, at 9 o'clock a. m.

Baxter Outlines the Case.

In his opening statement to the jury Dis trict Attorney Baxter outlined the nature of the case against the Krause brothers. who are charged with illegally fencing some 7,500 acres of public lands in Sheridan county. Judge Baxter gave a brief history of the homestead laws and the supplemen tary Kinkald law, indicating the rights that homeseekers had to file upon public lands that were subject to entry. He showed that certain parties with their families had gone into that section to enter upon public lands and establish homes there. Specific mention was made of one family, that of Theodore Osborne, who had made a legal filing on a quarter section, and when they went to locate it found it to be enclosed in the big pastures of the Krause brothers.

"They, however, located on their entry and proceeded to improve it and build a home," said Mr. Baxter. "It was a crude affair at first, merely a frail barn, in which they were to live until they could complete their sod residence. The Krause brothers were very indignant over this invasion of their territory and told the Osbornes they could not stay there, that the land belonged to them. The Osbornes were people not very easily scared and they knew their rights and held onto their claim. The family was repeatedly warned and threatened with dire vengeance if they did not leave. The Krauses, or some of their employes, undertook at one time to ride down Osborne and his wife, but they were of the metal that didn't scare and still held on to their

Mrs Osborne's Shooting.

"On another occasion, in July, 1904, John Krause and some of his employes came to the Osborne homestead, knowing that only Mrs. Osborne and a child were there, and ordered them to pack up and leave. Mrs. Osborne warned them if they undertook any violence she would shoot, as she had arms in their little house. The gang still stayed around threatening her, so she poked a shotgun out through the crack of the house and blazed away at the gang. The party fied, but traces of blood were found, indicating that one of the party had been hit.
