Various Factors Combine to Cause Strong Tone in Wheat.

DECLINE IN CROP CONDITION IS SMALL

Corn Opens Higher and Holds Firm-Onrs Are Stendy at Same Prices -Snow's and Missouri's Reports.

An active demand for cash grain, higher bles and a shortage of stocks in the stubwest caused a strong tone in wheat at could not be offset by Snow's report.

remitted to the southwest, Texas losing it is the prices were unusually steady, all wheat opened a little higher. July rose early in the session to 80% but after that fluctuations were very small. July closed at 8%, beptember at 80%, and becember at 80%, Corn opened work, and becember and 80% of July at 51%, beptember at 40% of September at 40% and December at 40%. Onto were steady at about the same prices. July closed at 80%, September at 10% of higher on wheat and 3% higher on wheat and 3% higher on corn. Minbeapolis traders say that there is an immense shortage of wheat at that marke.

I am a buil on existing conditions in the nathwest. C. E. Lewis of Minneapolis is quoted as saying. A builge of 5 cents at that city yeaterday shows how congested the market is. John W. Gates is said to be scalping on the buil side and taking profits on builges. Marfield of Minneapolis says that not only July, but September, this year will be old crop options. Nashville, Tenn., reports the cutting of a ninety-seven-acre field of wheat at Hermitage. Estimated Chicago receipts of wheat to market are 20 cars.

The corn situation is peculiar. Country offers have shut off unexpectedly in the last few days and elevator men are now taking things easy, whereas they scarcely had time to breathe during the first days at the week. Inquiries for corn on the local exchange met with little response. A special to Sunderland & Updike says that a large Des Molnes house sent out 800 poetal acceptance. Dealers are predicting that the owners of the old crop in Nebraska will be slow to sell because June 1 finds souch corn not planted and some of it planted for the second time. Late corn is see subject to hot winds and frosts that many farmers are deciding to hold their reserves for later months, and chances of tigher prices Citicas of May deal, a good inquiry has developed from eastern exporters.
