Union Pacific Fences in Its Yards and Tracks and Burlington is Busy with Its Additional Lines.

Some additional trackage is being laid in South Omaha at the presen time. Tuesday the Union Pacific put a force of men at work laying two tracks on Railroad avenue from O street south to Q street. These tracks will be used for switching and storage. It is reported in raffroad circles in South Omaha that the Union Pacific is now going ahead with its fences and that as soon as the fences are completed more switch and storage tracks will be put down south of Q street on Railroad avenue. Posts for the fences have been set and it seems to be the understanding that the fence from L to U street on the east side of the tracks will be erected before long. me days ago a report was circulated that the Union Pacific would put in gates or turnstiles so that the N street crossing would not be closed. This appears to be a mistake, the report having been circulated by persons interested in property in the vicinity of Twenty-seventh and N streets.

In addition to the Union Pacific improvepents, the Burlington road is having plans drawn for the track to be laid on Twentyninth street from A to D street. One of the Burlington engineers was in the city Tuesday and he stated that just as soon as the plans for the track or tracks were completed work would commence. City Engineer Beal has furnished the Burlington civil engineers with grades and has set stakes for the Peters mill, so that it begins to look as if South Omaha was to get some improvements in the railroad yards this year There is still a scarcity of trackage and the railroads are looking for ground suitable slaty substance. They are supposed to be for sidetracks and storage tracks in the vicinfty of the yards.

Committee Holding Back Report. On account of the numerous protests, the judiciary committee of the city council is holding back a report on the paving of Twenty-fourth street from G to O street. A number of property owners on Twentyfourth street conveyed word to Mayor Koutsky yesterday that they would oppose the paving of the street within the limits designated in the ordinance now in the hands of the judiciary committee. It begins to look now as if the entire project of repaving the street would be dropped. This will surely be done unless the property owners can get together and agree upon the street being paved from A to Q street. Unless work on the repaving is started soon little can be accomplished this year. The and there is no telling when this case will be called for hearing. Every day the city clerk is in receipt of letters from eastern bond buyers inquiring about the paving bonds. An inclination is shown to purchase paving bonds, but just now there is no telling when such an issue will be made,

In accepting the wreath from the con federate camp Major Erion said: "It is such acts as this that are doing more to heal the wounds made by the civil war than all other influences combined." During the ceremonies at the cemetery Booker T. Washington arrived and delivered a short address. Mr. Erion writes that he is in good health and sends regards to all South Omaha friends.

Alternate Rozzelle is also one of the old-time carriers here.

Pleased with Trip. The South Omaha live stock dealers who made the trip to Alliance and Guernsey say that they are well pleased with the trip and think that the journey advertised this market. One of the members of the party said last evening that the season in the northwest is later than usual this year. The grass is short and washy and, while the cattle are in good condition, the flesh is soft. Owing to the weather shipments to this market will be later than usual Herds are being dipped before being sent to the summer ranges. Few losses are reported and the herds are as large as last

FREAK OF LIGHTNING STORM Ball of Fire Falls in Street and Woman Declares She Has Been Struck,

A strange freak of lightning was noticed Monday evening at Twenty-fourth street and Capitol avenue. It was about $ o'clock, when heavy clouds were passing over the sky. A ball of fire descended straight from the heavens and fell in the street near where some boys were playing. There was a glaring flash as it fell, a report as of a gun when it struck, and a oud peal of thunder almost immediately after. B. C. Wade was sitting on his porch when the phenomenon occurred. The strangest feature of it is that while none of the boys playing near were injured, a woman rushed out of a house across the street and said she had been struck by lightning. She was sitting at her sewing machine when she felt a shock which benumbed her arms from her hands to the houlders. She soon recovered.

The boys noticed that a large number of small objects fell with the flash, and picking them up, they found them to be some from the covering of an electric light cable which runs overhead. There was no damage, either to lights or telephones in

The tainted blood of ancestors lavs upon the shoulders that the middle Atlantic and southern states, but in New England and Side Principles and conditions prevailed in the middle At-lantic and southern states, but in New England low temperatures with light frosts and lack of rainfall have prevented growth. Portions of the Onio valley, upper lake region, Oklahoma and southern Texas have suffered from excessive moisture. On the Pacific coast the conditions were generally favorable, although portions of California and Oregon experienced temperatures too low.

In the states of the Missouri and central Mississippi valleys corn is much improved and good progress with cultivation has been made in the upper Ohio valley much planting remains to be done and in the middle Atlantic states considerable replanting will be necessary on account of the cut worms. In the southern states early corn is bein laid by in good condition. Winter wheat has advanced favorably, fewer reports of injury being received from the greater part of the area prevously affected. Harvest has also begun in California, where wheat is maturing rapidly. On the north Pacific coast winter wheat is in promising condition, having experienced decided improvement in Washington.

Under decidedly better temperature conditions in the spring wheat region, spring wheat has made good progress and is stooling well. The general condition of the oat crop is very promising, an improvement being reported from the middle Atlantic states and Missouri valleys. Oats are heading as far north as Kansas, Missouri and central Illinois and harvesting is in progress in the south Atlantic and east gulf states.

A general improvement in the condition the south Atlantic and cast gulf states.

A general improvement in the condition of cotton is indicated. With the exception of southern Texas and portions of the east gulf and south Atlantic states, where heavy rains have failen, the weather has afforded opportunity for much needed cultivation, which has been actively carried on, although a large part of the crop is still in grass, with insufficient labor. Cool nights over the northern portion of the central districts have checked the advance of cotton, but as a whole growth has been satisfactory, especially in the districts. Some planting remains unfinished in portions of Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Lake Manawa. The deep grief with which the news of the drowning of Miss Clara H. Winslow was received by relatives and friends last Friday evening found full expression Tuesday afternoon, when the funeral was held. Rev. George A. Bescher, dean of Trinity cathedral, read the Episcopal service at the home of Mrs. Eva Murphy, 1427 North Seventeenth street, where the service was held. Many friends gathered to listen to the last rites for the young woman whose young life was so suddenly taken. Among the numerous floral tributes was a beautiful anchor, sent by the members of fire

E. Murphy and D. B. Butler. The burial was at Forest Lawn cemetery. The bier was covered by a blanket of American beauty roses sent by Garret Prange, who was in the boat with Mise Winslow at the time of the accident. The coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday decided the drowning was accidental
