Upon completing his remarks the emperor graciously greeted the individual members of the delegation, shaking hands with them and having a few cordial words for each, even such radicals as M. Rodicheff, and Prince Shakoffskoy, known as the "anarchist prince," being greeted without the slightest evidence of imperial displeasure.

The fact that the emperor not only received the bold, plain spoken address with out so much as an indication of his dis approbation; but expressed full sympathy with the efforts to ameliorate the deplorable state of affairs depicted therein and in the most direct and explicit fashion renewed his promise to summon the repre sentatives of the people, made the deepest impression on the delegation.

Princes Troubetskoy, Lvoff and Dolgorukoff, whom the correspondent of the Associated Press saw, not only showed by their manner their delight at the result lahan of engine company No. 2, to the effect of the audience, but expressed themselves as fully satisfied with the imperial assurances. So far as they are concerned they indicated that they are now ready to await the fulfillment of the emperor's promise, which it is believed will not be long delayed.

The delegation is now preparing an ac count of the audience which will be presented to the St. Petersburg doums tomorrow and in accordance with their instructions as well as the imperial wish will be communicated to all the semstvos and mayors of Russia.
