The commencement exercises of last month were thoroughly enjoyed by all. Sev-eral hundred of the college alumni were present to receive the splendid class of sixty-five graduates. The addresses made by Superintendent W. N. Davidson of the city schools, Secretary B. C. Wade of the Young Men's Christian association and Secretary Mrs. Emma S. Byers of the Young Woman's Christian association were highly appreciated by the large body of students and their many friends who were present. The musical program was especially fine. The reading by Prof. Ritchie elicited much applause. After the presentation of diplomas the students, ex-students and their friends passed away the "social hour" in a most pleasant manner. The class was one of the finest ever graduated by the institution, and their success in the commercial world is assured. New students are entering every week for the summer session, and the cool, pleasant rooms of the college make it a delightful place for summer study. Miss Hayes of Quincy, III., has been added to the services very valuable to the students of this department.

nartiment and her previous experience renders her services very valuable to the students of this department. The management was kept busy last we ck in filling the many calls from the busi-ness men. But few of the large advanced class are left. It is most gratifying to have graduates who go out and be able to fill positions paying from 59 to 55 per month. Mr. White, after finishing the course in five months, left July I to accept a position in Ottawa. III, at 50 per mon th. It certainly means much to a student to be a member of an institution in which the business community has every confi-dence and constantly calling upon its grad uates. Every student who takes out a full term scholarshin is given a year's membership in the Young Men's Christian association or Young Woman's Christian association without extra charge. No such proposition was ever made by any school. This membership entities the holder to every privilege granted by the organization. To be a member of either of these institutions means character, culture and refinement.

TO PARENTS

It is your right and privilege to know the advantage your child is to enjoy when you pay your money for his tuition. You should know who the teachers are to be, how many recitations each day, the hours of study required day and evening, the personal attention given by the teachers to the correction of typewriting work and a hundred other things that must be done if your child is to become trained in hustness or skilled in shorthand and typewriting. If you wish to take no chances as to his success in life, have him enter a sechol of experienced teachers, strict disd ipline and one that makes a success of every student—such is the

and it will mean that for five days every week you will have to forego fishing trips, or the pleasure of lolling in a hammock reading the most popular novel all day long. But, young man, you can't always go fishing. Young lady, you can't spend your whole life in that hammock. You've got to prepare yourself to face the stern responsibility of life. There is no better time to obtain a thorough business training than right now, during the summer. This is so because immediately after your graduation this fall you will have ten chances to take a position where you would have one chance next spring. Business houses add to their office staff in the fall. Many of them cut it down in the spring. Become a stenographer, bookkeeper or tele-grapher this summer at Boyles, college. Send for our big catalogue and read it over carefully. You'll find it full of encouragement and full of mighty good advice to young men and young women.
