LESS MILLS IN OPERATION

Discrimination Alleged to Be Cause of Their Getting Out of Business.

HURON, S. D., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—The quarterly meeting of the South Dakota and Southern Minnesota Millers' association was held Wednesday night. There were thirty or more millers present from various cities, and the deliberations of the gathering had direct bearing upon the milling interests of this section of the northwest. Reports indicated that there will be from eighteen to twenty mills less in operation in the territory covered by the association than last year, the result of discrimination. The yield of milling wheat in this state at present is estimated at 55,000,000 bushels, with 3,000,000 bushels of durum or macaroni wheat. This is a smaller yield by about 30 per cent than that of last year, but it is claimed that the quality of grain will largely compensate for the decrease in yield. There is much litigation by mill owners as to infringements upon certain patents and the association voted to assist any member who is defendant in any such action. Sioux Falls is the next place of meeting. Immediately following adjournment carriages were provided and those who desired were given drives about the city.

Sporting Gossip.

St. Louis City has secured a new pitcher named John Fisher. He has been with the Indianapolis team. Grant McGlynn, the Cardinal pitcher, beat the Boston team on two successive days on a recent visit of the Beaneaters to St. Louis. Leo Tannehill, the third baseman of the White Sox team, has been out of the game all year, was able to resume his place Wednesday. Bender, a better pitcher than the Philadelphia game at Cleveland and the Naps were forced to take another season. Frank Lebell, the second baseman of the White Sox, has bought an interest in the Wichita team. He lives there and will run the team next season. The challenge match for the tennis championship of the Dietz Athletic association will be played this evening between Redinger, the present holder, and Newell, the winner of the tournament just completed. The Cleveland team now has a full team in the state and while Manager LeBell does not promise the fans the pennant, he has given his word that the patrons of the game will see some splendid ball for the remainder of the season. Des Moines has started a long series of games on its home grounds—seventeen games scheduled. A good start was made when the Champs took two games from the Hawks yesterday. They should be able to give Omaha a hard chase before those seventeen games are finished. Alloway, the umpire, in "Fodge" Alloway, the old Kansas City and Omaha pitcher who performed for several years in the American association and Western leagues. Alloway's eye seems to be none too good, but he is humorous enough to make up for any ocular deficiencies and he runs the game, which is still more important.—Ex.

GRAIN RATES TO BE LOWERED

Nebraska Railway Commission Will Cut Them Ten Per Cent.

ARGUMENT ON THE CREAM RATE

Deputy Food Commissioner Johnson Ruled on Nebraska Pure Food Law at Request of the Wholesalers.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—The Nebraska Railway commission tomorrow will enter an order reducing the freight rates charged for transportation of grain in Nebraska 10 per cent. This will be the first formal action of the new board in the rate controversy. The law specifies that when an order affecting rates is made, the roads shall have a space of thirty days in which to file their objections for the information of the commissioners, after which the rate goes into effect unless taken into the courts or the board amends the order. This order of the commission will be a flat 10 per cent reduction affecting all charges in the state on cereals.

Argument in Cream Rate Case.

Final argument was made today in the hearing before the State Railway commission of the application of the Western Traffic association for an increase in the rates charged for the transportation of cream. The Western Traffic association represents all the railroads and express companies doing business in the state. Charles H. Clapp and Frank Gaines appeared for the corporations, and Hester & Smith and A. W. Jeffers for the central promoters and the Omaha Commercial club, which are objecting to the increase. Attorney Hainer renewed his motion to dismiss the application for the increased rates and, in lieu thereof, to make the rates according to a schedule to be prepared. After a few minutes consultation the commission decided to take no action on the main question. Attorney Clapp, in his arguments for the increased rates, repeated the testimony given that the present cream rates had been in effect since 1888, with little or no change, and that since they became effective the cost of handling cream had greatly increased; that under the proposed rates the lowest rate is 25 cents for a distance of twenty-five miles and this includes the return of the empty cans; all other rates are based on this, he said. Cream is carried on passenger trains, for the Pacific Express company, on trains Nos. 14 and 15, the Pacific, the Gulf, and an overland train from San Francisco. The proposed rates, he said, were no higher than the present first-class freight rates; the rates on cream were much lower and out of proportion to all other classes of merchandise.

Indignation over the report in the local papers that a soldier drew a revolver on O street who had been struck by a street car.

The physician asked the crowd to stand back from the man and give him a revolver and threatened to shoot the doctor for making such a suggestion. The physician maintains his report of the affair is true, while the soldiers indignantly deny it. That is the most serious charge made against any of the soldiers up to date.

Terminal Tax in Tennessee.

Henry T. Clarke, member of the State Railway commission and of the legislature last winter, has received a marked copy of a publication showing that the state of Tennessee is going to adopt the principle of the terminal tax law. The article states that Attorney General Cates of that state has given an official opinion that such a distribution is legal and his opinion will be followed by the State Board of Assessment. Mr. Clarke fathered the terminal tax bill in the house when it was passed by the recent legislature.

Pure Food Law Interpretation.

Deputy Food Commissioner Johnson has written a letter to the secretary of the Iowa-Nebraska Wholesale Growers' association in answer to an inquiry, his interpretation of the pure food law. The answer is of interest to the retailers all over the state. The correspondence is as follows: Sir, J. W. Johnson, Deputy Food Commissioner, Lincoln, Neb., Dear Sir: We, the Iowa-Nebraska Wholesale Growers' association, are in full sympathy with you in your efforts to protect the citizens of Nebraska against the sale of impure foods, desire information as to the interpretation of the pure food law, that we may be better equipped to meet the requirements of the law, and therefore ask you to explain the rulings and interpretations on the following: 1. Shall the weight stated be the gross weight of the package? 2. Shall the weight stated be the net weight of the contents of the package? 3. What is intended to be covered by the term "net weight" in the case of "bags" or "packages" of food products? 4. In the case of food products sold by the dozen, will it be considered a compliance with the law if the quantity in number is stated in the case of "bags" or "packages" of food products? 5. The weight and measure section of the law above quoted provides that packages put up by retailers shall be exempt from the provisions. It is presumed that this exemption was made because such packages are not sealed and the contents may be inspected by the consumer, because as well as after purchasing, and he also can verify the weight of the contents and the weight of the package. It may also be presumed that the members of the law had in their minds, in exempting these open packages of retailers, that no conviction could be obtained in any case where opened or unsealed packages were found to be short weight. These questions, therefore, arise: a. Should not all unsealed packages of food be exempt from the provisions of the law? b. Should not the net weight be confined exclusively to sealed packages? c. Will your office issue the working rules and regulations of the National Food Commission on all subjects on which the national law and the Nebraska law are in all of which is made a specialty. Yours truly, JOHN MEHLHOP, JR., Secretary.

Governor Reviews Guardsmen.

With flags flying and bands playing the National Guard of Nebraska passed in review before Governor Sheldon, commander-in-chief, this afternoon. Numerous citizens watched the soldiers march, and the general opinion is they made a most creditable showing. Wymore battery fired a salute of seventeen guns when the commander-in-chief reached the grounds. Tomorrow the encampment will come to a close and the soldiers will leave the city during the day. Officers report that the boys have made a good showing and that the encampment has been a success. In the first regiment there is considerable

Requirement to brand merely because the package is unsealed.

The Nebraska law, it is alleged, will be interpreted and enforced would subject the Nebraska consumers and merchants to a burden not contemplated by the law. It has been urged by members of the association that large proportion of package goods manufactured outside of this state were not required to be branded, and those contracts were made in good faith; that these goods are now coming into this state and the retailers and wholesalers are being forced to pay for the branding of these goods, and that some time should be given by this department for these unlawful packages to be disposed of.

Grand Island Police Awake.

Number of Arrests Result of Recent Raids—Man Charged with Assault. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—The police department made a few raids last night and as a result six men, most of whom gave fictitious names, were caught in the pool hall of Joseph Miller. The total amount of the fines imposed upon those caught in this raid was $192. Jess Doe, an employee of a carnival company playing here this week, was arrested, together with a wife less than 14 years of age, and a statutory charge is preferred against him. Six wheelmen, riding sidewalks in the outskirts of the city, have been arrested within the last few days and fined in a nominal sum and costs. They are all business or laboring men, going to their places of business early in the morning and, in the outskirts, using the sidewalks. Some of the wheelmen are threatening to retaliate and to organize for the purpose of seeing every other ordinance enforced as rigidly. They do not demand "severing," but declared that the scoffing element is never arrested.
