FREE For Three Months! "Electrical Progress"

A thoroughly up-to-date monthly publication on the subject of electricity, its progress and development, the multiple uses to which it is put at the present time and the great field of research and investment it opens to the student of the future.

You Ought to Know About Electricity and you ought to know what it is doing and proposed to do right here in our own state and at our own door. Do you know that Henry Robinson, the head of the Sewer Pipe Trust, and one of America's keenest business men, before his death began the construction of an electric line from Omaha to Lincoln, Nebraska, with his own money; that his estate is now completing the road and think so well of the investment that not one share of stock will be offered for sale. Do you know that the steam roads are short of cars for their through freight traffic, that it is almost impossible to get cars for local traffic? Sharpen your pencil and figure out what the local traffic, freight and passenger, means between Omaha and Hastings. Get out your railroad map and see how inadequately this particular territory is supplied with steam transportation. Do a little thinking in your own way.

Study the Map

The above map shows the line of the proposed Omaha & Nebraska-Central Railway. It will directly connect the fertile Platte valley with Omaha and the big trans-continental roads radiating in every direction. It will give a cheap, quick outlet for the products of this rich territory. It will increase land values for a distance of ten miles on either side of its right of way. It will afford quick connection with Omaha, the best distributing point in the west. This road will be operated with electricity.

Electricity is the Motive Power of the Future-- but that is only one of its many forms of usefulness. This is a big chance to get a fine publication without cost, on a subject which vitally interests everyone in this country. You use electricity in some manner. What do you know about it? Post your self—you can do so by filling out this coupon. Do so now. Mail at once and your name will be placed on our mailing list without delay.
