Milk Inspector Bush at Work. J. E. Bush, milk inspector, resumed his duties Monday morning. For more than a month he has been off duty as the result of an accident, which threatened to prove fatal for several days. He was thrown from a buggy and alighted on his head on the pavement.

Arm Broken and Back Out. Earnest Seldel, driver for the Omaha Building Supply company, sustained a broken arm and a number of ugly cuts on his back, when he was thrown from his wagon in a runaway accident at Fourteenth and Webster street Monday. He lives at a North Fifteenth street lodging house.

Cornish Comes to Meeting. E. J. Cornish is expected home Thursday. The regular meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners is to be held Saturday and Mr. Cornish tries to be present at each meeting.

At the meeting of the board bids will be opened for the paving of Leavenworth street between Forty-fifth and Forty-eighth streets.

Grain Movement Increases. The grain movement out of Nebraska is on in earnest. From 150,000 to 200,000 bushels of grain are shipped east out of Omaha every day and there is still an enormous amount in sight. The Northwest alone has 1,300 cars of it en route between Omaha and Chicago. It is said 5,000 cars are headed for Chicago from the west.

Dr. G. C. Hall City Veterinarian. Mayor Dahlin named Dr. C. C. Hall as city veterinarian, to succeed Dr. Rammicott. Dr. Hall is a young man who has been in Omaha for several years and is a partner in the firm of Hasky & Hall. He comes from Villisca, Ia. A brother is a practicing physician at Benson, where his father is a banker.

Order to Garbage Company. Judge Sutton has issued an order to the City Garbage company to come into court and show cause why it should not be enjoined from hauling dead animals not used for human food in the city of Omaha. The order was asked for by James T. Whalen, who claims to have a contract for hauling dead animals for the next three years.

Will of Dr. Ramacott. By the will of the late Dr. H. L. Ramacott, which has just been filed for probate in county court, the entire estate is left to the widow, Mrs. Ramacott. She has filed a petition in district court asking to be appointed executrix of the will. The property is estimated to be worth $5,500, but it is said life insurance policies will greatly increase this sum.

Oil on Roads in Omaha. Southern California is not the only place where the people put oil on their roads; Omaha is in the game, now. In Keystone park, which formerly was the farm of William Paxton, the D. V. Shales company is sprinkling the park's entire four miles of boulevards with oil, the refuse petroleum product of the gas company. It lays the dust and kills the weeds. The cost of sprinkling is $150 per mile. One application a year is all that is necessary.

Omaha Sends No Representatives. Omaha jobbers probably will have no representatives at the meeting of the South Dakota State Board of Railroad Commissioners, which will be held at Rapid City October 15, for the purpose of securing information which will help the commission prepare a schedule of freight rates for South Dakota west of the Missouri river. The rates in question are entirely local and whatever they are they will give one jobbing market an equal chance with another.

Young Woman Robbed While Asleep. Because Lora Vanett, a clerk living at 108 South Fourteenth street, took a Sunday afternoon nap with her clothes on, she was robbed of $21, which a thief was bold enough to remove from her belt without awakening the young woman or removing the cash. The money was in two $10 bills and one $1 bill. It had been hidden snugly beneath the belt without being placed in a purse. The young woman suspects a line-man who was doing some work in the building.

One-Legged Fisherman Sent Up. Frank Gurnes, a one-legged fisherman, was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail Monday morning by Judge Troup for stabbing William Bullard, a fellow angler, in a fight over the possession of a boat. The two men make their living pulling fish out of the Missouri near First and Woolworth streets and professional rivalry is said to be at the bottom of their trouble. A charge of cutting with intent to wound was first filed against Gurnes, but it was changed to the lesser offense and he pleaded guilty.

Use of Walle for Split Key. The use of two sixteen-penny nails instead of a split key to lock the pivot of a derrick is made the basis of a $5,000 damage suit brought in district court Monday by Patrick J. McElligott, administrator of the estate of James McElligott against P. J. Creighton & Sons. James McElligott was working under the defendants on a building between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, on Iard, when, according to the petition, the derrick fell and struck him on the head, causing his death. The use of the nails instead of the split key is alleged to be the cause of the accident. The suit is brought for his aged father.

Says Wife Pulped His Whiskers. Armand P. Chaon, in answer to the divorce petition recently filed by his wife, Viola, makes emphatic denial of her charges of cruelty and accuses her of acting in an unwise manner. He says once she got angry at him and jerked his whiskers as hard as she could with one hand, while she slapped his face with the other. She caused him great physical pain and mental suffering, he declares. Another time, he says, she tore the shirt from his back. He also says she got out of bed at night to put away the horse she had been driving. He declares she told him she did not love him and only wanted to get some of his money.

NO FUNDS FOR NEW FIREMEN

Not Enough for House in Process, Let Alone Another.

CHIEF SALTER EXPRESSES VIEWS

Hopes Citizens, Council and Legislature Will Awaken to the Needs of the State's Growing Metropolis.

The introduction of a resolution in the city council by Councilman Bedford calling for the erection of a fire department house at Twenty-fourth and Ames avenue has caused considerable speculation among those familiar with the condition of the fire fund. Chief Salter says all the money available for the department next year will not permit an increase in the force sufficient to man the house at Twenty-first and Lake streets, which will be ready for use about January 1. The equipment for the house is on hand, with the exception of horses and one truck; but twenty men must be added to the force before the equipment can be used, and the only funds not now appropriated or to be appropriated for ordinary expenses is $3,000. The chief says he is glad to know there is a chance for a new house at Twenty-fourth and Ames avenue, as it is absolutely necessary, since so many lumber yards and manufacturing concerns are being operated along the Belt line and the line of the Northwestern north of Ames avenue. He hopes that the construction of the house will call the attention of the people to the condition of the fund, so that the next session of the legislature may increase the amount available for fire purposes, which should not be less than $250,000, according to the chief.

At present the house nearest to the proposed site of the new house is at Thirtieth and Spaulding streets, but it is a four-man company and of little use in case of a fire on Ames avenue east of Thirtieth. The most available force is at Twenty-fourth and Cuming streets, which means a run of over a mile before the machines reach the scene of a fire on the avenue.

Hopes Council Will Observe. In this connection the chief says that he hopes the city council and others in authority will give some attention to the condition of the houses in the central part of the city. The city is paying $3,000 a year rent for the houses at Eighteenth and Harney streets. It owns part of a lot at Nineteenth and Harney, and the chief says that it should buy more ground and build a house of its own. According to his estimate, this could be done at a cost of about $60,000, which would mean $2,700 in interest on bonds and the saving in rent could be applied to the sinking fund.

The house of No. 2, between Farnam and Douglas, is another where the chief desires a change. The city already has an offer for the lot on which the house stands, and the tract is so crowded by high buildings and tracks in the alley that its use as a fire department station is becoming impossible. There is not enough room for the work and when cars are sent up the alley there is no place where material from the stables can be thrown, while men, machinery, horses and stoves are all crowded into a room not more than twenty-two feet wide. What he desires is a new house near the present site, but on a larger ground, where the equipment could be stationed. It is his desire to move the big truck from Eighteenth and Harney streets to the wholesale district and place lighter trucks on the hill, and this can be done to his satisfaction if the No. 2 house is enlarged.

BOY GLAD SIN FINDS HIM OUT

Youth Tells Judge He is Thankful He Was Caught Stealing and Promises Reform.

James Jensen, a 17-year-old boy, told Judge Kennedy in juvenile court Monday he was glad he had been caught taking money from Hayden Bros., his employers. He said he realized if he had not been detected he might have kept on until the case became very serious. He promised not only to live a straight life hereafter, but to make up the $5 more or less he had taken.

James was employed in the fruit department and failed to report all the sales he had made. He said he secured about $5 in this way. He appeared to be a very bright boy and Judge Kennedy ordered him to Rev. James Wise of South Omaha, who promised to find him a new job.

Harry Mason, Roy Gill and Raymond Ritter, all between 7 and 8 years of age, yielded to temptation long enough to take several pocketknives from Hayden Bros. and were before the juvenile court Monday. The boys had taken on their own account a few more to sell to their companions. They all said they were sorry and would never do it again and the court released them on parole.

Ruth Corey, a 15-year-old girl without parents, was taken from a Chinese restaurant on Douglas street by Probation Officer Bernstein and a complaint against her was filed by her cousin, who, according to the testimony, was the only relative that took much interest in the orphan. Ruth refused to stay with her friends and could not be controlled. She was sent to the city hall and until Judge Kennedy could find a place for her to live.

NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY

Thermometer Reminds Parties that Season is Closing.

GRAND RUSH AT THE FINISH

Field Club Finds it Necessary to Add Another Ladies' Day to Accommodate the Demands Upon It.

The thermometer for the last week, at least, has been registering chilly autumn weather, which seems to remind society that it must give its luncheon and dinner new at the clubs if it wishes to improve its last opportunities. As last chances always seem more alluring the result has been an overflow of reservations at the Field club to add an additional ladies' day this week to accommodate the crowds. Sunday night supper were well attended at the club this week, the Country club having the larger crowd. Mr. John Redick was host at one of the enjoyable suppers at the Country club, when his honor guests were Miss Ann Brown of Tennessee and Mr. and Mrs. George Redick, who have recently returned from their wedding trip. His guests were: Miss Ann Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Redick, Miss Hazel Connell, Miss Elizabeth Congdon, Miss Brownie Beas Baum, Miss Marion Connell, Miss Gwendolyn White, Miss Jean Cudaby, Miss Mary Alice Rogers, Miss Frances Nash, Miss Prentiss of Lincoln, Mr. Ed Creighton, Mr. Stanley Ineson, Mr. Paul Gallagher, Mr. Chat Silverick, Mr. Elmer Redick, Mr. Junius Brown, Mr. Willard Butler, Mr. Ed Cudaby and Mrs. Robert Dinning.

The Country club was very much entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Meadow of Lincoln. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Marshall of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Gould Dietz, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Hull, Mrs. Lydia Morrison and Stockton Hest.

With Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burns, Jr., were Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Ella Squires, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rogers and Mrs. Twitchell of Portland, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. William Redick, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sprague and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Remington had supper together.

At another table were Mrs. E. Balcombe, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gilbert and Mr. A. B. Warren.

With Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brogan was Miss Carita Curtis and Master Maurice Brogan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Martin had as their guests Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, Miss Canton of Chicago, Miss Mae Hamilton, Miss Daisy Doane, Mr. Frank Hamilton, Mr. Harry Tukey and Mrs. Sherman Canfield.

Miss Marie Crouse was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Page.

Among others having supper at the club were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Swope, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burns and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Peters.

At the Field Club.

Many reservations were made Sunday for 1 o'clock dinners at the Field club, but they were only family parties. Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Judson had six guests; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Conrad, four; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Snider, four; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Howe, six.

In the evening at supper Mr. James Allen had six guests; Mr. Thomas J. Kelly, six; Mr. Rogers, five, and Mr. R. E. Griffith, three.

PAPA DID NOT WAKE UP

John C. Nichols is Found Dead by His Little Girl, Who Tells Mamma.

John C. Nichols, Twenty-second and 8 streets, South Omaha, was found dead on his couch Sunday at 6 p. m. He was an old-time railroad man and had been in the employ of the Union Pacific for twenty-seven years. He leaves a wife and five children. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 8:30 a. m.

During his service with the road he was employed in the passenger service. He was always considered robust and had every appearance of the best of health Sunday at lunch time. He was 59 years of age. He had received a booklet of new rules from the company and was reading them over while lying on his couch, when apparently he fell asleep. Mrs. Nichols sent her little daughter in to awaken him for supper.

The little girl tried in vain. Returning to her mother she said, "Papa didn't wake up when I tickled his feet. He always did before." Mrs. Nichols hastened to him and found that his days of waking were over. The shock of the discovery nearly prostrated her.

LEAKS IN LID NOT FOUND

Where the Cap Bulged Could Not Be Discovered by the Authorities.

Twenty-five unsuccessful attempts were made Monday by Judge Bryce Crawford to learn where the lid bulged up Sunday and filled the police court with plain and fancy drinks.

But after the search for information Judge Crawford said: "The lid was off in the homes of these Omahans and we can't do much about it."

Each prisoner was asked by City Prosecutor Daniel as he passed before the judge: "Where did you get the liquor?" Only one in twenty-five thought he bought the wife-beaters, horse's necks, pousse cafes, plain panther oil or suds at a saloon, and this one said all the drink emporiums were open when he secured his exhilarating tods. The judge and city prosecutor decided that the boy secured his liquor Saturday evening and that everything was regular Sunday except the bottles kept at home for Sunday reference.

SAVING ON IZARD SEWER

Retrenchment Can Be Made, According to Figures of the City Engineer.

City Engineer Rosewater is preparing a statement in response to the request of the city council showing somewhat in detail the saving he thinks can be made in the construction of the Iard street sewer outlet.

According to the figures of the city engineer, the man who presented the lowest bid estimated too much material for the work, a surplus of sand, bricks and cement being shown by the engineer's computations. This surplus, together with the excessive price alleged by the engineer, makes a difference of about $15,000, which includes an alleged low estimate on the quantity of grading to be done and an excessive price on the work.

The report will be made at the next meeting of the council, which may be held Tuesday night, but more probably not for a week, as a majority of the councilmen are still absent from the city.

There's no chance for an argument as to whether the Bee want ads pay or not. They always pay if they ask anything consistent. There are so many people in Omaha that somebody is qualified to fit any sort of a want. If you want to find a position or somebody to fill a position; if you want to find the loser or the finder of an article; if you want to find a landlord or a tenant, try a Bee want ad.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

ONE THING NOT GOING UP

Copper is becoming cheaper, which will help the Housewives some.

Not everything in the world is increasing in price; some commodities are becoming cheaper. The fourth cut in copper in the last three months was made Saturday and the metal is 35 per cent lower than it was early in July. On July 8 the price was 35 cents a pound; now it is 22 cents. The cut has been made by the United Metals Selling company of New York, which disposes of the product of the Amalgamated Copper company.

Local hardware merchants say if the low basis continues for any length of time the price of copper goods will be lower for the consumer. This is welcome news to the housewife, for copper kitchen utensils are very expensive.
