

WINDUP OF THE CAMPAIGN

Chairmen of Both Committees Give View of Outlook.

EACH PROFESS TO BE CONFIDENT

State Food Commissioner Orders Presentation of Omaha Restaurant Men for Selling Milk Below Grade.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Following are the statements of the chairman of the respective state committees on the campaign which is closing:

"We are satisfied with the progress of the campaign. Our organization is in line and alert and will get out the republican vote. We have had the loyal support of our county committees, our republican speakers and press and we are going to win. The voters of Nebraska will not renege the party pledge made so fully and solemnly every year by the people. The record of performance made by our national and state administrations, by congress and our legislature will receive the endorsement of the loyal people of this state. WILLIAM HAYWARD.

"You can say that the chances for the success of the democratic ticket next Tuesday are exceptionally good. I don't want to make any predictions as to probabilities, because it is impossible to make a guess as to what the exact result will be. We are, however, going to win. There has not been a time in recent years when democratic sentiment is so pronounced as now. We are going to win because the people of the state want a nonpartisan judiciary and a democrat on the Board of Regents. A democrat on the bench and at the university would act as a 'watch dog,' and as a business proposition would be an advantage.

"Then people are beginning to wonder who is to blame for the present financial stringency. I have heard directly and indirectly from a number of republicans, widely scattered over the state, who think that the most effective way to end the present financial difficulty is to silently and quietly register a protest by voting the democratic ticket. I think Judge Loomis and the remainder of the state ticket will be elected. T. E. ALLEN, Chairman.

"The above statements from Chairman Hayward of the republican state committee and Chairman Allen of the democratic state committee, both confident of victory, mark the close of the campaign, with the exception of placing up the loose ends between now and Tuesday. The republican claims are based on reports received from workers all over the state with whom the state committee has been in close and almost constant touch. Very few meetings have been held by either the republicans or democrats and fewer by the minority party than the republicans, but the amount of work done by the republican state committee has been enormous. That the democrats have done more in the interests of the local candidates in those localities where they think they have a chance of success, than they have for the state ticket, is evidenced by the absence of work being done at the democratic state headquarters. W. J. BYRAN, chairman of the republican state committee, held a meeting Monday and Tuesday and the republicans will hold a big meeting in Lincoln Monday night.

Milk Below Grade. Food commissioner Johnson announced tonight that he had instructed the county attorney of Douglas county to file complaints against a number of restaurant keepers of Omaha for selling milk which does not come up to the legal requirements in the amount of butter fat contained. Among the restaurants named were the One Minute, the Chesapeake, Bon Ton, Vienna, Brown's Quick Lunch and eight others not so well known. Milk sold at these restaurants, Johnson said, contained only 7.10 per cent butter fat, when the law requires 8.4 per cent.

No Salaries in Advance. In the future if any state officer or employee draws his salary in advance, the warrant will have to be issued on a voucher which does not contain the signature of Secretary of State Junkin. Mr. Junkin announced this morning that in the future he would sign no salary warrants until the salary was due to the payee. In the case of state officers, who by the provisions of the constitution receive their salary every quarter, he said he would sign the voucher after the 10th of the third month in the quarter. It has been customary in the past for state officers to secure their pay before the quarter is ended, but Mr. Junkin has decided this is not right and therefore he will endeavor to stop the practice.

Governor Gets a Lemon. Governor Sheldon was handed a real lemon this morning by Mrs. E. C. Johnston, superintendent of the Home for the Friendless. While Mrs. Johnston has not yet been reappointed, the real significance attached to the lemon is that it was grown at the Home for the Friendless on a lemon tree three years old. The lemon measures twelve and a half inches around one way and fourteen inches the other, being more than twice the size of the ordinary lemon. The tree contained thirteen lemons and seven of them are the large size. The tree was raised at State House.

W. E. Andrews, who has been campaigning for the republican state ticket, called at the republican state headquarters and the state house today. Mr. Andrews feels no uneasiness about the present banking situation and believes conditions will be normal very shortly. Mr. Andrews said he has spoken at several road meetings and so far as he could judge there was no danger for the republican ticket, though party workers must be made to understand that it is necessary to get out the vote.

Arguments in Damage Case. FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The quo warranto proceedings brought by John Harris and others against the directors of the Fremont Drainage District, before Judge Reeder in the district court room yesterday afternoon, about fifty people, mostly property owners in the district, were present. The parties agreed upon the facts and the arguments for the purpose of organizing the case were confined to legal questions. Counsel for the relators contended that the act was unconstitutional on account of the right to vote being based on property qualifications and also argued that, granting the law was constitutional, the notice of the election for the purpose of organizing the district was not published three weeks as the statute requires. The defendants contended that the constitutionality of the law was governed by decisions of the supreme court in the irrigation law cases and that the publication of the notice for less than twenty-one days was a substantial compliance with the statute and also that the plaintiffs had no authority to bring the action. Both parties cited a lot of authorities and submitted voluminous briefs. Judge Reeder took a recess until 10 o'clock and a decision is not looking for several weeks. In any event the case will undoubtedly go to the supreme court. Both sides express themselves as being sanguine of the result.

Doctor Sued for Damages. TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—John Waidley, a farmer who lives in the western part of this county, has instituted proceedings in the district court against Dr. John Cochran of Tecumseh for damages in the sum of $1,000. He has petitioned the court for an order compelling Dr. Waidley to appear and answer to the suit. Dr. Cochran was called upon to treat his daughter, Olive, aged 16 years, on July 24 last. He administered a dose of medicine, giving her a severe case of cholera, which she died of on August 4, when she expired. The doctor denied every allegation made by Mr. Waidley. He says that when he reached the bedside of the deceased girl he found her in a very low condition, suffering with an internal injury or malady. He states that the case was beyond his power to help, and positively denied the administration of the wrong medicine.

Enlarging Fremont Normal. FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—About fifty men are employed rebuilding the Normal school. The east wing will be rebuilt full three stories in height and the space occupied by the auditorium will be used for classrooms and the commercial department on the first floor used for chapel services at present. The entire third floor of the west wing will be arranged for the chemical laboratory. The building will be under roof before the end of the month and work pushed as rapidly as possible. Several recitation rooms have been put in shape for use. The additional desks and benches in the number of rooms will fill a long felt want, as the school has been cramped for room for two years. From present indications the winter term will have a largely increased attendance.

Improvement at Hastings. HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—There has been some improvement in the financial situation here since Monday, when the banks gave only certificates or drafts in payment of checks. This rule has been modified three times and with the additional demand for cash there is no occasion for inconvenience in business transactions. Depositors are now paid up to a maximum of $5 and individual checks of all sorts are cashed for small amounts and today the banks began cashing wage checks up to a maximum of $25.

Shawnee Defense Seeks Delay. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—The attorneys for the defense in the Shawnee murder case were in consultation today with Judge Kelliger with a view to continuing the case until the December term of the court. The matter will be disposed of Monday. The attempt to secure a continuance will be made on the ground that they have not had time to secure depositions and confer with their client.

Law's Aid Sought to Stop Swearing. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—In order to break his partner of the swearing habit, M. T. Cummings, a grain dealer of this city, today filed a complaint in police court against Robert Pease. This is the first case of the kind ever filed in the city and will be tried a week from Monday.

BUCK'S Steel Ranges. Your Kitchen Range may produce heat in abundance, but what does it do with it? That is the important question to be asked. A Buck's Steel Range produces heat in abundance and uses it. It radiates it from the top of the range and into the oven, where it is needed. Heat is retained in the Range, not only by the steel itself, but by a heavy asbestos lining, which prevents the escape of the heat through the sides and bottom of the Range. And in a Buck's Steel Range this asbestos is not glued or riveted on with washers—which hold but a short time—but it is held permanently in place by a fret work of cast iron securely bolted, so that it cannot bulge or become displaced through long use. Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 4 and 5. Buck's Steel Range, Base Burners, Hot Water Heaters, by a special representative of Buck's, showing the many distinctive features of these ranges, and explaining WHY they are the best in the world. Thousands in operation. Drop in for a few minutes, even if you don't care to purchase.
