FEES PROTESTED BY HEIRS

Sixty Thousand to Executors and McHngh Excessive, They Say.

COURT DECIDES THIS MORNING

Judge Leslie Must Say Whether McShane, J. D. Creighton, Schenk and Attorney Get So Much of Count's Fortune.

While the details of the final settlement of the Count Creighton estate were decided Thursday by the stipulation for a decree signed by all the beneficiaries and heirs, the failure to agree on the fees to be allowed the executors, John D. Creighton, John A. McShane, John Schenk and Judge W. D. McHugh, attorney for the executors, may delay the formal order winding up the affairs of the estate. The controversy which has developed will not affect the distribution of the property.

Friday morning Judge McHugh asked the court to allow him $80,000 for his services. and stated he thought $60,000 a fair amount to allow the executors for their work. The law allows a commission based on the amount of property handled by the executors, and this will amount to about $28,590. Judge McHugh sald the executors had done a large amount of extraordinary work in acting as directors and officers in corporations in which the estate is interested and he thought the fee should be increased to $60,000, amounting to $00,000, to each ex-

Charles B. Keller, attorney for the unnamed heirs, objected to the fee asked by Judge McHugh, on the grounds it was excessive. He declared $15,000 to be as large a fee as the courts should allow and pointed out that the late Judge Woolworth, atterney for the executor in the Lucretta Craighton estate, received only $5,000 a year for the fees to be allowed insted until 3 o'clock and Judge Leslie took the matter under advisement, announcing he would render a

By agreement, W. F. Gurley was allowed hearing of claims filed by John D. Creighton and John A. McShane. As both the claimants were executors, they decided to have the estate represented by an attorney other than Judge McHugh.

The attorneys for the unnamed heirs filed a motion Friday morning to require the executors to set forth in detail the extra services they were asking pay for. After an extended argument Judge Leslie sus tained the motion in part and the final report was amended to include the desired

BANK OF IRELAND VICTOR Wins Point in Suit by Judge Ruling it is Beyond His Jurisdition.

Judge W. H. Munger handed down a memeranda opinion in the United States circuit court Friday morning in which he directs that the bill of Mrs. May Amanda Murphy, widow of David Murphy of Dixon county, against the Bank of Ireland be stricken from the record on the ground that the federal court has no jurisdiction in the particular question involved in this petition that she is the widow of David Murphy, who died in Dixon county, Nelarge property, personal and real. He willed that upon the death of his wife the property should be converted into cash one-half of which should be placed in the Bank of Ireland, the income of which should be paid annually into the teachers and of the Carue National School of Carne, Wexford county, Ireland.

The will was probated in Dixon county in May, 1907. Immediately thereafter Mrs. Murphy filed a plea in the county cour alleging the executor had reduced the per sonal property to cash and after the payment of all claims there remained about $12,000. She pleaded that the clause of her husband's will as to the teachers' fund be declared void and that one-half of the proceeds of the sale of the personal property be turned over to her and that her husband should be declared to have died intestate as to that portion of the will. She assailed the validity of the probate of the

CHIEF THINKS HE KILLED WOMAN

Police Are Convinced He Attacked Mins Punst and Believe He Committed the Atrocious Rummelhart Murder.

It is positively known now that Curl is guilty of at least five burglaries beside the assault on Miss Poast. He admitted the latter crime also when first arrested and questioned by Chief of Detectives Savage. This examination occurred in Chief Savage's office. Curl admitted that he had knocked down the woman with a heavy cold chisel. As he was being taken back to his cell one of the detectives remarked that the people would be apt to lynch him when they found it out. The negro's eyes opened in terror and he immediately turned had committed the assault.

Curl is anxious to plead guilty to all the charges of burglary. He is in terror of being lynched and wants to be safe within the protecting walls of the peniten-

Chief of Police Donahue and the othe officers are almost convinced that Curl is also the murderer of Miss Rummelhart. This conviction has grown stronger as Curl admitted his guilt of other crimes. But to get him to confers to this, the police admit, will be hard, because he is in terror of lynching already and believes thing could save him if he confesses the atrocious crime.
