Wheat Weaker Because of Decline on the Continental Markets.

NO MATERIAL CHANGE TODAY

Weak Reports from Liverpool Offset Bradstreets' Reports for the Week and Unensiness Developed Toward Close.

OMAHA, March 7, 1968.

There was no material change in the situation today. Wheat ruled weaker on the continued decline of the continuental markets and corn remained strong, with buying for a prospective increased demand. Wheat ruled quiet from the start with values unchanged. Weak Liverpool cables offset the bullish Bradstreet's exports report for the week. Uneasiness developed toward the close and prices declined. May wheat opened at 95%c and closed at 195%c. Corn opened strong and aggressive in spite of the weakness in other markets. Buying was general and became the main feature and strength of the market, May corn opened at 57%c and closed at 57%c. Oats ruled a trille weak and lacked any support to hold against the lower wheat market. Shipments are heavy and the movements are expected to increase. Oats opened at 55%c and closed at 55%c. Clearances were 575,230 bushels of corn, 525,000 bushels of cats, and wheat and flour equal to 235,447 bushels.

Liverpool closed %65%d lower on wheat and unchanged to %d lower on corn.

Seaboard reported 184,000 bushels wheat taken for export.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, March 7.—The wheat market broke heavily today, because of fine crop prospects in this country and bearish news from abroad. At the close May wheat was off 1% 20% Corn was % 20% c lower. Oats were off 1% C. Provisions were 5c to 25c lower.

lower.

The market opened weak because of reports of heavy shipments from Russian and Danubian ports and large offerings from Argentina. Commission houses and and Danublan ports and large offerings from Argentina. Commission houses and pit traders sold heavily when it was reported that the crop in this country was in good condition and that present prospects are favorable. Shorts also were active sellers. Many of them were forced to cover by the late advance, and they were again putting out their lines for the distant months. The cash demand was at a standstill and receipts were reported as being liberal at all points in the southwest. May wheat opened 46% to 46% clower at 18% 298% c, sold between 3% 206% c and 38% c and closed weak at 36%. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 234,000 bu. Primary receipts were $5,000 bu., against 564,000 bu. on the corresponding day one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 26c cars, against 197 cars last week and 431 cars one year ago.

The corn market was duli and prices declined more from lack of support and in sympathy with wheat than because of any bearish news. Local receipts were small and the cold weather in the northwest is said to be delaying the commencement of soring farm work, but these factors were and the cold weather in the northwest is said to be delaying the commencement of spring farm work, but these factors were offset by the lack of demand. The close was easy, May corn opened unchanged to the higher at 63%50834c, sold between 63%0 634c and 63%0, and closed at 63%0635c. Local receipts were 25 cars, with none of contract grade.

The oats market was dull and there was a general lack of support which weakened prices, although there was no especial pressure exerted. The weakness of wheat and corn was the chief influence. May oats opened a shade lower at 53%c, sold between 55c and 63%c and closed at 53%c. Local receipts were 234 cars.

The provisions market was steady at the opening, on good buying by the eastern speculators and hister prices for live hogs. Later, the weakness of grain and some selling by western packers caused a reaction. At the close May pork was 25c lower at $12.05. Lard was down 7%c at $1.87%. Ribs were 587%c lower at $1.77%66.30.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 24 cars; corn, 535 cars; oats, 431 cars; hogs, 46,000 head.

Fair Sunday and Not Much Change in Temperature.

OMAHA, March 7, 1908.

The storm, central over the upper Mississippi valley and upper lakes Friday morning, continued its rapid movement eastward during the last twenty-four hours and is disappearing off the upper Atlantic coast this morning. It was attended by high winds and severe weather over the lake region. Fifty-six miles per hour occurred in Chicago during Friday afters noon and winds approaching that velocity were general throughout the lower lake region during the night. A ridge of high pressure has extended southeastward across the country from the northwest to the east gulf states and generally clear weather prevails throughout the central and western portions. The weather is much cooler throughout the central portion. It will continue fair in this vicinity tonight and Sunday, with not much change in temperature.

Both supply and demand have been limited, and while the tone to the trade has been weak, the advance in beef steers has naturally lended to sustain values, and the bulk of cattle are selling just about the same as a week ago. Light grades have the call as usual, but the demand is limited and the tone to the market rather weak than otherwise.

For mutton grades of ewes, yearlings and wethers, the trade has been even more satisfactory than that on lambs. Prices improved from day to day so that values are 25550c higher than a week ago. The movement throughout the week was brisk and the market all around is in very good shape for this time of year when it is considered that during the Lenten season the demand is not so brisk.

A considerable number of shorn sheep and lambs are now arriving and the number will undoubtedly increase as the spring season approaches. As a basis for operations, quotations on shorn stuff are given as about 50c under wooled stock of the same grades.
