

BURLINGTON TRAIN IN DITCH

Spreading Rails Throw Cars Down Embankment at Kearney, Mo.

TWENTY PERSONS ARE INJURED

Four Receive Serious Hurts, While Others Are Able to Proceed on Their Journey— Slow Speed.

KANSAS CITY, March 7.—Burlington passenger train No. 4, which left Kansas City at 7:30 this morning for Chicago, was derailed at Kearney, Mo., twenty-five miles north of here, and went over a fifteen-foot embankment. Twenty persons were injured, four seriously.

The seriously hurt: J. D. Guiton, Kansas City, horse and mule buyer; head cut and otherwise injured.

R. E. Wilcox, Kansas City, horse buyer; hip broken, hurt internally.

Chappel, young divinity student studying at Liberty, Mo.

A traveling man from the north, name unknown, unconscious.

Robert Pratt, Hannibal, Mo., conductor; wrist sprained, severely cut.

Dr. E. D. Morris, Linneus, Mo.; head and hip hurt.

Ben S. Heaton, divinity student, Liberty, Mo.; hip wrenched, wrist and nose broken.

A. D. Campbell, Thayer, Kan.; head badly hurt.

B. P. Haddock, Liberty, Mo.; nose broken.

D. P. Huley, Liberty; hip dislocated, arm and back wrenched.

Young Ministers Hurt. Three of the injured were young preachers who were starting out from the Liberty college to fill pulpits in neighboring towns.

None of the other injured was seriously hurt, their injuries consisting mostly of cuts and bruises.

The wrecked train was made up of baggage car, smoker and two coaches. It is in an accommodation train that stops at every station between Kansas City and Chicago and was not due in Chicago until Sunday morning. The accident was caused by spreading rails. The train was not running fast and this fact probably prevented more serious results. All but the smoker turned over and went half way down the embankment.

Physicians were sent to the scene from Brookfield and Kearney. The injured were cared for promptly and placed in the smoker until they could be taken to Kearney. There they were picked up by a later train and most of them continued on their journey.

Talks about the National Corn Exposition

What the corn show means to Omaha. Omaha is situated in the very heart of the greatest corn growing section of the world. This point does not need to be argued. The National Corn Exposition does not merely "boost" Omaha; it does more. Omaha will be mentioned many thousand times by the agricultural, daily and weekly press everywhere and by the thousands of people, identifying it, as the metropolis of the region, producing the world's most valuable crop—corn. This recognition will give Omaha its due rank as an important market center.

The National Corn Association, whose members are the leading agricultural workers in many states, selected Omaha as the proper city, in which to build this, the only Exposition of its kind. The railway interests promptly proffered assistance of a very substantial character, agreeing to aid in organizing and advertising upon a more liberal scale than has been rendered to any enterprise since the days of the Transmississippi Exposition.

25,000 to 50,000 visitor will be attracted to Omaha during the Exposition. It is worth while to have these people get the habit of coming to Omaha, as the metropolis of this entire district. Omaha is an important railroad center, favored with freight rates, that command the world's markets for the surplus products of the west. Foreign markets may be reached on through rates, thus opening the world's markets for the surplus grain and live stock.

Omaha is an established market for grain, live stock and many other farm products. A good market helps to develop a great city. How is Omaha to develop her markets? Not by opening new farm lands, for there is practically no more desirable, new land to be had. The acres already being farmed must have more intensive cultivation and care. Each acre must yield a few more bushels of corn, or other grain; more live stock must be grown and fed upon each farm, if the Omaha markets are to be expanded; a few more pounds of butter must be sold off each farm, if the thousands of city people are to be fed three times a day.

More and more must we realize the importance of the food problem. As we look into the future, only a few years hence when the population of the United States will be double that of today, where is this food supply to come from? Not from more acres, but more cereals, more meat, more butter and milk and more fruit and vegetables from the acres already under cultivation.

It is not enough for us to consider the food supply for Omaha alone. The other great cities look to this market, situated, as it is, in the center of a rich, productive country. This market should supply not only American cities, but also the hungry of the United Kingdom and continental Europe.

The cost of food supply must not be increased or thousands of people will go hungry and hunger is the advance guard of anarchy. Larger yields always follow a well directed effort to win prizes where better quality is the object.

A better crop on a one-tenth acre plot demonstrates the increased profit, that may be had, on a forty-acre field. The forty-acre field will serve as the object lesson with many neighbors. We cannot expect such a development to be brought about by mere accident. It will come, as a result of organization and a well-directed movement, such as is now being carried out through the members of the National Corn Association, who are the leading agricultural workers in the several states. The Exposition at Omaha will be the expression of this movement and is not the whole movement itself, but it is a showing of the result of the effort.

The Exposition is given with the idea of stimulating thousands of other growers of cereal crops to study the result of careful and intelligent farming. The prizes offered by the exposition will stimulate grain growers to work that would never be done otherwise. The grower who wins a prize, even though it is not a large prize, stretches up a notch or two. They have beaten their own record and set a new standard for themselves.

Every prize carries with it a stimulating influence that means larger and more profitable crops, better quality and a desire to set a still higher notch for the betterment of agriculture. Thousands will compete for the medal awards, cash and merchandise premiums at the National Corn Exposition to be held in Omaha next December.

Omaha has an opportunity which has never come to it before. Through the National Corn Exposition, it is not only in a position to work for the agricultural interests of our neighbors, but to work with them. It will create a different attitude toward Omaha in the minds of the people of Nebraska, and Iowa particularly; a feeling that Omaha is doing something really worth while for the benefit of the whole community.

This is the sixth of a series of advertisements, which will be published, giving information regarding what the National Corn Exposition is and what it means to you and the whole United States. HEADQUARTERS, ROOM 606, BEE BUILDING, OMAHA. TEL. DOUGLAS 2527.

Shirts Ironed by Hand

DEAR SIR—With the ever-present wish to make The Model Laundry all that the name implies, we have added a Hand Shirt Ironing Department.

While the ironing process is but one of many through which a shirt must pass in the course of its laundering, it is by far the most important. In the ordinary process of ironing or pressing by machine, time is an important factor. In the hand process each individual article receives the undivided attention of the operator. The bosom must have special and careful attention; the neckband and the wristbands or cuffs, if there be cuffs attached, each in turn require extra care. The hand process is tedious and requires much more time, but the hand-ironed shirt will fit better, will feel more comfortable and will wear longer.

We intend to make this department a success by turning out only the highest quality of work. The keynote of the department will be not quantity, but quality of workmanship. It will be under the direct supervision of an expert hand ironer who has made this part of the work a special study. Send us a trial order; you will be pleased with the result. The very small additional cost of having your shirts ironed by hand will be more than balanced by the neat appearance and increased life of the shirt. You can reach us by telephone, Douglas 628 or Independent A1625. Be sure to notify the driver, or the office that you wish your shirts ironed by hand. Yours truly,

To Persons Driving Vehicles

At this season of the year street car tracks are apt to be very slippery owing to atmospheric conditions, and it is impossible, therefore, to stop a car as promptly as ordinarily.

REMEMBER that a street car is confined to the track and that the Motorman cannot turn out or stop his car instantly when "cut off" by a vehicle.

Do not rely upon the motorman to save you from the consequences of your own carelessness—he may not be able to do so.
