REALTY MEN OPEN PURSE

Pledge Financial Help to Corn Show and Auditorium.

F. D. WEAD BOOSTS FOR LATTER

S. G. Wallace Says Exchange Does Lots of Talking, but is Tight When it Comes to Handing Out Money.

By unanimous vote of the members of the Omaha Real Estate exchange, the members will go behind the National Corn exhibition with $1,500 or more, the amount asked by the association and also $1,000 for the completion of the Auditorium.

Short address by F. D. Wead, President W. F. Graham, John McCague, Byron Hastings and G. G. Wallace led to the action taken by the exchange at its noonday meeting Wednesday and before the members left the room some half dozen subscriptions to the guaranty fund of the corn show were received by the secretary.

When the committee report of the $1,500 subscription to the Auditorium second mortgage bonds was given, a bucket of cold water was thrown by H. B. Payne who said:

CUPRES

UPON EVERY BOTTLE

UPON EVERY BOTTLE

is printed the above design and the number 202. The design is our trademark, and 202 is our guaranty number. The medicine contained in each bottle will cure Coughs, Colds and all Bronchial troubles more quickly and effectually than any other remedy.

suggest that the committee be continued and instructed to raise the $1,000 at once. Mr. Wead also said that there was a misconception as to the Auditorium association and Mr. Payne had undoubtedly got the misconception. He moved that Manager Gillen be invited to speak to the exchange next Wednesday and explain the affairs of the Auditorium. Mr. Wead said the second mortgage bonds offered to complete the building were a good security, bearing 5 per cent interest.

"The ground alone cost $20,000 and the building over $200,000," said Mr. Wead. "Now, the mistake was in not placing a larger loan on the property in the first place, but the association only borrowed $50,000. The sale of the second mortgage bonds will bring the loan to $200,000. The property is undoubtedly worth three times that amount, and $200,000 is about to be spent in improvements."

G. G. Wallace said he was thunderstruck, or received some other kind of shock, when President F. A. Nash of the Auditorium association made the statement that the real estate dealers had only subscribed $50 to the building of the Auditorium.

More Talk Than Money.

"We do a lot of talking," said Mr. Wallace, "but outside of the money which we have raised to fight tax laws and suits, we don't come in very readily for these public enterprises, and it is time we showed the color of our money on some of them before we get the reputation of doing nothing but talk."

Then President Graham played his cards for the corn show: "This exchange has been asked to subscribe $1,500 to the guaranty fund of the National Corn exposition. I think you will believe we believe we have Omaha more advertising than anything since the Transmississippi exposition. This is a small amount of money—to small for us to discuss. The only thing left to do is to put it up. I believe I am on the committee to secure the amount, if I am its chairman, I will say that we won't have time to come around and see every member of the exchange several times to get a $50 subscription for the corn show. We know it is a good thing, and will probably bring all the money back. Anyway, we ought to put up without the committee going around and getting evasive answers."
