

MOVE AGAINST BUCKET SHOPS

Dealers Claim Government Campaign is Country-Wide.

TICKERS ARE STILL WORKING

Manager for Gooch Says that Ticker is Furnished at No Much Per Week to Anyone Who Wants It.

Omaha concerns receiving the service of the gold and stock ticker service continue to get quotations despite the sensational revelations which accompanied the raid made by the Department of Justice officials on three bucket shops in New York.

"That affair in New York with the Department of Justice is centered in the District of Columbia, which is the only place in the United States where the statutes prohibit the handling of that business. It does not mean anything here."

"That 'Marrin' wire, as they call it, probably refers to a wire which used to operate as far west as Cincinnati, turning thence south to New Orleans. That wire never came into Omaha."

According to messages from New York, the Consolidated exchange was able to continue service by obtaining quotations through Montreal, Can., where they are furnished to subscribers of the Gold and Stock Ticker company's subscribers.

Some of the Omaha grain dealers and brokers declare that the raid in New York means a country wide campaign against the "bucket shop" by the federal government.

LITHUANIAN PRIEST IS ORDAINED BY THE BISHOP

Rev. George Jonaitis to Have Charge of St. Anthony's Lithuanian Church at South Omaha.

Rev. George Jonaitis of South Omaha was ordained a Roman Catholic priest Monday morning at 9 o'clock in the chapel of the Sacred Heart convent by Bishop Scannell. He leaves the city Monday night for his former home in South Boston, where he will celebrate his first mass in the Gate of Heaven church on May 8, after which he will return to South Omaha and take charge of St. Anthony's Lithuanian church.

This will be the first time that the Lithuanians will have a priest of their own nationality and they are highly elated over the event. Father Jonaitis was born in Lithuania and came to America when 15 years old. He attended Boston college in Boston for eight years, being a graduate of the preparatory and collegiate departments. After finishing his academic studies he spent six years at St. Paul's seminary, St. Paul, Minn.

The ordination service was conducted by the bishop, who preached a short sermon suitable to the occasion. He was assisted by Right Rev. Monsignor Colaneri, Rev. P. S. Stenson, Rev. Charles Muzan, Rev. Michael Gluba, Rev. Bernard Sinne, Rev. Stephen Dowd and Rev. John Zadotnik.

Speakers Ready for the Interstate Oratorical Meet

Winners in Different State Contests Meet in Omaha for the Final Fray.

The annual interstate oratorical contest, in which the winners of ten state contests are to take part, is to be held in Omaha May 20. The contest will bring a large number of college men to Omaha, which will send fourteen men to participate.

Professor Claude J. Pomin of Creighton university is taking an active part in the making of arrangements for the holding of the contest here. The meet is to be held in the Brandeis theater.

The states to be represented are Nebraska, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Kansas and Missouri.

The annual debate has been an affair of importance in the collegiate circles of the west since 1874. Many men now numbered among the great of the country have been contestants in the intercollegiate debate. Colonel W. J. Bryan represented Illinois State university as an "also ran" in the contest of 1884. Former Governor Yates of Illinois, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and Senator Beveridge of Indiana are numbered among the winners of past contests.

The contest on May 20 here will be the first to have been held in Omaha and probably it will be many years before it can be held here again owing to the large number of cities included in the district.

Nebraska is to be represented by Frank P. Matthews of Creighton university, the winner in the state contest held in Omaha.

Man Defended Dog; Acquitted

Stanley J. Hruby Held to Be Innocent of Assault Against Carrier Who Kicked His Pet.

Stanley J. Hruby was acquitted in the United States district court Monday morning of the charge of assaulting Arthur Asher, a mail carrier. The mail carrier had been attacked by Hruby's dog, it is alleged, and the carrier proceeded to do up the dog, when Hruby came to the defense of the dog. The alleged assault was not a serious one, and Hruby claimed that he merely pushed Asher away with one hand while he pulled the dog away from Asher with the other hand. The case was tried before a jury. The jury was out but after fifteen minutes and came in with a verdict of not guilty.

The next case to be tried in the district court is the United States against Stafford, Rhodus and Tippery, charged with conspiracy to introduce liquor onto the Omaha Indian reservation. The hearing is set for Monday afternoon.

WILL PROBE OMAHA'S SKY

Weather Bureau to Send Up Sounding Balloons Here.

TEN DAYS OF EXPERIMENT

Profs. Wood and Gregg of Virginia Here to Conduct Series of Investigation in the Upper Air.

Profs. C. S. Woods and W. R. Gregg of the weather bureau experimental station at Mount Weather, Va., are in Omaha for the purpose of sending up a number of small balloons with weather and temperature recording instruments attached for the purpose of gathering meteorological data in the upper air strata. About twenty of the balloons will be sent up from Fort Omaha, where they will be properly inflated with hydrogen gas. These will be free balloons of sufficient size and strength to reach the highest possible altitudes and carry the automatic recording instruments.

Similar experiments will be made at several other points throughout the country. With these balloons will be attached notes and instructions, asking the finders to return the balloons to Mount Weather with the instruments, at the government expense, immediately upon their being found. One Balloon is Lost.

Of the fifteen or twenty similar balloons sent up from Fort Omaha last year all were returned to Mount Weather Va., by the finders here. One this one is supposed to have been lost in the river or lake. One of the Omaha balloons sent up last year reached an altitude of fifteen miles, the highest of any that were released in and part of the country. This balloon was recovered at Palmyra, Mo., near the Mississippi river, about 400 miles east of Omaha.

The experiments will begin this week and will continue about ten days.

Beat the Jump, but Broke His Leg

S. V. Fullaway Lies at St. Joseph's Hospital as Result of Athletic Test.

"I'll beat that mark if it takes a leg," exclaimed S. Vanstone Fullaway, a Union Pacific clerk, while indulging in some amateur athletics with a boarding house group at his home, 1015 Park avenue.

He jumped, beat the mark, and—broke a leg. Mr. Fullaway is at St. Joseph's hospital under treatment for what the surgeons declare is a most remarkable accident, the breaking of his knee cap.

The tiny saucer-shaped bone which covers the knee joint is split directly across the center. The fracture is the result of the opposing strains of various muscles under extraordinary tension.

The break has been patched with silver wire and in time the bone is expected to knit.

Sheldon Favors More Policemen

Councilman's Experience with Highwaymen Leads Him to Think Outskirts Unprotected.

"I didn't yell because I expected a policeman to come, as I know that Omaha doesn't have police in the outlying sections of the city, where murder could be done at most any spot without police interference," remarked Councilman Sheldon, discussing his recent hold-up. "Some day, perhaps, we'll change this condition. And there ought to be some way to round up these desperate characters that go out after a little change with guns in their hands. In other states and cities gun toters are being taken care of with the heaviest kind of penalties, and they should be here. A man might not have a 5-cent piece on him, and yet be killed or very seriously injured before the robbers could ascertain that fact. I don't want any more of the hold-up joy in mine."
