Weddings of Three Members of Same Family Announced

Three weddings will take place within the next few months in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Weller.

Two of the announcements were made at the luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Frederick W. Clark at her home in honor of her sisters, Miss Agnes Weller and Mrs. Ruth Fleishell and for Miss Eleanor Jaquith, whom married to Mr. Clifford Weller last week in June.

The marriage of Mrs. Ruth Fleishell to Mr. Bert Walker of Syracuse, N. Y., will take place the latter part of June or the first of July. The marriage of Miss Agnes Weller to Mr. Hugh Thomas of Denver, Colo., will be celebrated in the autumn.

The announcement of these engagements comes as a surprise to all but a few of their intimate friends.

All three of the brides-to-be are members of the Mendelssohn choir and are accomplished musicians. Mrs. Fleishell returned last autumn from year's stay at Padua and spent last winter in the south, returning home a few weeks ago.

At the luncheon the table was effectively trimmed with a huge centerpiece of red geraniums, daisies and ferns. Hidden among the blossoms were miniature brides with their veils. At each place were riddles in rhyme with the names of the brides-to-be.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Ruth Weller-Fleishell, Miss Agnes Weller, Miss Eleanor Jaquith, Mrs. Jaquith, Miss Alice Fawcett, Mrs. William Hill Clarke, Mrs. Harry Weller, Mrs. Bradner Slaughter, Mrs. C. K. Weller, Mrs. Annetta Gilmore, Miss Fleishell, Mrs. C. F. Weller and Mrs. F. W. Clark.

The many friends of the young people regret that all are to reside in other cities. Mr. Clifford Weller, who resides in Omaha at present, will take charge of his father's business interests at Weller, Colo.

Again the Side-Saddle

JUST as the western custom of riding astride is gaining more and more advocates among the eastern equestrians, a western woman has proclaimed against it, declaring that the side saddle is both safer and saner. This rider, who belongs in the circus arena, says that to ride astride is better and more restful, but for my part I do not think that there is anything which gives you the full exercise and brings all the muscles into play like riding as our mothers did.

side of my mount, so that I can throw myself off in a fraction of a second should anything go wrong. "I have always ridden side saddle, even in the west, where I was born, and after I was married and moved to Texas I kept it up. There are lots of women, I know, who claim that to ride astride is better and more restful, but for my part I do not think that there is anything which gives you the full exercise and brings all the muscles into play like riding as our mothers did.

Woman's Work

Activities of the Organized Bodies Along the Lines of Undertaking of Concern to Women.

The committee in charge of the preparation of the Young Women's Christian association bungalow and summer camp at Carter's lake—the gymnasium committee—has visited the completed bungalow, approves the work and now announces that the formal opening will be May 20. During the afternoon and evening of the day the bungalow will be open to inspection by the directors and members of the association.

When the committee made its tour of inspection yesterday, its members combined business and pleasure, taking with them basket lunches for a picnic. Mrs. Emma Byers, Miss Frances Crittenden and Mrs. George Tilden were guests and assisted in the ceremonies of approval.

The furnishings for the bungalow have all been given by friends, but these will not be put in place until shortly before the beginning of the camping season, June 1.

The grand chapter of Nebraska, Order of Eastern Star, completed its thirty-fifth annual meeting by installation of the new officers Thursday. The meeting is pronounced both the largest and most interesting of the thirty-five held and indicated a growth of members in Nebraska. The next meeting is to be held at Lincoln.

Mrs. Anna Evans of Dakota City is the new grand matron; Oscar Allen of Omaha, grand patron; Mrs. Carrie Wright of Schuyler, associate grand matron; Ben L. Terry of Alexandria, associate grand patron; Mrs. Anna C. Simpson of Omaha, grand secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Gamble of Plattsmouth, grand conductress; Miss Mable Doty of David City, associate grand conductress.

The Omaha Women's Christian Temperance union is promoting interest in the visit to Omaha of the lecturer and organizer for the National American Woman Suffrage association, Dr. Barton O. Aylesworth, and has arranged for him to speak at the Young Women's Christian association auditorium Tuesday afternoon. This lecture, which is free and open to all interested, will be on "Woman and the Ballot in Colorado."

This meeting is to be one in the series which Dr. Aylesworth is to give in Omaha in promotion of the cause. Already arrangements have been made for him to speak before the Central Labor union at its meeting May 20 and pastor meetings and other public talks are being arranged for next week.

The program for the musical entertainment which is to be given by the Boys' club of St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, "The Grand Bonneters," at the Young Women's Christian association this evening, is:

P. E. O. will hold a business meeting Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. A. Bryans, 1911 Emmet street.

The last of the series of nature study talks, which has been given at the Young Women's Christian association, will be a talk by Rev. Dr. E. H. Jenks, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, on "Nature in the Bible," May 20. The talks given heretofore have been for the members of the association, but an exception is made for this closing one, and the invitation is to all Bible students. The talk which Rabbi Frederick Cohn of Temple Israel gave at the association last evening also was of this course. He spoke on "Nature in Browning."

Yellow Spun Sugar Neats. Put half a pound of granulated sugar into a clean copper saucepan, add one gill of water and allow it to dissolve. Bring it to the boil, add a pinch of cream of tartar, remove the scum and continue to boil till it registers 200 degrees Fahrenheit, or when dropped into cold water it hardens, then add a few drops of yellow coloring. Now take a fork or spoon and throw the sugar lightly on an oiled rolling pin or oiled handle of a large wooden spoon.

Wedding Bells

Sweet Chimes Ring for Happy Couples Known in Omaha and Announcements of Others Are Made.

A pretty home wedding was celebrated Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Huntington, 38 Donaldson avenue, Rutherford, N. J., when their sister, Miss Ruth Jean Ball, formerly of this city, and Mr. John Wesley Van Camp, also a former resident of Omaha but now of Sioux Falls, S. D., were united in marriage by the Rev. Mr. Maschman of Forest Hill, N. J.

Owing to the ill health of the bride's mother, Mrs. B. R. Ball, the wedding was a quiet one. The bride was attired in a gown of point d'esprit and looked charming as she entered the drawing room with her brother, Mr. W. R. Huntington. Her only attendant was her little niece, Miss Alice Huntington, who wore a white tulle dress over pink and carried the ring in a pink rose. The musical program, rendered by Miss Bessie Huntington of East Orange, N. J., consisted of the Lohengrin bridal march, preceded by Sigmund's love song from "Die Walkure," and after the service Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Mr. and Mrs. Van Camp left immediately after the wedding supper for their new home in South Dakota.

Mrs. S. F. Robinson announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Maude Pauline Robinson, to Mr. James E. Mather of Waterloo, S. D. The wedding will take place Saturday evening, May 28, at the home of the bride's mother, 2615 Harney street.

The wedding of Miss Minnie Van Housen and Mr. D. C. Chase, both of Stanton, Neb., took place Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Dawson.

For the Future

Events of Interest That Are On The Local Social Calendar That Promise Much of Pleasure.

Many parties will be given this evening to attend the lecture at the Auditorium by Sir Ernest Shackleton. Several dinner parties will be given at Fort Omaha and the guests will attend the lecture afterward.

Complimentary to Miss Sims and Miss Bradford of Pontiac, Ill., guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Baum, Jr., will entertain at dinner at the Field club Saturday evening.

The Chamolis Glove. The washed chamolis glove in yellow and white is an admirable adjunct to our wardrobe. It solves the problem of how to keep gloves clean without expense. The time involved in washing them is so small that it can not be counted and the delight of feeling fresh gloves against the hand each day is understood by every woman.

The cheaper gloves do not last and therefore they are not a good investment. The chamolis is thin in places and with a few washings it wears through in holes that are impossible to mend.

A mistake is often made of blowing into the gloves when they are wet and hanging them to dry in this shape. If a woman has a short, fat hand she will not object to the result, but if she has a long, slender one she will be thoroughly discouraged. She will find that the fingers are only half as long as they should be; that the button is up on the palm and that the thumb is square instead of oblong.

While it is well to blow in the gloves to separate the chamolis on the inside of the fingers, the latter should be put into shape before drying.

No external application is equal to Chamolis Lotion for sore muscles or swollen joints.

Fish Wear Out a Bridge. John Shafer, jr., deputy in the office of County Surveyor Frank Haycock of Hennepin county, says that fish have butted and rubbed up against the piles of the bridge at Orono, Lake Minnetonka, until that level of the bridge has become weakened, necessitating its closing.

Shafer and Edward Terrell, another deputy, were sent out to inspect the span. "Yes, sir," said Shafer, "those fish kept on butting up against that pier until the wood was almost worn away in order to get there we had to pound in the water around the place to keep the fishny things away until we could finish our inspection."

Why, those fish are so numerous at Minnetonka this year that they get pushed through the narrow passage so swift that they simply wear out the wood.—St. Paul Dispatch.

McCREA SETTLEMENT TANGLE

Friends of Accountant Disagree with Demands of Company.

OFFICERS HOLD CONSULTATION Live Stock Concern and Lawyers Meet to Discuss Situation—Van Alstine Collecting Pledges of Aid.

Negotiations to settle the defalcation of William McCrea, the South Omaha live stock accountant, were fruitlessly pursued all day yesterday, but will be continued in the hope that an agreement may ultimately be reached. The amount of money to be paid by his friends is the bone of contention.

The conference was held in the offices of the Trans-Mississippi Grain company, of which E. S. Westbrock is secretary. Mr. Westbrock is also secretary of the Omaha Live Stock Commission company, from which McCrea embezzled.

At the meeting were A. C. Pancoast, McCrea's attorney; Mr. Westbrock, Arthur Rogers, who is president of the live stock company; J. A. Galbraith and Alvin F. Johnson, who represent the National Surety company, and J. B. Blanchard, who was president of the commission company until the first of this month.

"Just think of what McCrea has been through," said Mr. Blanchard to reporters. "Imagine his feelings on waking up and finding himself alive after he had swallowed those pills."

Securing of pledges to make up the shortage continued actively Friday. C. H. Van Alstine, a live stock man, leading the work. A considerable sum has so far been promised, but it is said to be not as much as is insisted by the surety company. It was rumored for a while Friday that further examination of the books showed the shortage was not as large as declared the day before, but this was later authoritatively denied.

Auto Speeders Are Hard Hit

Judge Crawford Continues to Penalize Those Who Exceed the Speed Limit.

The stern penalizing of automobile speeders was continued by Judge Crawford yesterday with a fine of $25 and costs each upon two defendants. L. W. Parsons, manager of an auto concern in Council Bluffs, was first to be fined. He was charged with having exceeded the speed limit by a wide margin. J. W. McNeill, charged with having run down a citizen, also was given the fine.

Ish Squabble

Rouses Lawyers to Angry Words to Angry Words

English Insists He Will Not Call a Witness Because Connell Asks It.

Three more witnesses for the state testified Friday morning against James Ish, repeating the story previously told that Ish struck Elmer A. Johnson with a policeman's billy while Ish stood behind Johnson.

The state rested at 11:30, a squabble ensuing as to the calling of Dr. Porter. "We insist," said W. J. Connell for the defense, "that the prosecution call Dr. Porter, who knows more about Mr. Johnson's alleged injuries than anyone else."

County Attorney English asserted he was quite willing to put Dr. Porter on the stand and said he had been called as a witness, had been present the afternoon before and that attempts to get him on the telephone during the morning had failed.

"We have no objection to his testimony," continued Mr. English, "but we will not stand for the position of the defense, that it can dictate whom the state shall or shall not call as witnesses."

Mr. English also referred to Dr. Porter as the Ish family physician and was denounced for this by the other attorney as being prejudicial to the jury.

When Mr. English had declared the motion of the defense, "the most extravagant proposition he had ever heard in this court room," Judge Estelle suggested that Dr. Porter had just entered the room.

"We'll call him, then," said the county attorney, "but not because Mr. Connell says we shall."

But it developed that Dr. Porter had not come in and a ruling on the matter was deferred by the court.

Cyrus Haynor, an old colored man employed to take care of the Ish cow, was the first witness for the defense.

received bills. The plunderer is thought to have been part of the harvest reaped by pickpockets from the crowded street cars going to or coming from the ball game. There was no money in either of the pocket books.
