

LABOR AT GOSPEL MEETING

Ten Thousand Industrial Workers Attend Presbyterian Service.

UNIONS SEND BIG DELEGATIONS

Mechanics and Laborers March to the Hall Two Thousand Strong—Working Day is Called Too Long.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—Ten thousand persons filled the auditorium of the "Million Dollar Play" today to attend the mass meeting for labor, the greatest popular meeting of the Presbyterian General assembly. Charles F. Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor, did not appear to deliver his scheduled address on "The Conservation of National Life."

A slight illness was given as the reason of his nonappearance by Congressman Bennett of New York, who declared that he was speaking for the cabinet officer when he said that the national turmoil over conservation of forests and national reservations is not nearly as important as the conserving of human life throughout the country.

Congressman Bennett hinted that "the coming report of the commission on immigration, which has been studying conditions in American factories, is likely to create a sensation in the number of preventable deaths caused in factories."

Industrial Wrongs

Rev. Charles Stielze, superintendent of the Department of Commerce and Labor of the Presbyterian church, said that "When 30,000 industrial workers are killed every year, it means that there is something wrong in our industrial system. In some cases it is nothing short of murder. The railways of America alone kill nearly 12,000 people every year and injure 120,000 persons."

"The present working day, from a physiological standpoint, is too long," continued the Rev. Stielze. "It keeps the majority of men and women in a constant state of over-fatigue, it leads to the craving of means for deadening fatigue and induces drunkenness and other excesses."

Officials of the Atlantic City Central Labor union led a delegation of 2,000 mechanics and laborers, who attended the meeting. Moderator Charles Little preached his annual sermon at the men's religious meeting, held on the steel pier, and appealed for the return to the simple life as a panacea for modern ills in both industrial and social life.

World's Churches Unite

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Churches in every clime echoed the precepts of the World's Sunday School association, which is holding its sixth convention at Washington, by the observance through a common form of service of the World's Sunday School day.

In this city, the scene of the convention, services were conducted in all the Protestant churches. The devotions began at 7:30 this morning, when in many of the churches the sacrament of the Lord's supper was observed.

Delegates from the executive committee of the convention visited every Sunday school and there were missionary rallies for boys and girls during the afternoon, and in the evening missionary meetings in more than 100 churches were addressed by foreign missionaries fresh from the field.

The work began with a sunrise prayer meeting at a hotel, at which the Rev. S. D. Zwerner, for many years a missionary in Arabia, presided, and prayers were made for all Moslem world.

All the services were strictly international in their color. Practically every Protestant denomination was represented and it was estimated that fifty-one nationalities were gathered.

Some of the foreign workers who spoke at meetings were: Prof. Alberto Cioi, Italy; Prof. J. H. Chittambar, India; Prof. T. H. Yun, president of the Anglo-Korean school in Korea; the Rev. N. Tamura, Japan; the Rev. N. E. Pressley, Mexico; Francis Connell of the Stockport (England) Sunday school, the largest in the world; George Winstone, New Zealand; the Rev. Aquila Lucas, West Indies; the Rev. J. Paul Cook, Algeria; the Rev. J. Monroe Gibson, London.

Big Family Party Sails Briny Deep

Twenty-six in Group Ride to Dock in Twelve Taxicabs—Passage Costs $5,000.

NEW YORK, May 23.—One of the largest family parties that has ever sailed out of this port, and certainly the biggest that went in the first cabin of a liner, departed yesterday on the Hamburg-American steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria. It was composed of General Ismael Montes, Bolivian minister to France, his five daughters, three sons and the wife of one of them. Besides the Montes there was the sister-in-law of the minister, Mrs. Zalles, with her husband and nine other members of the Zalles family, most of them the wives of sons, who are remaining for the time in their South American homes.

It looked like a small army when a dozen taxicabs brought the family to the Hoboken pier and more than two trucks were required to take their baggage from Manhattan to the ship. There were five servants in the party and this swelled the number to twenty-six. The party took up fifteen staterooms and their passage cost nearly $5,000.

Milwaukee Young Woman Meets Fiance at Railway Station With Detective.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Miss Mayme Eyeron played detective so successfully that today she was able to hand down her former fiance, Walter Kutriched, to the police when he arrived here from San Francisco. Both are 21 and their homes are in Milwaukee.

Miss Eyeron accuses Kutriched of obtaining $500 from her a week ago by false pretenses. She learned of his whereabouts and wrote him, offering forgiveness and asking him to return. She met him at the depot today in company with Detective Gorman of Milwaukee, who placed him under arrest and returned with him to Milwaukee tonight.

New Police Rule is Laid Down by Chief Donahue

Plain Intoxication Not to Be Treated as Serious Offense by Officials.

Kansas City Heiress Sent to Europe, But She Still Loves William Fairleigh of St. Joseph.

Chief Kohler of Cleveland, O., was a prominent figure at the recent convention of police chiefs, owing to the amount of discussion his "golden rule" method of police work, propounded at the last convention, aroused.

"What do you think of this golden rule?" Chief Donahue was asked. "Golden rule?" he replied, with an exclamation. "Why, it is simply common sense, simply allowing the police officers at the station to exercise the common sense with which the Creator has endowed them instead of having them obliged to abide by a fixed rule without the opportunity of a shade of variation from it."

"Let me give you an illustration of what I mean. This (Saturday) afternoon a man was brought into the station drunk, but not incapable, while I was there. He said he was a farmer from Iowa and bore every evidence of the truthfulness of his statement. Now if that man had been held until Monday morning, look at the meanness of his family, and all that could be charged against him was that when he came to Omaha to spend his money for the benefit of the traders of the city he happened to take too much liquor. Would it have helped the improvement of the man's character if he had been kept in a cell at the police station until Monday? I don't think it would. Consequently, I had the man put on a car and sent to the depot. Now, I think that man's experience with the Omaha police will have more effect, morally, upon his character than if he had been immured in a cell for two days."

"This incident will give an idea of what police methods should be, the methods which have come to be known by the picturesque name of the 'golden rule.' But there are difficulties and those difficulties will add to responsibility and be a test of the discretion of the officers at the police station."

"For instance, an officer picks up a man drunk on the street; it would not be right that the officer should send that man home before he brought him to the station. Supposing that man had money and had lost it, would not the public be inclined to suggest that the officer had helped himself. These are among the points on which the application of the 'golden rule' must be safeguarded."

"Therefore, what I mean by the golden rule in a practical sense is that a man who has worked steady throughout the week should not be placed in jeopardy of losing his job because on a Saturday he may have crossed the border line and rendered himself liable to arrest, detention and appearance Monday morning under bond."

"The sentiment that has led me to give thought to the 'golden rule,' or rather, as I should call it, the common sense police method."

New King Begins Rule with Deed of Forgiveness

George V Grants Remission of Sentences to Prisoners—Issues Letter to His People.

LONDON, May 23.—King George has commenced his reign with an act of clemency, granting remission of short sentences and reduction of others throughout the kingdom, these including the army and navy. He has also issued a touching letter "To My People," expressing grateful appreciation of the affection and loving devotion the nation has shown in the face of "a sorrow so sudden and unlooked for that it might well have been overwhelming."

"But the sentiment it has invoked," continues the king, "has made me realize that it is a loss common to me and my people. They share it with me; I do not stand alone. With such thoughts I take courage and hopefully look to the future, strong in my faith in God, trusting my people and cherishing the laws and constitution of my beloved country."

It is announced that King George intends to maintain a royal racing stable at New Market and a breeding station at Sandringham, and that he will patronize racing on the same extensive scale as his father.

KILLS SELF OVER LOVE OF GIRL HE HAD NEVER SEEN

Kansas City Youth Jumps Into River When He Falls to Hear From Sweetheart.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 23.—Love for a girl he had never seen caused Thomas Cindrich to commit suicide by jumping into the Kaw river here today.

Cindrich came here from Ogulin, Croatia, a few years ago. Becoming homesick he appealed to Mrs. Matthew Bidack, the wife of a fellow countryman, to find him a sweetheart. She described several of her friends who were back in the old country and Cindrich selected the one he thought he would like to marry.

Mrs. Bidack took up the young man's cause, and courting the girl by word of mouth he secured her consent to wed the bashful and saddened young man. Eighty dollars with which to pay the fare to this country was forwarded the girl. That was three weeks ago. No tidings came from Cindrich's fiancée. He became despondent, thinking she had died. For three nights he did not sleep. Hope deserted him.

PHYSICIANS UNDER ARREST

Dr. P. L. Jolly of Hamburg, Ia., Charged With Murder of Mrs. Perry Noblitt.

CRESTON, Ia., May 23.—(Special.)—As the result of the death of Mrs. Perry Noblitt of Hamburg, last Wednesday night, and the subsequent suicide of her husband, who, it was learned, was shot by himself, Dr. P. L. Jolly, a well known physician of Hamburg, is under arrest in the city jail at Hamburg, charged with the murder of Mrs. Noblitt. It is alleged Jolly performed a criminal operation upon Mrs. Noblitt, causing her death, and a note was found after the bodies were discovered indicating that this, and the husband's grief over the manner of the death, was the cause of his suicide. All the parties are prominent there and the charges have created a big sensation.

Newly Wedded and Bereaved Prey of Swindlers

Men Charged with Sending Packages of Cheap Jewelry Collect—Several Received in Omaha.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Leon Kewney, said to be a member of a well-to-do Indiana family and related to the nobility of Germany, is under arrest here on the charge of operating an extensive confidence scheme. The police say he crossed and implicated two other men, who are being sought.

Sorrowing relatives of the dead were the particular prey of the alleged swindlers, but sometimes newly-wedded persons were defrauded. Business is said to have been done under the name of the Holine company and all transactions were based on death and marriage notices appearing in out-of-town newspapers.

The "company" owned a supply of cheap jewelry. These articles, in neatly addressed packages, were sent to the dead of other cities always "collected." The deliveries were so timed as to reach the house after the day of the funeral, and the first thought of the survivors was that there was some sentimental value clinging to the article and the deceased. The bill, ranging from $5 to $50, was gladly paid without exam of the contents.

In the case of newly-married persons the impression was that it was a present from somebody who forgot to pay for the goods and the bill was usually paid.

A federal agent was sent here from Washington to work on the case. Detectives found a letter, which the executives of James P. McClurg, who died recently in Denver, sent the "company" a check for $12 in payment for spectacles. The business was widespread and all the big transportation companies held packages returned from Omaha, Denver, St. Louis and a number of other cities. Mary Kewney is a man of 50. He says his sister married a German count of Hamburg, Germany.

It is believed that the same game, or one similar, has been working in Omaha. At the Pacific Express company's office a package was shipped to Mrs. Mary O'Gorman on March 6, with instructions to collect $10. The package, which was supposed to contain books, came from Overton, Neb. It was returned to the agent at that place after it was ascertained that Mrs. O'Gorman was not alive. The name of the consignee did not appear, but the instructions were to return to Overton if not collected. Mrs. O'Gorman was one of Omaha's well-to-do women and died at her home, 2100 Nicholas street, on February 23.

A C. O. D. package for $5 was sent from Elm Creek to E. Carter about the same time, and the express company ascertained that the person to whom the parcel was addressed was dead. Another was sent to Harry E. Smith, which called for $5.

The last two packages were ordered returned to Overton if not delivered. This move on the part of the sender would indicate that the consignee was not believed, that the alleged swindlers were moving from town to town, sending the packages from small insignificant places to the big cities.

Inquiry at the local express offices failed to divulge any information concerning the Holine company.

Violent Earth Shocks Felt at Salt Lake City

Country Rocks for Thirty Seconds, Damaging Homes and Disturbing Slumber.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 23.—Sunday morning slumber of this city was disturbed by a violent rocking of the earth, which lasted apparently about two seconds, although the seismograph at the state university recorded a disturbance of thirty seconds.

The earthquake was quite sharp and caused considerable damage to crockery, chimneys and old adobe houses. The tremor was local, being confined within a radius of fifty miles.

Slight damage is reported from the towns of Bingham and Garfield. The shock occurred at 7:28 a. m. and was followed by two other shocks, one at 8:38 a. m. and the other at 11:24.

Local scientists say that the shock was caused by the slipping of a great fault at the base of the Wasatch mountains east of the city. When this movement is completed no more quakes will originate in this valley.

LAWRENCE, Kan., May 23.—The seismograph at the University of Kansas recorded an earthquake this morning from 1:37 to 2:15 o'clock. Prof. H. P. Cady, who observed the movement, said: "The quake appeared to be about 2,000 miles distant. It had all of the characteristics shown by the recent disturbances in Costa Rica."
