Miss Clary Tells of Mutuality of Interest of Jobber and Merchant.

QUINBY TALKS ON PRINTERS' INK
Says that Newspaper Advertising is the Best for Results—Club Prepares for the Convention This Month.

Without a tremor of bashfulness, Miss C. C. Tenant Clary rose and addressed 300 men at the luncheon of the Omaha Ad club Tuesday noon. Miss Clary, who is the editor and publisher of the Furness County Democrat, really should have been addressing jobbers for she bore a message to wholesale business men with respect to advertising. Her announced theme was, "The Mutuality of Interest Between the Omaha Jobber and the Country Merchant."

"Goods well bought are half sold," said the fair and unabashed speaker. "Goods well bought and well advertised are sold." Then Miss Clary went on to say that by himself the country merchant cannot be expected to compete with complete success against the mail order houses. "The jobber must bear his share along with the manufacturer and retailer. Too many wholesale men think that when they engage a competent sales force and get payment at the end of thirty, sixty or ninety days that their business is then done. Not so. The retailer must sell those goods before he buys another order."

Miss Clary invited Omaha jobbers to pay particular attention to Furness county, suggesting that Kansas City and St. Joseph are vigorous rivals. She was followed by J. Laurie Quinby, who talked on "Printers' Ink." After a few allusions to the history of printing, the speaker urged liberal newspaper advertising.

The approach of the Ad club convention was noticed by the appointment of a committee to pin badges upon visitors and a report of the financial committee by Robert Manley, chairman.

Kharas Fined and Sentenced
Is Assessed $300 and Ordered to the Douglas County Jail for Four Months.

Theodore Kharas, convicted of using the United States mails for illegal purposes, was fined $300 and sentenced to four months in the Douglas county jail by Judge Munger Tuesday morning. Sentence was passed after the court had overruled the motion for a new trial argued last week.

In overruling the motion and passing sentence, the court said he would not interfere with the verdict of the jury, but he considered defendant had a valuable contribution that probably could be made a success. His mistake had been in advertising it in an improper manner.

Assignments of error were made by the attorney for Kharas, P. A. Wells, and a writ of error was allowed, which will send the case to the United States circuit court of appeals. In the meantime Kharas is at liberty under a supersedeas bond.

Storz Buys on Dodge Street
Secures Forty-Four Feet West of the McCague Building for an Investment.

Forty-four feet on Dodge street, west of the McCague building, has been sold to Gottlieb Storz for $50,000. The property is west of the twenty-two feet west of the McCague building, and has been owned by Frances Kendall and others of Providence, R. I.

Two one-story buildings are on the property. One is occupied by the U. S. restaurant and the other by C. Engelharder's saloon.

Mr. Storz has bought for investment and no immediate improvement is contemplated. The sale comes about because of activity in the neighborhood due to the building of the new Union Pacific headquarters. The sale of the McCague block itself was the first reflex of this activity.

A Boy's Holidays.
The ardent controversy which has waged in England and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway System to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents as to what to do with the school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled, "What Shall a Boy Do With His Vacation?" thoroughly covers the ground. A copy may be obtained for the asking by applying to W. S. Cookson, 817 Merchants Loan & Trust Building, Chicago.
