Turning up yesterday evening about little dances which were finely executed by clock drunk, he began to abuse his wife with little assistance from older heads. Tracy came back between 9 and 10 o'clock. Hart saw him coming and ran to the door, ordering him off and holding up the gun threatening to shoot if he persisted. He did, the old man fired and the man fell wounded in the leg.

FIVE DAINTY SONGS BY AN OMAHA MAN

Charming Album of Courtship Ballade Produced by Local Musician, Mr. Milo O. Smith

"Five Little Songs of Courtship," is the title of a little musical album from the pen of Mr. Milo O. Smith of Omaha and, while scarce off the press, the pro duction bids fair to make an unusual impression upon the lovers of the "refined

"Sweetheart," "Her Eyes," "The Way of a Heart," "Love Song" and "Wife," are not only refreshing titles but the musical handling of the songs is of a high (yet simple) order, and should come as a welcome change after the deluge of coarse and even vulgar songs of the music halls.

Just a series of five delightful little songs breathing of love; every bit of the music, every word, as dainty as a bit of Dresden China. Mr. Smith's songs will prove welcome about one's home because of the purity and wholesomeness of the lines and harmony.

"Courtship Days" are never o'er and it is safe to say that thousands of copies of this little album will supplant the time nored gifts of bon bons to those we love and those we wish to lo

What new busines enterprise does Omaha need most?

What people would you like to interest in building homes here?

The "Omaha 300,000" edition has a purpose.

Its object is to interest the outside world to such an extent as to make Omaha a city of 300,000 people in 1920.

This edition will contain an announcement of the first move in the campaign that will interest the farsighted man in investing his money, time and energy in the upbuilding of Omaha.

> The announcement of the plan and the scope of the Western Land-Products Exhibit, to be held in Omaha January 18 to 28. 1911, will show him that Omaha means business, because Omaha has all the natural advantages for the controlling of commerce in the the West.

You can interest outside people if you send out copies of the "Omaha 300,000" edition.

Take a few minutes-make a list and order the papers in advance. All three editions will be sent to any address for 10 cents.
