

Only the Pianola Piano Contains the PIANOLA

If you think—that all Piano-players are PIANOLAS, and—that any piano with a Piano-player inside, is a PIANOLA Piano, you are very much mistaken.

THE PIANOLA, which is made only by the Aeolian Company, is absolutely distinct from all other Piano-players. The difference is fundamental, involving a question of both patents and construction. It is principally observable in the playing of the PIANOLA, compared with the playing of other instruments. The distinction here is one of kind rather than of degree. So radical is this difference, that the PIANOLA may be said to represent an entirely separate "school" of playing.

The PIANOLA and PIANOLA Piano are obtainable in Omaha only at Schmoller & Mueller. PIANOLAS, $250 to $450. PIANOLA Pianos from $550 to $1,250. Moderate Monthly Payments. Liberal Allowance on Old Pianos.

Council Bluffs CARROLL GETS LATE START

Iowa Executive Sleeps Hour Over-time Before Road Jaunt.

TRIP TO BOOST HIGHWAY IDEA

Governor Denies Anything Political in Tour and Says Will Remain in Motor Until Reaches Davenport.

Governor B. F. Carroll, who came to Council Bluffs to head the procession of automobiles that will carry the Iowa Highway Commission across the state over the new river-to-river road, was very tired when he retired at a late hour Wednesday night, after he succeeded in separating himself from the crowds of enthusiastic automobilists who gathered to greet him. His bed at the Grand hotel was so comfortable that he slept an hour later than was calculated upon and the party did not get away from Council Bluffs until after 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Governor Carroll, Dean Curtis, Prof. Marston and Engineer McDonald rode in the leading car, and State Treasurer W. W. Morrow and H. E. Maybee in the other. The leading car was driven by C. E. Hannan and the other by H. A. Searle. Ben E. Bertier acted as escort as far as Avoca.

"I am going to ride" in an automobile every foot of the way, unless it be some portion we may have to walk, until we get into Davenport some time Saturday evening," said Governor Carroll yesterday. "And I am going to forget just as nearly as I can that I am a candidate for re-election. This is not a political drive by any means. It is what it professes to be, a movement to stir up a popular feeling in favor of good roads.

"Iowa has expended enormous sums, $100,000,000 in the last twenty years, on her public highways, and much of this vast amount has been wasted. Radical improvements have been made in the methods of road making in the last few years, and your own Colonel W. F. Baker has earned the praise of the people of the middle west states for his original and pioneer work in this great enterprise. If it had not been for his energy and intelligence, perhaps the changes would not have been brought about in dirt road making that has made this river-to-river highway possible. I am going to make some speeches, farmer road makers and the others who really make the roads, and I am going to talk about good roads and their relation to the general prosperity of the state. The election is away off yet, and this thing that I fall in the dull time of summer, when the largest number of our wealth producers may find time to think about things that most closely relate to their comfort and prosperity, and thus the journey is separated as far as possible from election day."

Governor Carroll expressed his confident conviction that he would be returned to the gubernatorial chair by the usual substantial majority. He felt that there was not the least reason to believe that anything had occurred in Iowa or the nation in the last few months or even years to encourage the democratic hope of success. The Republicans have had some little differences, but that meant no increase of democratic strength, he said.

Council Bluffs Governor Yates Rests in Bluffs

Takes Time Off While on Chautauqua Grounds to Recuperate from Labors.

Names of Those Selected to Appear for Duty September Nineteen.

After remaining quietly in Council Bluffs for several days resting, Richard Yates, former governor of Illinois and the brilliant son of the famous war governor of that state, disclosed his identity accidentally yesterday just as he was leaving for Harlan to deliver a chautauqua lecture. Governor Yates has nearly all of his time through August filled with such dates, and many of them are now at hand at the chautauqua assemblies in the smaller towns surrounding Council Bluffs. He finds it advantageous to run into the city and rest at the Grand hotel between engagements. Governor Yates says he has taboos politics and takes no advantage of his opportunity to influence the political opinions of his former audiences. He thinks the chautauqua has now become one of the greatest educational and moral institutions in the country and deplores the efforts of such men as LaPollette and Bristow to drag it into politics. He speaks at the Oakland chautauqua Saturday.

HAZEN HAS PART OF METEOR

Although half a dozen matters of importance had been referred to the meeting of the committee of the whole of the city council yesterday, only five of the members were present and nothing was done. The afternoon session was devoted to the city on Monday night for the opening of Vine street and attentively examined the whole problem. The situation appeared to improve with closer inspection and a favoring resolution could easily have been carried, but was decided, however, to leave the matter until today when another meeting of the committee will be held. Ed Nelson, a traveling salesman for a slot machine factory, was in superior court yesterday on a state information charging him with the murder of a woman who was shot the night clerk at the Ogden house. The clerk testified that Nelson drew a revolver and after flourishing it, he came upstairs with the avowed purpose of finding Manager Harris and shooting him. Nelson, who has a life license to carry a revolver, was fined $10 and costs on the intoxication charge and permitted to go with the understanding that he must remain in another part of the town while in the city and under no circumstances go near the Ogden house. An enormous steel I-beam weighing several tons used in the reconstruction of the government postoffice building, got away from the workmen at 5 o'clock last evening, fell to the street, and fell to the basement. It carried down about everything beneath, including several windows. The accident was caused by the fact that the beam was permitted to rest after the steam derrick had lifted it near the position it was to occupy. George F. Hamilton, chairman of the public committee of the National Horticultural Congress and Corn Show, Council Bluffs, November 10-18, has been elected to carry half inch ropes to be stretched tight and strong enough to resist any kind of wind. One of the banners was sent to Clarinda after it was made and another will be sent to Clarinda where a similar assembly begins next evening. The banners will be sent to Clarinda where a similar assembly begins next evening. The banners will be sent to Clarinda where a similar assembly begins next evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Auditorium company was held at the Commercial club yesterday afternoon. The committee on the business affairs of the association only were discussed. Judge A. B. Thorne yesterday forwarded his ruling on the application of the Rock on the railway company for new trial in the suit of L. A. Weber, denying the motion. At the March term of the court, the railway company was awarded $200 for injuries sustained in the Homestead wreck of three years ago. He is a railway mail agent and received a check for some severance money that he was unable to resume his duties for more than a year. The railway company claimed that the wreck was caused by a half-witted German boy, who signed a contract with the railway to remove a rail to produce a train wreck solely for the excitement of the thing. On this confession the rail was sent to the penitentiary, but he was given afterwards released upon the application of the German-American consul, who showed that he was the son of a noble family and had signed the alleged confession without knowledge of what it contained, and was not only innocent, but was wholly incapable of causing the wreck. His contention was that the wreck was caused by the slipping of a high engine, following the fact that the rail was sprung.

ters were separated and sent eastward. By accident information was disclosed that led to the location of each member of the family and the happy reunion that followed. Mr. DeLong goes west in a few days. Thanks Bros., Anton and Julius, began an action in the district court yesterday against the Chicago & Great Western Railway company asking damages occasioned by delay in reaching the South Omaha market with a carload of fat cattle. The stock was loaded on March 23, 1910, at Gilliat, this county, in time to have been picked up by a fast freight train due there in the afternoon. The train caused through, but the plaintiffs allege, refused to stop and attach the stock car. It was dispatched by a later and slower train and did not reach the market until after noon the next day, when they should have been placed on the morning market. The delay is claimed to have caused a shrinkage of twenty pounds for each steer, or a net loss of 600 pounds, worth $1.50, and a decline in the market of 15 cents per hundred, added an additional loss of $5.18, and judgment is asked for both losses. Upon identical facts a same showing of alleged facts, J. W. Wild, another Gilliat shipper, sues the company for a total loss of $435. Judge A. B. Thorne yesterday forwarded his ruling on the application of the Rock on the railway company for new trial in the suit of L. A. Weber, denying the motion.
