

HUMOR

THE BEE'S HOME MAGAZINE PAGE

FICTION

Brightside and His Boy

Those Careful Married Men. Their Latest Tabloid Sketch.

BY LAFAYETTE PARKS. According to some new statistics regarding the employes, I see that unmarried men are more often injured than the married ones. Brightside begins, when the family grubber arrives for the evening verbal hand-pump.

MANY A MARRIED MAN HAS PROVED HIMSELF A HERO.

mobile at the risk of our lives to save an old and gray-haired woman from death. That's us—we're the Carnegie medal kids and we know not fear.

WELL, I'LL WAIT A LITTLE WHILE

BY ED. GRINHAM

Things You Want to Know

American Prison Association.

The American Prison association, composed of the leading prison authorities and criminologists of the United States and Canada, begins its fortieth annual congress in Washington today. It will have the honor of entertaining the foreign delegates of the International Prison association which will hold its congress in the same city next week.

Daughters of Famous Men

Mrs. Grace MacGowan Cooke, journalist, and afterward novelist, was born in Grand Rapids, Mich. Her father, Colonel John Smith MacGowan, went to Chattanooga, Tenn., as military commander of the district.

Mrs. Grace MacGowan Cooke.

her collaborator, and spent her most impressionable years in that district. In 1871 she married William Cooke of Chattanooga.

Mrs. Cooke was the first president of the Tennessee Woman's Press club in 1897 and 1898. Her first novel was "Mistress Joy," a tale of Natchez in 1788, written in collaboration with Annie Booth McKinney.

This was followed by "The Return," a story of the sea islands written in collaboration with her sister. Her later work includes "Hilda," "A Gourd Fiddle," "The Grapple," and her latest and most ambitious work, "The Power and the Glory."

In her youth Mrs. Cooke tried to fit herself to be an illustrator of other people's stories. To this end she spent a year at the School of Design in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Cooke, like Miss Alice MacGowan, now lives at Canyon-on-Sun, Cal., where the accompanying portrait was taken. (Copyright, 1910, by the N. Y. Herald Co.)

Tomato Catsup. Here is a recipe that will keep its color because no spices are used to darken it. The vivid scarlet taint of commerce is secured by the use of ripe tomatoes.

The DIARY of DOLLIE

A Summer Girl. BY M.F.

COPYRIGHT, 1910, BY THE NEW YORK EVENING TELEGRAM (NEW YORK HERALD CO.). All Rights Reserved.

TUESDAY—Jennie Steele, the girl from Baltimore, spent Saturday and Sunday at Mrs. Deering's and occupied the same room that I did. She has the most fascinating way of flirting and I should think men would be very keen about her.

coming in. She didn't know a soul, and I knew it irritated her. Aunt Harriet was having tea with two awful looking old women at a little distance behind her table, and I pretended to have quite a flirtation with them.

"SHE HAS THE MOST FASCINATING WAY OF FLIRTING."

"SHE INSISTED ON TAKING THE CREAM TO WASH HER FACE WITH."

"SHE SAID MR. CRAIG HAD SAID I LOOKED SO GOOD HEARTED."

makers a little later, and the marvelous silver and gold laces which have been manufactured for the winter season, as well as colored embroideries, show that we are to have a lot of beautiful trimmings from which to draw.

Hot Compresses Will Very Often Cure Cases of Nervous Tension

"Have I told you of the hot water rest cure?" a woman asked another recently.

"Before lying down I sip a cup of hot water slowly. Heat in the stomach helps to take away blood pressure from the head. Then I place a square of soft, white flannel in the center, wring it and place the cloth at the back of my head, in the fashion. This means that the pad is on the pillow. Then I wring out another cloth and put that over the top of my face, pressing the material as closely so it will lie over the eyes and touch the temples and face close to the nose."

"As soon as the compress shows a sign of growing cool I replace it with another and I continue for fifteen minutes and sometimes longer. At the end of that time I get up and bathe my face thoroughly in cold water, to tighten the skin, which has been relaxed by the heat treatment. Then I darken the room and lie down again for fifteen minutes. After that I am as fresh as can be."

"The treatment is simple, but as a rule it acts favorably. Most of the attention a woman has is from the nerves, and if they are relaxed she takes a fresh lease of life for the time."

MARGARET MIXTER.

Items of Interest for the Women Folk

Juvenile fashions closely follow the new fabrics, colors, and cut for adults. The peasant sleeve and the banded skirt are both seen, though, of course, the skirt is by no means so narrow as in the adult styles.

Daily Health Hint

By people of a nervous temperament some strictly material rule for securing the tummy god of sleep with the stomach is not to be despised. Many little things conduce to sleeplessness, the avoidance of which will remove that trouble. Indigestion, cold feet, overfatigue, tea and coffee, all tend to restlessness of the brain which prevents calm sleep.

A word to the wise is sufficient, but so few of us are wise to it.