Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 .- The weight of large CHICAGO, Oct. II.—The weight of large accumulations of wheat the world over pulled down prices today. The amount available is now, perhaps, 65,000,000 bushels greater than a year ago, Closing prices were 1%61%c lower as compared with last night. Cern showed a net loss of %61c, and oats %60%c. Provisions at the finish ranged from 15c advance to 2%65c deciling but the greater share of the selling remilted from the withdrawal of Argentine as a cause for crop fears.

Still more important from a bear standpoint were the United States government figures indicating that the shortage in the domestic crop is not so large as the trade had estimated. In addition northweatern stocks continued to pile up. Cables late in the day were weak, London sending word that Russia was pressing sales. The close here was within %c of the lowest figures of the day. Fluctuations of the December delivery were between 95%c and 87c, with the last sales at 95%c, a net loss of 1%c.

Normal temperature for today, 57 degrees.

Oats dragged down to a new low record for the season. High and low points for December were 32%c and 31%c, with the close at 31%@32c, a net loss of %c.

Provisions started out strong but succumbed to the influence of the weak grain markets. At the end of the day pork was 5c up, lard 21%@5c down to 15c advance, and ribs relatively the firmest with a rise of 2%c to 5c.

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT No Important Changes in Temperature Are Predicted.

OMAHA, Oct. 11, 1910. Temperatures continue moderate in all portions of the country, and no important and oats 180%. Provisions at the finish ranged from 15c advance to 21/65c declins.

Wheat exhibited increasing weakness as the day wore on. Rallies were few and became more and more feeble. Part of the unloading was in view of tomorrow's holiday in nearly all the important markets, but the greater share of the selling resulted from the withdrawal of Argentine as a cause for crop fears.

87c, with the last sales at 90%c, a net loss of 1%c.

The effect of the government report showing a bumper yield of corn was marked. December varied from 48%c to 12.08 inches.

NEW YORK, Oct. II.—The speculation in stocks threw off some of the restraint today which has kept it in check. The Ireah activity was most conspicuous in a variety of specialities not usually prominent in the dealings and many of these were of the low priced non-dividend paying class.

A reason for this was found in the narrow resocures of the money market and the smaller supply of credits requisite for carrying on operations in the low priced stocks. It was generally assumed that newly formed market pools were resounsible for most of the demonstrations.

The supposition that powerful private bankers were supplying resources and influence to helb the advance encouraged a following by the professional element.

The call loan rate today touched 3½ per cent as an affect of the slightly increased demand incidental to the day's speculative requirements.

The apecial promise of the spring wheat and corn crops as they were affected by secretary report, found reflection is the activities are reported by the Interestic Commerce commission by the Interestate Commerce commission by the Interestate Commerce commission by the Interestate Commerce of allows the late stock market and also caused a fresh decline in the foreign exchange market. Coffee Market.

NEW YORK Oct 11.—COFFEE—Market opened steady at a decline of Sail points under some scattering liquidation or local selling inspired by lower European cables. Operators were not aggressive, however, owing to reports of sustained primary and epot markets and during the afternoon a more active demand from leading trade interests caused an advance which closed the market firm at a net gain of follo points. One of the big Brazilian interests was believed to be a buyer here during the afternoon and part of the demand in the late trading was attributed to buying by European shorts. As compared with yesterday's average trade, the general market appeared to be about a nickel higher, or in other words, firm with yesterday's best time. Recoipts were light, with heavy hogs plentiful and good light grades scarce.

Heavies of good quality moved around $8.1598.20, with common and extreme heavies around $8.16 Mixed hogs of medium weight brought $8.25 and better, with the best light on sale at $8.55.

heavies around Salo. Mixed hogs of medium weight brought $3.25 and better, with the best light on sale at $3.55.

Closing trade was rather dull and slow, with the tendency of values a little lower. A few loads that had to sell late did not command the advance noted, moving within a spread little different from that of yes-Another olg supply was yarded this morning, the bulk of offerings consisting of feeders as usual. Country demand was fairly broad and active, but early sales were few owing to delay to yarding, sorting, etc. It was a generally steady market on all tist church of Council Blu classes of stock. Fat wethers sold as high as $4.00 and a few strings of feeders brought figures little different from those of yesterday.

Francis L. Sweancy Secures Restraining Order Against Edwin F. Andrews of Medical School.

Alleging he was conspired against by Edwin F. Andrews with intent to defraud him out of his interest in the State Med. ical institute of Omaha and out of the earnings of the institute, Francis L. Sweaney went into district court yesterday and secured an order restraining any moneys or property of the institute and restraining the Nebraska National bank from paying to Andrews any money belonging to the institute. Sweaney also gave bond for appeal to the supreme court of another action against Andrews and bank, in which he has been beaten in district court.

In his petition Sweaney sets forth that one E. C. Upton was the owner of the institute until recently, when he purchased it. Upton, he said, had contracted with Andrews, who was manager of the business, to give him a half interest in it if he continued in the management for a specified time. Though Sweaney, having purchased the business from Upton, is willing to carry out this contract. Andrews has failed to comply with its terms, says the plaintiff. He asserts that Andrews is taking the receipts of the business away with him and depositing them in the bank either in his own name or in that of Upton, and unless restrained by the courts will practically defraud him out of the whole business for which he paid. Sweaney asks for an accounting. Until this is had the restraining order will be in The action in which Sweaney already has been defeated is of similar nature, mere fulfillment of the conrtact being asked.
