EIGHT MONTHS FOR SASSING WIFE THROUGH THE MAILS

W. H. Rittenbush to Spend Four Months More in the Madison County Jail.

Send a word, don't write. This is what W. H. Rittenbush, a railroad man of Long Pine, Neb., said Wednesday morning after he had been sentenced in United States court to serve four months in jail on the charge of sending unprintable matter through the mails. Rittenbush will serve his time in the Madison county jail and a deputy United States marshal started that destination with him shortly after sentence had been imposed. A peculiar phase of the Rittenbush affair is the fact that the matter about which the complaint was made, was written to his own wife. She took exception to the language and informed Uncle Sam. Arrest followed, and for four months prior to the trial, Rittenbush was held in jail, thus making for him an aggregate eight months' sentence.

Church Settles With Connor Estate Heirs

Long Legal War Over $500,000 is Ended by Agreement—Church Gets One School.

Termination of the long legal war over the $500,000 estate of the late Joseph A. Connor, between the Roman Catholic church and the heirs as law was effected Wednesday. Terms of settlement were agreed upon, and Smith, Smith & Schell, counsel for Bishop Scannell and other proponents of the alleged Connor will, filed in district court a withdrawal of their appeal to the supreme court in defense of the validity of the document. E. P. Smith refused to give out the terms of settlement. "There is nothing to say," he said, "except that the matter has been adjusted and the adjustment is entirely satisfactory to the church. It is stated unofficially that the church by the terms of settlement receives from the estate a sum sufficient for the establishment of one parochial school. After the death of Mr. Connor there was filed for probate in county court a purported will which bequeathed practically the entire estate for the establishment and endowment of parochial schools. Mrs. Mary Elmer, half sister of Connor, and other heirs at law, and other relatives, successfully contested the will in county and district courts. The church, through Bishop Scannell and others, named as trustees in the purported will, appealed to the supreme court, where the appeal was pending when the settlement was made. The war with the church ended, there remains to be fought the battle between the heirs of the estate. In county court three weeks ago Franklin Lamb of Chicago filed a $60,000 claim against the Connor estate for the benefit of the boy this sum for living with him, Franklin Lamb is the husband of Mrs. Mary Lamb, a niece of Mrs. Ellen J. O'Connor.

GRAIN EXCHANGE IN HARMONY

Looks Like Election of the Nominees Will Be Unanimous.

NO LOSS BY FALLING PRICES

Grain Dealers Work More on a Commission Basis and it is Said They Are Not Pinched by the Steady Decline.

The big elevator interests, rumor is the contrary, are not preparing to contest the election of W. J. Hynes, Sherman Saunders and W. J. Holmquist to the directorate of the Omaha Grain exchange. No movement is now on foot in opposition to the election of these three grain men who were nominated last week. The election is due for November 3. It is not impossible that one of the three may resign, but on the other hand, the presence on the directorate of this man is favored by both sides and he will be urged not to take any such action, if he should make up his mind to withdraw his name. Representatives of the big line interests declared with unanimity Wednesday that they have no intention of putting up other candidates and the prediction was freely made that the election of Holmquist, Hynes and Saunders will be unanimous. What gave rise to the rumor of a contest lies in this: When notice of a vote on nominations was sent out the secretary of the grain exchange, Earl Manchester, enclosed in his letter of notification, blank proxies. The grain stated the board, following custom recommended the re-election of Messrs. Reed, Bruce and Smith, inclosure of proxies also followed the old custom. But the sending of the proxy blanks had been, but erroneously, it is said, taken to mean that the big line interests were trying to muster votes for their use. The grain market was buoyant Wednesday on covering by shorts and profit taking. General conditions by no means justify bullish feeling and the general sentiment is the other way. The world's surplus of grain continues large and the export demand is scant, if existing at all. Omaha grain men are little affected by the falling prices of the last three months, during which time corn has dropped from about 40 cents to 45 cents, wheat tumbled as much, and oats have gone down from 25 cents to 30 cents per bushel. Omaha men are safe because they generally sell against purchases and make their money on commissions.

Hal Buckingham Head of Railroad

Becomes Vice President and General Manager of the Road He First Worked On.

Hal Buckingham, chief clerk of the freight department of the Burlington lines west of the Missouri, leaves Omaha Wednesday night to become vice president and general manager of the Pittsburg, Somerville and Clarion road, with headquarters at Clarion, Pa. Mr. Buckingham has been with the Burlington road for fifteen years, the last six stationed in Omaha. He is well known in this city, he and his family residing in Dundee. The first railroad position he ever had was on the road he is now going to be the general manager of. It is a small line, doing a large coal trade in the east. An Omaha man holds a large portion of the stock so that Buckingham claims it will be just like home. An American King is the great king of cures. Famous Hen Case is Now Settled

Colonel Gallup Claims He Delivered the Hens, but They Would Not Starve.

The famous Gallup-Voss hen case was settled and dismissed in district court Wednesday, the terms of settlement being Voss' payment of $10 to Gallup. The litigation was the outgrowth of Colonel I. C. Gallup's sale to Hans Voss of the Gallup tavern. The suit was for $100, the ground being that at the time of the sale Voss agreed to give Gallup sixty-five fine hens, from which fine chicken pot pie could be made, and that Voss failed to deliver the hens. Voss' contention has been that he delivered the biddies on Gallup's property and the colonel had only to catch them. He held he should not be required to pay $100 because Gallup was not an accomplished hen catcher. Gallup came back with the plea that Voss had permitted the chickens to become wild, so that when pursued they spread their wings and flew like prairie chickens.

Dunn Sees Way to Settle Feud

Says that He is Willing to Do Anything to Be Reasonably Expected of Him.

In reply to Police Judge Crawford's remarks about the setting aside of the garbage ordinance because of their alleged faulty legal construction, Assistant City Attorney Dunn offers to do anything that could reasonably be expected of him on the part of the city government to straighten the matter out. He expresses it, however, in a slightly different way as he said Wednesday morning: "I care absolutely nothing for the babbling of Judge Crawford about the way we pass our ordinances, but I do intend to do anything I can to prevent the city from getting into such another typhoid siege as we had the last time the garbage was allowed to accumulate. The police court, that is, Judge Crawford and the city prosecutor, were responsible for that epidemic of typhoid by allowing the garbage to heap up without being removed. At first he said the law was unconstitutional, now he thinks it is only not specific enough. If that is all it takes to make him respect it, I am sure the council will pass an amendment immediately and settle the matter."

Omaha Lad Wins a World's Record

J. H. Hoyt Does Some Speedy Writing in New York Typewriter Contest.

J. L. Hoyt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Hoyt, 206 North Twenty-second street, yesterday won the world's amateur championship in the speed typewriting contest held in New York City. His record was ninety-four words a minute, net, that is, after subtracting words for errors made. The second contest's record was 87 words, net. Mr. Hoyt was at one time stenographer in the Paxton & Gallagher Grocery company. A speed contest was held in London at the same time and Mr. Hoyt's record excelled that made by the English typists.

Huge Potatoes Will Be Shown

Six Tubers Weighing Fourteen Pounds to Be Exhibited at Union Pacific Ticket Office.

Six potatoes weighing fourteen pounds are to be exhibited in the Omaha ticket office of the Union Pacific railroad. This is an average weight of two pounds and five and one-third ounces apiece. One of the big tubers tips the scale at three pounds and five ounces. An ordinary potato is pretty big when it weighs one pound. The six "spuds" are from Klamath Falls, Ore., and are sent by the Commercial club of that place with a note stating that an exhibition of all the products of the valley would be held at the Council Bluffs National Horticultural show on November 10 to 15. The Klamath Falls products are raised by irrigation and will run over 25 bushels to the acre.

ORKIN SAYS EAST IS BUSY

Metropolis is Designed with Orders from the West for Fall and Winter Suits.

"New York stores and shops are gay places this fall," said J. L. Orkin of Orkin Bros., who has just returned from the metropolis. "The retail clothing and apparel interests there are experiencing big sales and feeling pretty good." While in New York Mr. Orkin bought a large line of the latest Fifth avenue and Paris models in women's wearing apparel and costumes of all kinds, which will at once be put on sale here.

DRY SHAMPOO BETTER THAN SOAP AND WATER

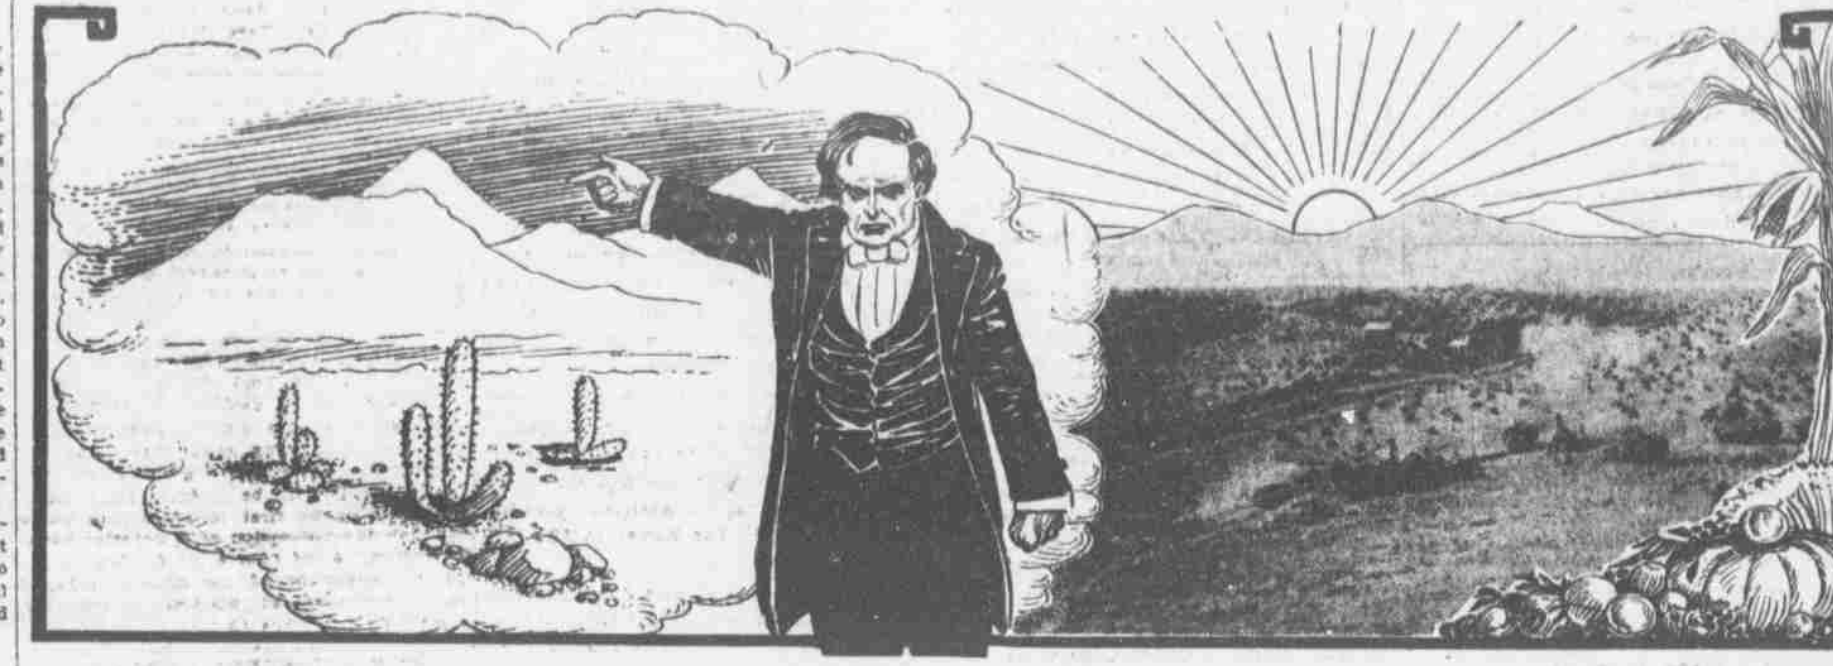

"Once in two or three months is as often as it is advisable to wash the hair with soap and water," says Claribel Montague, the beauty expert. The rubbing, drying and rinsing, together with the action of the alkali in the soap—especially the alkali—tend to make the hair coarse, hard and brittle. Too much moisture causes the hair to become thin and lose its color. A simple and satisfactory dry shampoo is made by mixing four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of talcum powder. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on head and brush thoroughly through the hair once or twice a week. That is all there is to it. This treatment not only keeps the hair light, fluffy and lustrous, but it also produces the growth of new hair.—Adv.

You'll find your opportunity in the new west

Daniel Webster's mistake

One day in 1843, while addressing the United States senate, he pictured that portion of country, which we know today to be full of natural resources, many being already developed, as being nothing more than a burden to the nation, then in her infancy. The following is his description of this wonderful section: "What do you want of the vast and worthless area; that region of savages and wild beasts, of deserts, of shifting sands and whirling wind, of dust, of cactus and prairie dogs? To what use could we ever hope to put those great deserts and those endless mountain ranges, impenetrable and covered to their very base with eternal snow? What can we ever do with the western coast, a coast 3,000 miles, rockbound, cheerless and uninviting?"

The Western Land-Products Exhibit to be held in Omaha January 18 to 28, 1911

Will show what use has been made of this worthless(?) area, and what the possibilities are for its future. In 1909 Nebraska's cereal crop alone was valued at $165,979,000. In this same year this state produced $4,914,000 worth of potatoes and $13,650,000 worth of hay. In 1909 there were thousands of settlers in the irrigated sections of Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington, who received as high as $1,500 and $2,000 clear profit from a single acre of ground. This exhibit will consist of real live exhibits that will show you what others have done and the man in charge will be full of information as to the localities awaiting thousands who may have the same opportunities as those who have gone before.

The Omaha Bee and The Twentieth Century Farmer

wish to convince the people about the wonderful possibilities of the west, and they are backing up the Western Land-Products Exhibit because they realize that an exhibit of this kind will show people more of the real truth about this wonderful section than any amount of pure talk; and their real interest in the upbuilding of this empire is due to the fact that they realize that it is upon the west that Omaha must depend for its future progress and greatness.

Land information bureau

Go West and Grow With It. So many of our readers have written us from time to time, asking us for reliable information as to soil, climate and value of land in localities to which they were thinking of locating or buying for investment, that we have decided to establish a Land Information Bureau. This bureau will make investigations and gather data, so that it will be able to either answer inquiries direct, or give parties wanting information the names of reliable persons to whom they can write. When writing, address, Land Information Bureau, The Twentieth Century Farmer, Omaha, Neb.
