MANY CALL HARVARD CHAMPS

Seemed to Have the Best Record on Eastern Gridirons.

WAS UNABLE TO BEAT YALE While No Exact Championship May Be Awarded, Harvard Has Inside Claim-Yate Surprised Its Own Supporters.

Not a bit uninteresting is some of the discussion which has taken place in regard to the foot ball championship of the year, Quite generally there is it disposition to give It to Harvard and yet there are some doubting Thomases who are inclined to dissent from that opinion, because Harvard was unuble to beat Yale. It is their con- Je tention that to be awarded the championship Harvard should have shown ability to

On the other hand they face a rather knotty problem wher they essay to name a team which should be declared the champion aggregation of the season, if Harvard is not to be awarded the title.

Another interesting situation which enters into the discussion is whether a foot ball championship may be awarded, on methods similar to those which prevail in most

In the latter case the point made is this; Are the preliminary games which lead up to the two major contests of the season to be considered as vital to the determination | D of championship class?

Take it for granted that Yale mostly centers its ambitions on defeating Princeton and Harvard, that Harvard mostly centers its attack on Yale and that Princeton is concerned most of all in beating Yale, and the real motive for foot ball is plainly stated.

Can He Forgotten. It is true that Yale, Harvard or Princeton may not remah defeat at the hands of an versity than these three, but such a defeat | never carries with it into the heritage of years that sting that comes when one of the three loses to one of the others in the schedule for the foot ball season.

History in the sport is made at Prince ton, as Princeton succeeds or falls against 'ul against Yale and at Yale as the Elis triumph over Princeton and Harvard. That being the case, it is evident that the inspiration which is injected into the contests among these three universities is not always so conspicuous when other universities are being played. It is quite in all three institutions leads up to the grand climax and on that the student body pins its hopes and the players their repu-

If the games which are played during the year were to be adjusted strictly on a percentage basis, as they are in the major and minor base ball leagues, Harvard certainly fly any foot ball pennant which might have been offered in 1910,

On the other hand, as Harvard, in the final contest of the season, that of more importance to Harvard and of more importance in Harvard eyes than any other was unable to score; although strong enough to prevent its dearest rival from naking a point, there are some who think that Yals should snare with Harvard the glory of the fall campaign.

Probably in the opinion of most foot ball men Yale does share that honor rather thoroughly. The team of 1910 will be one which will long be remembered at Yale, not so much for its victories as for the Championship Difficult to Award. if any foot ball championship may be awarded in any year no matter what the conditions may be.

There is not a complete exchange of games by which the true measurement of championship values should be adjusted. To win a championahip literally, a team competing should win in a round robin series by which teams are compared, team for team, and not by a crippled comparison in which two teams competing together may not play a single identical rival during

It is not very probable that we shall ever have a perfect foot ball championship contest. For that reason if there are any who choose to claim a championship for Harvard they seem to be justified in expressing it as their personal opinion.

Quite as true the other side is as much entitled to any opinion it may hold as to the legality of the title. On that basis everybody may be nappy

"Toots" Schultz May Join the Highlanders

Star of the University of Pennsylvania May Enter Professional

There was an impression in Philadelphia that when "Toots" Schulz completed his base ball days at the University of Pennbecome a regular pitcher on one of the sedate and highly respectable professional

"Toots" has intimated that he will be come a professional for a while after his school days are over, but the intimation carries with it a load of sorrow and grief for the Quakers. It is not one of the Philadelphia teams which has caught him with alluring propossis, but rumor hath it that the Highlanders have been talking with the young man and have convinced him that there is no better place for a player of his skill to

Schulz is authority for the statement that he intends to do a little base ball work before he settles down to the sober task of uning proficient in a profession. He is a student in the mechanical engineering department at Pennsylvania and a good student, too, as well as a good ball player, His family prefers that he step from college to hard work in his profession. He will graduate in June, but Schulz believes that a little relaxation will not hurt him, and, more than that, seems to be impressed with the idea that base ball will be the means to assist him in acquiring a little capital, which will come in handy when he starts the harder task before him.

To P. T. Powers, Former President of the Eastern League. New York City: It is with unmeasured regret that I learn of your retirement from the presidency of the Eastern league. I cannot forget your loyalty and devotion to its interests, the sacrifices, both personal and financial, during those periods when with a weaker man than yourself at the helm the craft would have foundered. It is the man who by his genius, courage and fidelity brings order out of chaos and establishes a dynasty that I honor, not the man who inherits it. When its history is written your name must be allied with those who have led and never wavered in their efforts to preserve organized base ball and establish it as the greatest sport of the world. It marvels me that the memories of the process by which the magnificent Eastern league structure has been erected should so soon slumber. JOHN T. BRUSH.

Farmer Burns Still on Warpath for Mat Men He Challenged

Him Permission and He Can't Get Any Takers.

Farmer Burns is still on the warpath ooking for wrestlers and wrestling managers whom he can devour. He does not take kindly to any aspersions cast opon his sincerity nor upon his ability to "come back." When the Farmer posted the money with The Bee for a forfeit on a match between Gotch and Hackenschmidt he meant business, and had the letter from Gotch telling him he could go ahead and make any arrangements he saw fit.

Gotch is to be married January 19 and consequently has called off all negotiations for a match in the near future. He however, telephoned Farmer Burns that Mahmout could take his place in challenging Hackenschmidt, but he did not relinquish the title of champion to Mahmout, Farmer Burns says he is able to get no reply from Hackenschmidt's managers, nor to his challenge for himself or Beefl to wrestle Westergaard or Roller. The incrdent that warmed the Farmer under the collar was an interview given by Oscar Thorson, manager of Westergaard, to the effect that Burns was only kidding.

Now comes Pardello and wants to wrestle Mahmout. Others are out with challenges, and it may be Omaha will see another good wrestling match in the near future.
