

The Most Extraordinary Bargain Events of the Season

Our Great

ONE-HALF OFF SALE

of Men's and Young Men's Suits Which Starts Saturday, January 7th and Our Great One-Half Off Sale of Overcoats Now in Full Swing

Be Sure to Read This Paragraph

This is the only Clothing Store in existence that starts a Clothing Sale without "arranging" a Special Window Display for the occasion. Show windows 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, regularly assigned to clothing displays, were trimmed Friday, December 30th, in the regular way with "regular" merchandise and the regular prices were then displayed. The garments then displayed have not been disturbed in any way. On Wednesday, January 4th, we replaced the price tickets with others plainly stating the original prices in black ink and the prices that will prevail during this Sale in red ink. We also placed display signs therein to call attention to this Sale. Our reductions being bona fide it was unnecessary for us to frame up a "Special Display." We simply stood pat on one of our regular window displays. The King-Edwards Co. is the only Clothing Store in existence that doesn't need to make a "Special" window display for a Half Price Sale.

Here is Another Paragraph Worth Reading

This sale is sure to attract hundreds who have never before entered our store—who are not familiar with our ways. They are likely to be skeptical and doubt this with other "sales." To such we want to say that the reductions spoken of in this ad actually maintain—that there is no tampering with prices when we decide to close houses. We want customers to attend with the same confidence in us that our regular customers have. If the tone of this "ad" seems insincere and you remain skeptical after reading the above, still anxious to secure such bargains—come. If after examination of the goods on sale you are still doubtful—don't buy them. We know you have a right to be suspicious of clothing "sales"—and we would rather not sell you a garment than to have you class our sale with the usual run of sales.

The Fall and Winter season was started by us with a stock fully twice as large as in 1909—and OUR business has been unusually active. This naturally leaves us with more broken lines than ever before. Conforming to our established custom these are now offered at a uniform and honest reduction of one-half the regular prices.

Our object of launching such a gigantic sale is two fold. We open every season with all new garments and none of this season's partly sold lines, no matter how desirable, will be found here next fall. Then, too, there will always be some people who are slow to recognize the merits of this store. New people are constantly locating in Omaha and each season it seems advisable to hold a sort of get-acquainted festival. We deem this one of the most logical ways of getting people acquainted with our merchandise and manners. To give such magnificent bargains is the surest way of calling attention to this as the very, very best store for year round patronage.

Tremendous Assortment to Fit Men of All Builds and Proportions

A most uncommon point about this Sale of ours wherein it differs radically from other so-called Half Price Sales is the vast variety of styles and models of both Suits and Overcoats to fit and please every man or young man whose size is any where between 30 and 50 inch chest measurement. No fellow is too small, too large, too short, too stout, too tall, too irregular or too particular for us to fit and please at a wonderful saving in price.

REV. LEWIS GREGORY IS DEAD

Pioneer Minister Passes Peacefully Into Last Sleep.

END SUDDEN AND UNEXPECTED

Members of Family Unaware of Serious Nature of Illness—Graduate of Yale Class '64—Bank President.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 6.—(Special).—Rev. Lewis Gregory, president of the American Savings bank, formerly pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, died at his home here this morning. Apparently in fair health, Rev. Mr. Gregory Thursday evening was in unusually good health. He retired early. When he awoke Friday morning he seemed much refreshed, having been suffering from a slight attack of the grip. He remarked that he was feeling fine and then said: "I believe that I will sleep a little longer."

He coughed slightly. When his wife noticed his condition she immediately summoned assistance, but he had died before medical aid arrived. Mr. Gregory had been suffering from a cold for about a week, but was able to attend the New Year's party at the home of A. J. Sawyer last Saturday evening and the church services last Sunday. For one advanced in years as he was, he enjoyed unusually good health.

Death Comes Suddenly. Death came without any pain and so sudden that the members of the household did not appreciate that Mr. Gregory was dangerously sick. Twenty-three years of active work as pastor of the First Congregational church of Lincoln gave Rev. Mr. Gregory the title of Nestor of Congregationalism in Nebraska. His untiring loyalty and fidelity to the church continued until death, although he became a layman twelve years ago. During his service as pastor of the Congregational church, Rev. Mr. Gregory was a potent force in the association of Congregational churches of the state. He at various times during his pastorate held positions of responsibility to the state association, which he filled with marked ability. Lewis Gregory was born in Wilson, Conn., in 1841 and died at the age of 58 years. His parents were of hardy New England parentage and closely associated with the Congregational church. Mr. Gregory came to Lincoln in 1882. Rev. Mr. Gregory entered Yale college in the classical department and was graduated with high scholastic standing in 1864. He then entered the Andover Theological seminary and was graduated in 1868. He was pastor of the Congregational church at Merrimac, Mass., until 1875, when he came to Lincoln to accept the pastorate of the First Congregational church. He labored with this charge for twenty-three years and then withdrew. In May, 1909, he organized the American Savings bank and was elected president, holding this position at the time of his death.

In 1868 Mr. Gregory married Elizabeth Buckingham at Canton, O. Two children survive him, Charles Gregory of this city and Miss Helen Gregory of New York City, who is expected to reach Lincoln Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Gregory died in July, 1884, and on February 25, 1887, he married Sarah Burgess Hamdell at St. Louis. Mr. Gregory was a man who took a keen interest in civic affairs and was a prominent worker for the betterment of civic conditions in Lincoln. He was successful as a business man and devoted to the advancement of the business interests of the city. He possessed a genial disposition and was an optimist in the broadest sense of the word.

The funeral arrangements have not been made. George L. White Rearrested. George L. White of University Place gained his liberty by a writ of habeas corpus brought in the county court only to be rearrested before he left the court room by Sheriff H. V. Hoagland upon complaint of County Attorney J. B. Hrusak.

The defendant was charged with a statutory offense against Lizzie Hunter, the adopted sister of his wife. White claimed that he was unlawfully detained and deprived of his liberty at the county jail upon the complaint of the county attorney. White had so soon notified that he was free to go where he pleased than a second warrant was read to him by Sheriff Hoagland and he was taken to Justice Stevens' court to be arraigned. Federal Grand Jury Meets. The federal grand jury is still in session, but no further indictments will be formally returned by it until Judge Munger returns to the city tomorrow afternoon. At the time of its adjournment last evening it was convened this morning at 9:30 for the purpose of beginning an investigation of the Greenwood bank case, in which A. D. Welton, president, and Lawrence Daft, cashier, are charged with having misappropriated a large amount of money. The witnesses from Greenwood who were to appear before the jury did not arrive until after 10 o'clock, however, so they were delayed in beginning this investigation. Judge Munger heard a case in the federal court in Omaha today. Tomorrow, according to the direction of the circuit court of appeals, he will hear a case in Council Bluffs, but it is thought that he will return to Lincoln in time to hear the indictments, if any, which the grand jury by that time will be ready to return.

SUPPORT IS PLEDGED FOR PACKING PLANT
Plenty of Money in Sight for Abattoir Project at Broken Bow. BROKEN BOW, Neb., Jan. 6.—(Special Telegram).—At a meeting held here by citizens, farmers and workmen of the town and county $1,000 was pledged as a guarantee of good faith and support toward the building of a packing plant in the near future. This sum was pledged in a very short time, and is half of the amount needed to capitalize the project. Many petitions from residents throughout the county to join the enterprise are being received by the Commercial club. A committee of investigation with full power to act was appointed and given two weeks to complete its work. If at the end of that time all obstacles are overcome and the committee reports favorably the rest of the money will be forthcoming, articles of incorporation filed and work commenced on the plant immediately.

WALTER GEVER OF VALENTINE SHOT THROUGH LEGS. VALENTINE, Neb., Jan. 6.—(Special Telegram).—Walter Gever, aged 14 years, was shot in the legs by his playmate, William Keeley, another boy of 13, with a .22 bullet. The Gever, Keeley and Salmon boys were playing "holdup" of some kind, the bunch having several guns, and finally in playing with the .22 revolver it accidentally went off. The Gever boy is in a very precarious condition as the result. The bullet has not been located as yet, but he is to be operated on soon.

ALLEGED GAME KEEPERS SLED
Thomas Barton, Who Sets He Lost in Grand Island, Wants Newer Back. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 6.—(Special Telegram).—Local politicians are declaring that if Richard Buess, ex-county clerk, accidentally fell into a stream he would emerge as dry as a Lancaster statesman. Buess was appointed county clerk to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Poell. In less than a year he was defeated by Gus E. Neumann for the rest of the unexpired term, one year. Then came the census report showing Hall county to have increased to more than 15,000, at which division line the county is supposed to have a register of deeds, and, according to an opinion of Deputy Attorney General Grant Martin in the Knox county case, it was the duty of the Board of Supervisors to appoint such an officer, and that his term would last for three years. The board unanimously appointed Mr. Buess. He has made an excellent record as county clerk in the meantime, turning in excess fees to the county of over $300 in a little over seven months, whereas in the last entire year of Poell's clerkship less than $600 excess fees were turned in out of $300 more of business.

GOVERNOR'S PARDON CREATES CRITICISM
Release of Ernest Stout Does Not Please Citizens in Community Where Crime Committed. HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 6.—(Special Telegram).—It has been learned here that one of Governor Shallenberger's last official acts was the pardoning of Ernest Stout, formerly of this city, from the penitentiary. Stout was convicted in Hall county of manslaughter and sentenced to nine years. He had served a little more than a year. Stout killed Joseph Eubank, an old man, with a whip on his farm just across the line in Hall county because Eubank was not working to suit him. He was put on trial for murder in the first degree, but during the trial it was discovered that there was a flaw in the information. The case was compromised by Stout's pleading guilty and accepting sentence. The parole has aroused considerable adverse criticism here. It was not known that the parole had even been considered until the news came yesterday that Stout had been liberated.

FARMER ACCUSED OF THEFT UNDER BOND
Granville Smith, Arraigned, Pleads Not Guilty to Taking Robes from Vehicle—Auto Attached. BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 6.—(Special Telegram).—Granville Smith, a young farmer charged with stealing horse blankets and robes from the buggy of Harry Larson of Filley, was arraigned in county court today and pleaded not guilty. His case was set for hearing January 13 and he was released on bond of $1,000. JOSEPH MCGRAW DIES AT HOME IN LINCOLN

Old Settler of Lancaster County Succumbs to Heart Disease—Leaves Family. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 6.—(Special).—Joseph McGraw, an old settler of Lincoln and Lancaster county and once a picturesque figure in local and state politics, died unexpectedly of heart trouble this morning shortly before 6 o'clock at his home, 1425 Poplar street. At 8:30 Mr. McGraw complained to his wife that it was difficult for him to breathe. He grew rapidly worse and in a short time was dead. The deceased had suffered from a heart affection, but recently he had been enjoying excellent health. He was 61 years old. He is survived by a widow and eight children. Joseph A. McGraw and Howell McGraw of Lincoln, Mrs. J. C. Brady of South Auburn, Mrs. W. F. Hinkel of Ord, Mrs. W. A. Upright of Los Angeles and Ada, Mabel and Hattie McGraw of this city.

Joseph McGraw came to Lancaster county in the spring of 1873. He lived on the farm for fourteen years, when he moved to Lincoln. In 1890 he was elected county commissioner and served for four years. Mr. McGraw was always deeply interested in politics. He was originally a republican. During the populist wave he affiliated with that party. Afterward he became a democrat.

McGraw was an old soldier and was named as adjutant of the Soldiers' home at Grand Island by Governor Shallenberger. While in office he became involved in a row with Commandant Barrus of the home, which resulted in McGraw filing charges of mismanagement against Barrus and tendering his resignation to the governor. The resignation was accepted and McGraw retired to private life. Recently he was engaged in the putting-up business.

Mr. McGraw was born in New York City. When he was barely 18 years of age he left his job as a machinist and entered in the Second New York state militia, afterward known as the Eighty-second United States volunteer infantry. He participated in many of the severest battles of the war of the rebellion and was discharged an account of illness. McGraw was a member of the Masonic lodge. The funeral will be held Saturday. Nebraska News Notes. GENEVA.—The Citizen News is preparing to move into the new building that replaced the one destroyed by fire a year ago.
