POLICE DRAGNET IS SET OUT

All Suspicious Characters Are to Be Hauled to Jail. POLICE FORCE IS CRIPPLED Several Are Off for Lack of Funds and Three Are Sick—Chief Donahue Hopes for Relief from the Legislature. Chief of Police Donahue has set out an order for the arrest of all suspicious characters. Unless a man can show where and how he lives to the satisfaction of the chief he will land in the city jail and stay there until someone comes to his relief. The continued holdups in the city has aroused Chief Donahue to action. "They must stop," declared the chief Thursday morning, "and I am of the opinion that it will be but a day or two until we will have these fellows in our toils." "Under present conditions it is extremely hard to cover the city as it should be. At present ten of our regular patrolmen are off duty, seven on leave of absence and three because of sickness. With the short-handed force the thieves and thugs have a better chance to ply their nefarious trade. "We are doing all we can to land these fellows," continued the chief. "When they are brought within the toils I believe that you will find them to be a gang of boys ranging in age from 15 to 22 years—boys who have been in the reform school. "The present system of paroling boys from the reform school has much to do with these petty robberies. The judges and reform school officials were not so free to parole boys. I do not think we would have near the petty crime that we have at present. "However, conditions show that we must have more patrolmen. The force now consists of eighty-four, but only seventy-four are working. It is utterly impossible for them to patrol all parts of the city. If the charter revision bill passes, conditions will be bettered. The new charter provides for an appropriation of $100,000 for police purposes. Now we are getting about $100,000. To properly police the city of Omaha we should have 150 patrolmen, but there is no chance to get this number." TWO BOY SUSPECTS ARE HELD Joseph Trimble and George Nagel Are Taken by Police. In the arrest of Joseph Trimble and George Nagel, two boys about 12 years of age, Captain John H. Savage feels certain that he has in custody two of the trio of holdup men who have been plying their trade to such good advantage during the winter. When Trimble was arrested with Nagel this morning in a house by Detectives Murphy and Van Deusen, a loaded revolver was found upon his person. With them was a third person, who escaped by a door in the rear. The boys have not confessed, but attempts at identification will be made by the police this afternoon. The two boys were in a general way to the description of the three men who committed three holdups in the vicinity of Tenth and Center streets Monday night. The three of the holdups occurred within a half hour of each other. When arrested Trimble and Nagel gave no addresses, saying that they had been stopping at different boarding houses about town. They said they were bell boys. Trimble was arrested with Monk Trummer and Sledge Nosky about three months ago and charged with highway robbery. Trummer received a sentence, but the other two were freed. ELTON IN NO IMMEDIATE DANGER Druggist Who Was Shot in Store is Likely to Survive. Green Seal of Quality Annual January Sales 1911

Nothing adds more to the beauty of home than artistic portieres, filmy lace curtains, and heavy draperies. Mercerized Armure portieres in plain and combination colors, or velour portieres in Gothic and Oriental patterns, impart a delightful atmosphere to the cozy home surroundings. For the business man they create a picture of comfortable home scenes in which he longs for a place. Cluny lace curtains are fully as effective in giving charm to the home, both in making it look pretty inside and appear attractive from the street. While our January sale is in progress many of these handsome goods are being sold at prices far below the original value. The portieres are in all plain colors—red, light olive, myrtle, golden brown, two-toned green or red—and in combinations of beautiful shades. Our stock of laces includes attractive Irish Points, Brussels, Duchess, Renaissance, Cluny, Antique, Arabians and Princess. Curtain yard goods of floral, conventional and filet square designs, in tones of white ivory or Arabian, are contained in this Green Seal of Quality concession.

Fortune in Feathers is Loot of Burglars

Kern's Millinery Store Robbed of a Wagonload of Valuable Plumage and Trimmings. Plumage and feathers worth between $1,000 and $1,500 were stolen from the millinery store of Fred Kern, 1283 Douglas street, last night. Burglars entered the establishment by cutting a panel from a back door. Goods not stolen were scattered about on the floor of the store room. The establishment was left in general confusion. A dozen or more of costly hats were stripped of their plumes and completely wrecked. Four valuable fur coats are also missing. The burglars left a number of cartridges scattered about the place. Mr. Kern will be unable to place the amount of his loss exactly until he inventories his stock. His stock of plumes will be the largest item. About a month ago Mr. Kern's residence was also robbed and he is beginning to think that he is a marked man.
