Woman Sent to Spy on Mrs. Schenk is Cross-Examined.

STICKS TO HER FIRST STORY Says that Defendant Told Her that She Would He Well Provided

For After Schenk is Dead. WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 16.-There are so many sides and angles in the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, charged with attempting to murder her husband, that attorneys are now convinced it will be several weeks before it is finally concluded in the Ohio county courts. Judge Jordan has done all in his power to expedite the trial. Prosecutor Handian will not have his evidence in until January 19 and the defense expects to consume a week in presenting Its side. This will bring the trial to the end of next week withopt the argument.

Mrs. Schenk spent Sunday quietly in her Tower room and it was stated devoted much of the time to reading letters, which are pouring in on ner at the rate of 100 t day from all parts of the English-speaking world. - Some of them have been given out for publication, all of them being sentiments in her favor. One contained a pronosal of marriage.

Miss Eleanor Zocckler, the detective NEW nurse, who had been known at the hospital where Schenk was taken as Mrs. Klein, and who gave much damaging evidence against Mrs. Schenk on Saturday, was on the stand when court convened today. The crowd was as large as ever in spite of the birter cold and the court room was filled long before the hour for the taking of Offer from Mrs. Schenk. Mrs. Schenck told me on one occasion, sald the witness in a voice so low that it could not be heard in the audience, "that provided for. Friday following the offer to give me $1,000 to polson Mr. Schenk, Beaton Drug Co. thank came to the hospital and asked me to be left alone in the room with Orphanage at Iowa Schenk for a few minutes. We left them alone, and there were high words between them. On one occasion I remarked to Mrs. Schenk, 'Well, he's making some improvement,' and she replied, 'Yes, to my

In answer to the questions of Prosecuto Handian as to what Mrs. Schenk had said to the witness after her arrest and they were alone, the detective said:

said: Just look what you have got me into," and she said. Shut up, you fool; don't tell anything.""

Miss Zoeckier stated that prior to this time she came here to work on the case she knew nothing of the Schenks, although she is distantly related to them.

Cross-Examination is Severe. She reiterated that she had been instructed by Prosecutor Handlan to catch Mrs. Schank by any means possible. Miss. Zoeckler spent a troublous hour or two in cross-examination at the hands of Attorney 8. O. Boyce for the defense.

"You were paid money for lying and lay ing traps for Mrs. Schenk, were you?" asked Mr. Boyce. "I was instructed to do what I could."

The private and public life of the witness was then gone into in detail. She related that her frusband, Dr. K. Ley, had obtained a divorce from her and she had earned her living in Pittsburg as a nurse for a time and then worked in stores and later went into detective work for a private agency. The Schenk case was her first work. "What did you say to Mrs. Schenk when she said if anything happened to John, you were to get the keys of his safe deposit vault before Albert got them?" asked Attorney Boyce.

"I said I was afraid I would get into trouble. I was ir the room with her all
