

Revision of Foot Ball Rules Proposed for Consideration in One Week; Bowlers Make Marks

WORK FOR RULES COMMITTEE

Seven Important Changes Proposed for Foot Ball.

MEETING IN NEW YORK FRIDAY

Offense Under Handicap With 25-Yard Zone, So Several Remedies Suggested to Increase Power of Attack.

SUGGESTED RULE REVISION.

Removal of five-yard line restriction from inside line.
Removal of five-yard restriction from forward pass.
Permit player who intercepts forward pass to make only distance to spot where pass was made.
Permit forward pass to be effective in zone ten yards behind goal line, or shorten the field of play by twenty yards.
Permit one man of the attacking side to be in motion at the foot ball line before ball is put in play.
Make distance to be gained within twenty-five-yard line seven instead of ten yards, or make number of downs for ten yards within this zone four.
Allow the runner to "take on" one interfeer.

These are the most important suggestions for the revision of the foot ball rules that will come up for consideration by the intercollegiate foot ball rules committee in New York on Friday and Saturday. None of these proposed changes are made by the radical element when it reaches the game for next fall will be little altered from the open play that was seen last fall.

It is the general opinion of foot ball experts in the country that the rules of last fall accomplished the purpose for which they were designed—prevention of numerous injuries and reconciliation of the anti-foot ball wing of the college. Because the rules as altered for last fall lessened the number of deaths the mollycoddlers have no grounds for making a holler this winter and the session of the rules body in New York this week will be harmonious.

OFFENSE UNDER HANDICAP.

Play in all sections of the country last season demonstrated that under the present rules an offensive team, 25 per cent stronger than its opponent, is up against a hard problem when it reaches the twenty-five yard line and attempts to score. Of course, with an accurate kicker a method denied to a great majority of the eleven. The defensive organization proved capable of stopping the attack of the opposing team in many instances in the zone. The forward pass and onside kick, plays designed to solve the scoring problem, proved ineffective and dangerous, and did not give the result desired.

The ends of the defensive eleven were pulled back of the line of scrimmage in an effort to disrupt the pass before the thrower, who had to move five yards back, could execute his pass. With the support of the tackles and halfbacks the ends could keep the territory closely guarded against both pass and onside kick.

To remedy this situation in great degree it has been suggested that the five-yard restriction be removed from the pass and kick, permitting the offensive player to pass or kick the ball while close behind his line. If this measure could be drafted into the regulations the defensive ends would not be able to penetrate the plans of the offensive team to such an extent that they would be permitted to come in close to intercept or stop the kick.

Not many teams are loathe to use the pass or try the kick within territory so close to the goal line, for it is dangerous whether the team employing it be that distance from its own line or that of its opponent. After an eleven has carried the oval to the twenty-five-yard mark, the pass is likely to lose the ball. Or, if the offensive team be within twenty-five yards of its own goal and try the pass, the ball is likely to be intercepted and carried over to a touchdown.

ONLY SMALL RETURNS.

So to remove the dangerous features of the pass and onside kick it is suggested that the player intercepting the onside kick be permitted to take the ball only to the spot from which the kick or pass was made.

But even with this alteration of the rules, the pass would not be very effective, though it might often be used. A player cannot make a pass across the goal line and get a touchdown. The ball must be caught inside and carried over. To give the offense more chance with the pass within the twenty-five yard zone, it is proposed to extend the territory of the pass ten yards behind the goal line, making any pass that falls into that territory valid. Of course, there will be any amount of objection to such a rule. It also has been proposed that the playing field be shortened twenty yards, so the offense would not have to carry the ball so far. This would give the running game less distance to gain and would make a kicker more valuable.

It is suggested that one man on the offensive side be allowed to be in motion, parallel to the rush line, before the ball is put in play. This proposal is made so as to give the offense a trick to combat the triangle of the defense, the end guard and halfback. The loose runner would force the end to go out and would give the attacking force a chance to concentrate its power against one slightly weakened wing.

SAFETY ELEMENT TO OBJECT.

No runners were permitted to hold on to their interfeers last fall, but it will be moved that the runner be allowed to "take on" to one player. This rule will be objected to by the same element as a step backward and probably will not go through.

Considerable discussion will take place over the interpretation of the rules by officials and it is not unlikely that some measures will be taken to force the officials to give more strict attention to the letter of the law. The rules need weeding out and their phraseology should be changed, but the officials will still have a task no matter what the committee is able to do with the English language and the code. If the officials will enforce all the rules (and this means that competent men must be engaged to officiate) there will be less ground for complaint than there was last fall, though the code remains as complicated as ever.

BOWLING TEAMS AT LUNCHES.

Russian Lion Gets More Than Bargained For in Roller Match

Fails to Throw Seattle Wrestler Once in Hour, Though Promised Two Falls.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—When George Hackenschmidt guaranteed to throw Dr. H. F. Roller twice in an hour he promised too much and failed to secure even one fall within the allotted time. The Russian Lion appeared to a disadvantage with Roller and was on the defensive nearly as much as the Seattle doctor.

Roller broke Hackenschmidt's holds with ease and finished apparently in better condition than Hackenschmidt. Roller poked Hackenschmidt up several times and threw him to the mat, but at no time had a chance for a fall. In the preliminaries Blocka won in two straight falls from Collins.

Holden, an Omaha wrestler, appeared for the first time before a Lincoln audience and made a big hit with the crowd with his clever work against Ernest Hackenschmidt's trainer. Ernest won two straight falls.

Would Form Tri-City Amateur Ball League

Enthusiasts of Three Cities in Hopes of Forming Organization—Quigley May Leave City.

The formation of a Tri-City league of amateur teams in the three cities is one of the things that the enthusiasts of that class of base ball are earnestly wishing would come to pass. The making and keeping up of such a league is very hard, but it is found possible and advisable in many cities the size of the three cities right here on the Missouri. An effort to form such a league will probably be made.

Frank Quigley, captain of the St. Joseph Triumphant last year and for years manager and captain of the Diets organization, may not be in Omaha next year, as he is seriously considering an offer from President Carey of the Mink league to manage the Nebraska City team next year. Quigley has always been a most enthusiastic supporter of amateur sports in Omaha and his loss would be felt greatly in both foot ball and base ball. If he went to Nebraska City he would probably play the outfield and act as utility catcher.

TALK OF NEW AMATEUR BALL PARK FOR OMAHA

Deal is on to Rebuild on Site of Old Diets Park.

Omaha may have another amateur ball park next summer if arrangements can be made for ground suitable for such a purpose. William Stockham of the firm of Stockham & Misener, is representing a number of the amateur players of the city in such an undertaking.

The grounds where the old Diets park stood a few years ago are probably the best in the city for a base ball park, but as the park is owned by an eastern syndicate, which is adverse to letting it for a term of years, this place does not seem feasible. The Diets park grounds are on Spaulding and Thirtieth streets, at the end of the Dodge street car line.

The proposition of the owners of the grounds is to let the park for a year at a time, with one year's notice of removal. This means practically a two years' contract, but the Omaha men do not want to take it under five years, as the cost of erecting the ball park would be $7,000 or $8,000. The cost of purchasing the ground outright would be about $14,000.

At present the only amateur park in Omaha is the Benson Eagles' park, near Krug park.

Amateur base ball in Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs was very successful last season and the prospect of another park would boost it big for the coming year. The various teams are lining up now for the coming season in April.

MARSHALL AND CHAJES PLAY TIE

Two Leaders in Chess Tournament Retain Same Position.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The two leaders in the National Chess Masters' tournament, Marshall, the United States champion, and Oscar Chajes of Chicago, played together in the eleventh round today.

But as the game was drawn the men retained their respective positions, Marshall still first because he has lost one less game. Marshall defended a queen's pawn opening and the draw was declared after forty-one moves.

Jose R. Capablanca, the Cuban, won his game today from Smith of Brooklyn and dropped into third place. Smith is eighth in the competition.

C. Jaffe, of London, and G. W. Walcott defeated respectively, Kreyzbom, Baird and Morris, and Tenenweiss disposed of Black of Brooklyn in the shortest game of the round, after eighteen moves. The day's play left Jaffe in fourth place, Johner fifth, Walcott sixth, Black seventh, Smith eighth, Tenenweiss ninth, Hodges tenth, Baird eleventh, Kreyzbom twelfth and Morris last.

TRAINER WINS AS 'PAULEY' Sioux City Man Disqualified for Trick in Bowling.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 1.—Officials of the American Bowling congress tonight disqualified F. L. Trainer of Sioux City, Ia., who competed in the individual events today under the name of "William Pauley" and established a score of 874, giving him second place in the list of leaders.

Pauley is a member of the Sioux City five-men team and was scheduled to compete in the single events, but was taken ill. Trainer took his place, using Pauley's name. In the two-men events three teams rolled 1,300 totals. H. T. Waters and H. J. F. Krauss of Washington scored 1,317 for the highest game. They are now sixth in the list of leaders. In his second game Krauss made eight strikes, having a spare in the fourth and ninth frames and finished with a score of 828. C. J. Taylor and N. Brady of St. Paul fell a single short of equaling the mark of the Washington team and landed in seventh place.

Low scores were made tonight in the five-men team events, the Western Breads of Sioux City, Ia., leading in the attack with 2,028, nearly 50 pins short of the Fleners' record of Chicago, who are leading with 2,024.

E. L. Trainer, who in the singles competed under the name of "Pauley," rolled with the low five and made very ordinary scores. The B. C. C. five of Grand Rapids, Mich., rolled the second highest score, setting 1,656 pins. Scores:

UNIVERSITY OF OMAHA TO ENTER TEAM IN BIG MEET

Students Are Training for the Big Indoor Affair to Be Held at the Auditorium.

There is some likelihood that the university will enter the big indoor track meet to be held in Omaha, April under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic union. The reason for coming to this decision is that some of the new students are very good track men and with a few others who have been in school prior to this time a team can be selected that it does not carry off any ribbon, will make the other schools in this locality realize that a new competitor has entered the field, which will make them work before they can claim to be the best in this section.

TOM BARRY TO COACH DENVER

Former University of Wisconsin Man Gets Job—Fifteen Students Receive Letters.

Tom Barry, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, has been elected foot ball coach as successor to Deacon John P. Koehler of Denver University, in the same announcement. Rex Curtis is declared foot ball captain for the year 1911. Curtis is a former Denver high school star and has made a good record on the Denver university eleven.

Fifteen students received letters at the annual foot ball meeting held this week. Coach Bruce and Manager Wingender also received souvenirs of the year. A letter from the new coach, Barry, was read to the entire school at the occasion of the giving of the letters.

Fifteen students received letters for the year as follows: Curtis, Volk, Crowley, Walker, Koopman, Fike, Bailey, Welten, Miller, Darden, Sterling, Large, Herbert, Taylor and Hammond. Reserve letters were granted to Wilcox and Deers, and Goodale was given a student manager's initial.

It is to be expected that the Denver university will play Nebraska the coming year, as the games in the last few years have been won so easily by the stronger Cornubakers that both schools have almost come to the conclusion that it would be better to give them up.

They ran a fast race over wide range and worked out the territory well, but found no birds.

Westergaard Declares He Would Like to Arrange for Another Match in Omaha.

Jess Westergaard, the wrestler of Iowa, was in Omaha Wednesday, enroute from Denver to his home in Des Moines.
