VOTE ON TARIFF BOARD BILL

Senate Agrees to Ballot Early Saturday Morning.

FILIBUSTER LASTS ALL NIGHT

Senator Stone Taken from Floor on Point of Order During Long Speech Intended to Kill Measure.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Order out of chaos was brought at 3:00 o'clock this morning when the senate, after listening to many hours of filibustering, reached an agreement that at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning a vote would be taken on the bill to create a permanent tariff board.

It was like snatching a brand from the burning when Senator Stone, who had accomplished that result, what had been supposed to be the death knell for this measure had sounded several hours before. The senate at 4 o'clock adjourned until 10 o'clock today.

Unfamiliarity with the rules of the senate on the part of the measure was responsible for the obstructive tactics which Senator Stone, confident of his ability to hold the floor for the night, had permitted the cohorts of long-distance talkers, who were to spell him today, to go to their homes. Learning that fact, Senator Beveridge invoked "rule nineteen," to take Senator Stone from the floor. Under this rule no senator shall speak more than twice upon any one subject in debate on the same day without leave of the senate.

Senator Stone had spoken early in the day on the tariff board bill. He spoke again at the night session. During his later speech he moved to proceed with the sundry civil bill, which motion under the rules of the senate had the effect of taking him from the floor pending the disposition of that motion.

Beveridge Makes Point.

The motion was defeated and at once upon his attempting to resume his speech Senator Beveridge made the point of order that Mr. Stone already had spoken twice. Vice President Sherman was inclined not to make a controversy and at once asked Mr. Stone if he had spoken twice. Mr. Stone declared he could not remember. Thereupon the vice president called on the official stenographers and it was found that their notes verified Mr. Beveridge's point. Mr. Sherman sustained the point of order, which deprived Mr. Stone of the floor. It was 2 o'clock when Mr. Stone was compelled to take his shoes. Senator Overman assayed to fill his shoes, but was not equipped for a long speech and an hour later the agreement was made fixing the time for a vote.

At the request of several senators the agreement included the taking up of the naval appropriation bill, but after that had been considered for a little less than an hour, Mr. Stone forced an adjournment. He made a point of no quorum and as so many senators had gone home after getting the tariff board bill out of the way, it was impossible to muster enough senators to remain in session.

taken from the floor. The Missouri senator himself protested loudly that the record of his previous speeches should be read so that the senate might judge whether he had exhausted his right under the rules to speak on the tariff board bill.

The vice president declined to read these speeches and called Mr. Stone to order, when he declared the ruling of the chair to be arbitrary and unjust.

Mr. Stone repeating the charge then sat down. Senator Overman protested against the word of the stenographer being taken against the word of a senator. Mr. Sherman said the word of the senator had not been given; that when called upon to say whether he had spoken twice that day, the senators had declared he could not recall having done so. Mr. Sherman said his only course had been to have the records of debate examined.

Carter Proposes Date.

Not having any speakers present, who would undertake to hold the floor for the remainder of the night and during the following forenoon, Senator Stone was a willing listener to a suggestion which came from a short time later from Senator Carter of Montana. It was proposed by Mr. Carter that a time be fixed on Saturday for a vote on the tariff board bill so that all of today and tonight could be devoted to the consideration of appropriation bills and bills on the calendar.

Senator Carter said it was the duty of members to enact the appropriation measures and he declared that democrats would be justified in forcing the supply bills into an extra session. He pointed out that on two occasions within the memory of some of the senators present, the democrats had enacted appropriation bills to cover the expenses of the government for a period in which a republican administration was to be in control.

This statement was in response to the assertion of Senator Owen that appropriation bills should be turned over to the new democratic congress.

Objection from Heyburn.

Just as everyone began to breathe easy in the confidence that the proposal was to be accepted, Senator Heyburn objected to any unanimous consent agreement which had "a string attached to it." The string of which he complained, was a tacit understanding that in the event of the adoption of Senator Carter's suggestion a recess should be taken immediately, so that the exhausted senators could get some rest. Mr. Heyburn said he would not consent to the fixing of a time for a vote unless the senate proceeded immediately to the consideration of appropriation bills.

Immediately a group of senators surrounded Mr. Heyburn and pleaded with him to relent. Mr. Stone displayed some anger because of the objection and he too, had to be pacified. Senator Carter finally suggested that a compromise might be made by incorporating in the agreement a rule to proceed with the naval appropriation bill. Senator Stone accepted this as he believed it could be gotten out of the way in half an hour. Senator Heyburn interposed no objection, saying he was satisfied so long as the senate made progress. The naval bill took more time than was anticipated and, after nearly an hour had been devoted to it, Mr. Stone protested that it was evident that it could not be finished without keeping the senate too long, and he moved an adjournment. The motion was rejected, whereupon he raised the point of no quorum. Rather than route tired senators from their beds, Senator Perkins moved to adjourn.

FRIARS' LAND SALES REGULAR

Two Reports to House Absolve Officials from All Charges.

PRESENT LAW IS INADEQUATE

Both Recommend that Amendments Be Made that Will Prevent Control of Large Tracts by Individuals or Corporations.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Complete exoneration of the officers of the Philippine Islands government of all charges of irregularities or improprieties in connection with the administration, sales or leases of lands in the Philippines, yet, on the other hand, pointed criticisms of the inadequacy of the present laws to prevent monopolies in what are known as the "friar lands," are expressed in both the majority and minority reports of the house committee on insular affairs submitted to the house today.

The charge made on the floor of the house a year ago by Representative Martin of Colorado that the so-called sugar trust had acquired 56,000 acres of the "friar lands" led to an investigation of the entire question of the administration of public lands as well as "friar lands."

Both reports concur in the opinion that the organic act of 1902 in limiting individuals to forty acres and corporations to 2,500 acres in the amount of public land that may be acquired does not impose the same restrictions on the disposition of the "friar lands."

The majority report argues that as a practical expedient the "friar lands" should be disposed of in larger quantities to attract buyers, while the minority claim that the sale of the "friar land," in large tracts may develop a system of absentee landlordism as obnoxious to the Philippines as that of the friars against whom they once rebelled. The latter also suggest that a friendly proceeding be begun in the courts by the officers of the Philippine government to determine the exact legal status of the "friar lands" with respect to public lands regulations.

Alleged Sugar Trust Deal.
As to the acquisition by E. L. Poole of 56,000 acres of the "friar lands" on behalf of Horace Haveny, Charles J. Welch and Charles I. Smith, representatives, to declare the house officials involved were not culpable, being guided by the best available interpretations of the law.
