GENERAL WOOD TO GO SOUTH

Chief of Staff Will Make Trip of Inspection in April.

FIRST TROOPS AT SAN ANTONIO

Seventy-Five Special Trains Will Arrive Within the Next Seventy-Two Hours—Call for Supplies.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—With all the details of the great movement of troops completed and the scene of activity shifted from Washington to the field headquarters of the army today is awaiting the arrival of the units of the moving commands at their objective points.

Major General William H. Carter, commander of the division concentrating at San Antonio, is expected to arrive at the Texas post tomorrow. Reports to the War department indicate that by that time nearly all of the troops which will form the division will have reported.

Major General Leonard Wood, it was announced at the War department today, probably will go to the border in April. The purpose of his trip will be to inspect the camp and commands along the frontier.

The navy is carrying out its part of the operations just as if the sudden and extensive preparation of war vessels for active duty was a part of every-day life.

The armored cruiser, Washington, the remaining unit of the division which is undergoing repairs at the Portsmouth (N. H.) navy yard, will be ready for duty on March 11 when it will be sent to join its division.

The admissions in administration circles that the military activity is inspired by conditions in Mexico were read with deep interest today by officers of the army and navy, a majority of whom had accepted the earlier explanation that the operations were merely technical exercises and drills in the art of war.

First Troops at San Antonio. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 10.—Not knowing just how to designate the concentration of troops down here, they call it "alias maneuvers."

The train bearing Brigadier General A. L. Mills, who is to command the troops to be mobilized, and Colonel C. J. Bailey, who will command the first provisional regiment of coast artillery, here, arrived today.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 10.—The armored cruiser Washington, at the navy yard here, received orders today from Washington to proceed as soon as possible to Guantanamo, Cuba.

SCHOOL TREASURERS TO STAY

Senate Defeats Bill to Abolish Office and Place Funds in Banks at Interest—Dolliver Memo.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., March 10.—(Special Telegram.)—The advisory board of the Iowa National guard this evening completed the list of officers of the guard to be forwarded to the War department, from which designations may be made with a view to having these guard officers sent to Texas.

The Iowa senate this evening defeated, 14 to 24, the bill to abolish the office of school treasurer and to have the school funds placed in banks at interest.

The legislature today arranged for a joint assembly meeting next Thursday evening for a memorial for the late Senator Dolliver, to be addressed by Robert G. Cousins.

The Iowa house this evening set next Thursday morning as the time for consideration of a bill to forbid saloons within five miles of the state university.

The following decisions have been rendered by the supreme court: J. O. Lee, appellant, against T. J. Lee, Polk county, affirmed.

Mary J. Camp against city of Davenport, appellant, Scott county, reversed. H. F. Paine against A. F. Mueller, appellant, Hamilton county, affirmed.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 10.—The armored cruiser Washington, at the navy yard here, received orders today from Washington to proceed as soon as possible to Guantanamo, Cuba.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 10.—Joseph S. Clark in his testimony in the Pemberton-Clark trial today admitted that he had forgotten certain incidents when he testified before the Chicago grand jury in connection with the bribery investigation in that city.

In questioning Mr. Clark, State's Attorney Burke brought out that before the contract had been let for the furniture in the state house, Les O'Neill Brown approached Clark and said:

"Joe, be careful in the furniture, there is a bad man on the commission." "He was referring to Holstlaw," said Clark.

Clark was asked if he did not testify before the Chicago grand jury that he had never heard of "any conversation implicating anyone of soliciting or accepting money in return for their vote in the state legislature."

"I can't quite recall; I may have said that," he answered. "In other words," said Mr. Burke, "you forgot about this Holstlaw and Brown business until today?"

"Yes, sir." Senator Pemberton also testified and denied any wrong act.

BRITISH CREW STAYS BY SHIP Twenty-Eight Men on Manchuria Refuse to Leave Vessel After Night of Terror.

NORFOLK, Va., March 10.—After a night of terror, twenty-eight members of the crew of the British steamer Manchuria, stranded three miles below Littleport on the Virginia coast, refused to leave the vessel today and from the deck of the ship waved their hands to their eight shipmates who last night risked their lives in the breeches buoy to reach shore through mountain-high waves.

With the shifting of the wind the sea today was almost as calm as a mill pond and the life savers, who last night could hardly keep their feet because of the high waves that bore down upon them on the beach, were able to launch their lifeboats to take off the remainder of the crew of the stranded ship.

Tenn. He was a man of splendid physique. He is believed to be George Meredith of Omaha, as a card case on his person, which was the only mark of identification, bore that name and address. The soldier's home has been wired for information, but no response has come.

Efforts made in Omaha to learn the identity of the man supposed to be Meredith were unavailing.

Count Leo Tolstoy Comes to America Son of Russian Author Will Study Social Conditions—Talks of Father's Last Days.

NEW YORK, March 10.—"What do you want to know about me?" asked Count Leo Tolstoy, son of the late Count Tolstoy, "I am only the son of a great man."

Count Tolstoy came here today on the Mauretania and is visiting America to study social conditions. He will meet President Taft, John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie, Colonel Roosevelt and other eminent Americans.

At a concert given on ship board last night Count Tolstoy told of the last days of his father and repudiated stories that the elder Tolstoy left his home to die because of domestic dissension.

"His life was a happy one," said the young man. "He loved his home and his family. But in the latter days of his life, Lord Redstock, the English evangelist, obtained great influence over him. Lord Redstock persuaded my father that the life he lived in his comfortable home was not in accord with the theories he professed. Acting on this, my father left his home. The end of the weary pilgrimage is known to all the world. There was no less affection on his part toward his family. His action was taken to demonstrate the theory of life he had always urged."

Colorado WOMAN TALKS Mrs. Helen Loring Grenfell Tells of Conditions.

LINCOLN, March 10.—(Special.)—The house listened this morning to a short talk upon woman's suffrage by Mrs. Helen Loring Grenfell of Colorado. She was scheduled to speak upon prison reform, but took up the other topic and described conditions as they are in Colorado. She asserted that the writers who have written of that state have erred from lack of knowledge. "Of all the women holding office in Colorado," said Mrs. Grenfell, "I have never heard of one who has abused a public trust."
