MAHER READY FOR WAR GAME

He and P. James McGrave of Lincoln to Form Crack Regiment.

WILL BE READY FOR THE TOCSIN

Mayor Don L. Love Issues Statement in His Campaign for Renomination in Which He Defends Present Excise Policy.

From a Staff Correspondent. LINCOLN, March 11.—(Special.)—War enthusiasts in the city of Lincoln, led by Colonel John Maher and Judge P. J. McGrave are planning to form a crack regiment of Nebraska men to go to the front if anything develops in the Mexican situation. At a meeting of the Spanish War Veterans and members of the Grand Army of the Republic, held last night, the idea was sprung, and during the day has been growing in favor, among the young men in the city who have seen service or who have wanted to see active work in the field.

The idea of Colonel Maher is to take into the ranks of this regiment of Nebraska's finest only experienced and war-hardened men who will be sure of acquitting themselves creditably in any situation and in no danger of falling in a critical moment.

Mayor Love, entering actively into the campaign for re-election, has issued a platform stating his view. He upholds the present excise policy of the city and states his reasons for believing it has been of benefit to the city. He says in part: As I am a candidate for re-election to the office of mayor of the city of Lincoln, it may be proper to review briefly my position on the subjects of public interest to the people of the city at this time. I was elected to the office of mayor two years ago at the time when, by a vote of the people, a law was enacted which provided for the issuance of licenses in this city for the sale of intoxicating liquors. I did not think it desirable to have a question of that nature, believing that gradual restriction was a better way to handle the question.

HONEST CONFESION

A Doctor's Talk on Food.

There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact. A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up.

"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all much advertised foods. Hence I never read a line of the many ads of Grape-Nuts, nor tasted the food till last winter. "While in Corpus Christi, in Texas, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons. "I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way. "There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sites as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does. "I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 30 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Look in the box, for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

End of Electric Light Fight at Alliance

City Pays Fifty-Five Thousand Dollars for the Plant and Will Take it Over Wednesday.

ALLIANCE, Neb., March 11.—(Special.)—The controversy between the city of Alliance and the Electric Light and Power company has now been finally settled by the city taking over the plant for $55,000, the city to take possession on the 15th instant. Warrants will be issued for $60,000 and the balance of $5,000 will be paid in three annual installments of $1,666 each. The settlement came as a great surprise, owing to the fact that after refusing the city's first offer the matter was placed in the hands of a board of appraisers, which was satisfactory to both parties, this board awarding the company $39,000, and as the city refused to pay that amount the company caused papers to be prepared with a view to bringing suit, as according to the franchise agreement the city was obliged to purchase at the price set by the board of arbitration.

On Sunday Mr. Locke, president of the company, arrived here and on Monday the city made another offer of $43,000, later raising the offer to $48,000 and $50,000. The company, however, refused to consider any offer under $55,000, at which figure the company originally offered to sell the plant. After some further dickering the city council saw that any attempt to lower this figure would be futile and took the plant for $55,000. Although light and power will not immediately decline in price, the plant earns over $10,000 per annum, and after some needed improvements the taxpayers will receive the benefit of these earnings.

Squabble Over Light Plant at Broken Bow

Council Revokes Franchise of Company Because of Alleged Violations of It.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., March 11.—(Special.)—The city council and electric light people are still making faces at each other, neither party having as yet exhibited any signs of displaying the olive branch. The council claims that the light company has repeatedly violated its agreements with the city and at the last meeting held by that body the franchise was revoked.

Manager Steen declares there was no notification of a council meeting given him when the present action was taken and he is going to go ahead with the work as though nothing had happened. He says lights will be turned on between the 15th and the last part of the month. C. S. Martin, one of the leading men of the company, further states that the plant will be put in operation even though his residence be the only house in town lighted with electricity. According to statements made by some of the councilmen the city has been sparing for some time with the light people in order to make them concede certain points that would be to the city's interests and this latest mode of procedure was adopted in order to bring them to time.

CALVE AND GASPARI MARRIED

Union of the Two Singers Kept a Secret for a Year.

NOT TALKING OF THE AFFAIR

Ceremony Performed in a Little Out-of-the-Way Chapel in Marcellite and Only Two Friends Are Present.

NEW YORK, March 11.—(Special Telegram.)—The mystery that has cloaked the relations of Madame Emma Calve and Alnor Gaspari, the Florentine tenor, was cleared up today, when they sat on the American liner St. Paul, admitting that they have been man and wife for a year. They were married in Marcellite, France, last March, but kept their union a secret, save from their most intimate friends.

All sorts of rumors and scandals followed them on their honeymoon tour of the world, but they maintained an unbroken silence. Even upon sailing today they were entered on the passenger list as Emma Calve and Alnor Gaspari, no mention being made of their relations as man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Gaspari have been in New York a week. Upon their arrival here they went to the Hotel Plaza, where they registered separately and were provided with separate suites. They spent most of their time away from the hotel and at the home of Jeanne Berno Backus, the Metropolitan opera house coach.

Wife Says They Staked. All artists of their standing in the operatic world do not like to intrude their marital relations before the public. Miss Baskerville purchased the steamship tickets for the honeymoon couple and at their request had their names entered separately on the passenger list. They did not board the St. Paul until almost the last minute. Calve and Gaspari tried to her state room and locked herself in. Gaspari stood guard at the door.

When approached, he laughed and said: "Well, what have you come to learn?" "I would like to interview Calve about her marriage," cried Gaspari. "She will see me no. She will not talk. I will see her no. It is in her nature, but she is different. Hah! You newspapers are too curious." "Hah!" exclaimed Gaspari, "that is nothing."

"Why not? But I tell you, Mme. Calve can see no one. She will not talk. I will see her no. It is in her nature, but she is different. Hah! You newspapers are too curious."

Calve and Gaspari were married in a little out of the way chapel in the city of Marcellite. Only two intimate friends witnessed the ceremony, and they were bound to secrecy. The bridegroom made the effort to the beautiful villa that Calve has built at Montpellier, in the southern part of France.

Then they sailed from Marcellite for the Orient shortly after their marriage. They arrived at San Francisco about two weeks ago. It was their original intention to return from San Francisco to the Orient and get back to France, via the trans-Siberian railroad, important business affairs drew them to New York. They will go on once to their country home in Montpellier upon their arrival in Europe, but their effort to keep up the appearance of being single will end when they disembark from the St. Paul at Southampton.

EUROPE ON MOVE TO MEXICO

United States Entering on New Stage of National Life.

GERMANY IS FEELING GROUCHY

London Writer Thinks Uncle Sam Knows How to Skin a Cat, While Berlin Says Diaz's Country is to Be Cannibized.

LONDON, March 11.—(Special Cablegram.)—From the concentration of American troops and war ships at points contiguous to the Mexican border, Europe is drawing an extremely broad conclusion, and one that cannot be modified easily by diplomatic notes. Summed up in a sentence it is this: The United States is entering upon a new stage of national life on the southern frontier, just as it is endeavoring to enter upon a new stage in the northern frontier agreement.

Drawn with complacency in certain parts of Europe, the deduction is distinctly unwelcome in other. The general feeling is that all Europe is affected profoundly by the plans for the "maneuvers," no less than by the proposed revision of fiscal arrangements. It is taken for granted that the Washington policy in both matters, as in all others, will be "no step backward and no sidestepping."

Paris is Sedate. Paris, which views the situation more sedately than any other capital of importance, thinks, despite the exchange of "messages for public consumption," between the Taft and Diaz administrations, that the United States is acting admirably in coupling with "its polite, but inflexible demand upon Mexico for irreducible min-

Clark's famous reference to Canadian annexation.

Ambassador Bryce's disclaimer of any probability that the pan-American propaganda of the United States will succeed, either in the Dominion or in the Latin republics, does not satisfy the average Englishman.

How to Skin a Cat.

Under the caption, "Champ, Champ, Champ, the boys are marching," a clever writer hits off the suspicions of the "man-in-the-street," by saying that "No one knows better than Uncle Sam how to skin a cat, or how many ways there are of performing the operation—the Hawaiian way—the Alaskan way, the Philippine way, the Panama way, the Cuban way, the Honduras way, and other ways the plausible old gentleman is willing to illustrate if the cat will only let us."

Germany Feels Ugly. Mr. Taft's Mexican policy, according to the German commentator, who goes further into the realm of irresponsible conjecture, shows "the hollowness of the old pretense of the Monroe doctrine to be a safeguard for the Latin republics, now that all the world sees Taft using Monroe's mantle to cover a fishing expedition in troubled waters."
