OMAHA IS HOST TO DELEGATION

Ours is the most essentially agricultural state in the union. We have not the salt, oil, coal, zinc or gas of Kansas and Missouri, nor any of the precious metals of Colorado, Wyoming or South Dakota. In this respect, our position is unique among the states. What factors are engaged in changing the form of our crops and cattle; as mills, creameries and packing houses.

Omaha the Market Town. Good crops and good prices or the lack of them determines the course of industry, commerce and finance in our state. By reason of this, your railroad trains are laden, or the rails are covered with rust; what factories you have will be busy or closed; your metropolitan newspapers will have many subscribers or few, and banks will be relatively solvent or insolvent. This combination has made Omaha, in which we all have a pardonable pride, during the last fifteen years one of the leading packing centers of the United States, and your great creamery plants, with their daily gathered golden product, concentrated from the herbage of clover, meadow, buffalo grass pastures and sand hills, excursions and, being refused, denounced the robbers to the police, resulting in their imprisonment. Cuccolo was already under suspicion and this final accusation against him resulted in the determination to put him out of the way.

Salvi is a small man and he called the attention of the court to this fact, saying: "The strong and dreaded Camorristi would never think of employing a man of my size to murder an able-bodied man." As to the finding of the ring, he declared that it had been placed in the bed by the Carabinieri in a deliberate effort to make evidence against the Camorristi.

Priest Criticized. The priest, Cirro Vitroz, is suffering from angina pectoris and it was against the advice of the prison physicians that he went to court today. While he was being taken thither the springs of the wagon broke and he was told that in view of the weakness of his heart, the accident might have resulted in his death. To this the priest replied: "That would have been a short cut to the end of all my miseries."

The one reactionary element in the west is leaning toward the old Bourbon policy of lowering the tariff, which is well and proper whenever the treasury can stand it and it is not made sectional or grossly unequal in application. Western representation should stand for these progressive policies among others. Election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. Diamond Information

It is what most prospective purchasers appreciate. Everybody realizes that all diamonds are not alike. There is as much difference in these precious stones as there is in people. The difference in a diamond is in its color. In its power to refract light, in its size and in its freedom from flaws. Blue white diamonds are the finest. Clear white diamonds rank next. In addition there are some very beautiful colored diamonds, which are extremely scarce. Size matters less than brilliancy and it is better to have a pure small brilliant than a large stone of less life and poorer color. At the Edholm store diamonds are so perfectly understood that one is assured of getting the kind of a gem he desires. We take pride in guiding our customers to the purchase of the right kind of diamonds.

in any way a part of the law nor necessary to it.

As a matter of fact a new initiative and referendum bill could yet be introduced in the legislature. If the two houses should agree to it. All that is necessary for a constitutional amendment which is to be submitted to the people is a concurrent resolution, and such a resolution, in the opinion of the speaker and other officials, can be introduced at any time during the session, whether the forty days for introducing bills is passed or not.

Cities May Make Charters.

Senate file 7, by Senator Reagan, was approved by the house this afternoon for third reading and will probably pass, giving to all cities over 5,000 population the right to make their own charters. This home rule bill has been considered by some elements interested as a "personal liberty" bill which will give the cities the right to make their own liquor regulations. The bill provides for the right to draw a charter "consistent with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state," and a thorough investigation by Senator Reagan and others interested has led to the belief that any perversion of liquor laws or any other laws is completely estopped. When the bill was voted on this afternoon almost the only votes cast on either side were by the Douglas county men, who shouted a vociferous "aye."

Prize Board of Control Bill.

The recommendation to third reading of the Prince bill for a state board of control for penal institutions made by the house Saturday did not deter the members today from putting through the same process the Matrau bill, which provides the same board. The difference in the bills is in the fact that the Matrau bill seeks to be nonpartisan by making the members of the board appointive officers and makes the board bipartisan. The Prince bill allows the naming of the members to go to a vote of the people. The Prince bill crowded the others out when they all came up together Saturday and Prince was able to get it placed for a week. Matrau and his supporters who believe that the board could not be nonpartisan unless it was appointive were unable to get any action then, but today succeeded in getting equal consideration for their bill.

Legislature Acts Upon This With Others of Tanager's Bills.

LINCOLN, March 21.—(Special.)—The state senate this forenoon passed the following bills:
S. F. 32, by Tanner—County board proceedings to be published in two papers of different political views, each paper to have the largest circulation; any political paper of its party in its county, each to receive one-third of the legal rate for such publication.
S. F. 33, by Tanner—South Omaha charter.
S. F. 4, by Tibbets—To increase the fees of county judges, clerks and treasurers.
S. F. 43, by Reagan—To make the board of public lands in office if the Omaha Park board does not spend $5,000 each year for land concerns.
S. F. 111, by Tibbets and Jansen—To authorize the termination of trust companies.
S. F. 212, by Smith of Fillmore—A new rule of the road requiring the driver of a vehicle in front to turn to the right to permit a vehicle behind the rear going the same way to pass.
S. F. 20, by Morehead—Compelling the holding of fire exercises in trust and parochial schools the first Friday in November.
S. F. 175, by Banning—Increases the salary of county treasurer examiners from $1,200 to $1,500.
S. F. 198, by Lee of Boyd—To legalize the killing of dogs that do not dress up and put on their best on the 6th of January, incorporated limits of cities or villages.

Senate Is for Reciprocity.

The senate failed to reverse its action on Canadian reciprocity this morning by a vote of 21 to 11. The resolution introduced yesterday by Senator Albert came up, but before it could be properly acted upon it was necessary to consider the Jansen resolution passed several weeks ago favoring reciprocity. Senator Bartos moved to reconsider, but a motion by Skiles to table the reconsideration motion carried and the Albert resolution died.

Albert Defends Resolution.

In defending his resolution which sought to reverse the action of the senate in support of the efforts of the national administration for reciprocity with the dominion, Albert said:

When the farmers and stockmen of Nebraska and the business interests dependent upon them waken up to the fact that the so-called reciprocity treaty with Canada merely opens the market for Canadian grain and live stock without any reduction whatever on Canadian lumber and coal and other products upon which they have a monopoly, they will say things that will make the advocates of that treaty sit up and take notice of the matter. I merely attempted on the part of eastern manufacturers to continue the system of graft on the farmers of the state which they have practiced for years. The tariff on farm products has been maintained up to this time merely to keep the farmers in now that we have reached a point where it is about to benefit, it is proposed to remove and bring them into competition with the Canadian farmer, who, because of their millions of acres of sheep and productive lands have become most dangerous competitors.

The farmers of this state will insist, I am confident, upon compensatory provisions in the way of free importation of Canadian products useful to them as a condition to the ratification of the treaty. I am very much in favor of a scaling down of the duties all along the line, but it is manifestly unfair to enter into a treaty which compels the farmers to compete with their Canadian neighbors, and which at the same time requires them to continue to pay tribute to the manufacturers of the east. It has been referred to as an "opening wedge." In my opinion it will operate chiefly as a wedge to separate every public man who advocates it from his farmer constituents.

South Omaha Charter Passes.

The senate spent the morning in passing bills, among which was the South Omaha charter, which went through an amended without dissent. The amendments provide for a recall of city officials.

The Good Roads bill in the house left over from yesterday were treated with rather slight consideration although they were the result of the efforts of a joint committee from both houses. Of the five, three were indefinitely postponed and the ones passed were of comparatively slight importance.

Highways Commission Bill Killed.

The bill providing for state aid to county highways, which was expected to meet with opposition, was easily killed. H. R. 50, the measure providing for a state commission to care for highways through deputy commissioners who would give all their time to the work, was indefinitely postponed.

The bills put on third reading were H. R. 70, which, as amended, provides for the appointment of county highway commissioners, and H. R. 72, to allow rural residents to commute taxes by paying $1 a day. The fifth bill was H. R. 73, which provides for a new system of dividing road funds. It, too, was definitely defeated.

W. C. Organ Arrested in Logansport, Ind.

Man Wanted in Fremont, Des Moines and Other Places Held for Forging Check.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., March 21.—(Special Telegram.)—W. C. Organ, a Chicago criminal, who is wanted by the police of half a dozen states was arrested yesterday at Logansport, Ind., by Pinkerton men, who trailed him from Decatur, Ind., where he forged a check for $45 last Thursday on the Old Adams County bank.

The man is wanted in Denver, Colo.; Fremont, Neb.; Springfield, Ill.; Des Moines, Ia., and several places in Ohio. When found he had $22,000 in his pockets. He was taken to Decatur, where he will be tried for forgery.
