ALL OBSERVING ARBOR DAY

Thousands Secure Trees and Shrubs for Planting.

BUSINESS HOUSES ARE CLOSED

Activities Suspended in Public Offices and Banking Concerns—Brandeis Distributes Rose Bushes.

The slight lull in the weather failed to have any noticeable effect on Arbor day in Omaha. The spirit of the day was more heartily entered into than on any previous occasion of like nature, and it seems that the whole city turned its attention to tree planting. Not only children, but when the spirit of civic pride possessed through various agencies, but even in business, men and women who would never be suspected of being infected with the city beautiful bugle, entered into the festival—for such they are.

Great interest was given to the day by the free distribution of quality roses by the Brandeis stores. The roses were given on Douglas street, and were given away to school children, as well as all others who needed something most of the day there was a large crowd waiting in line to be served. At least 50 percent of the men, women and children seen on the downtown side during the morning hours carried trees and shrubs for planting. Among the trees of the Arbor day plants was the magnificent 1000 American Beauty rose, brought by Hayden Bros. These were sold for a nominal price, merely to cover the cost of the trees.

In some quarters there was a general suspicion of a strike. In business houses were closed all day and a staff holiday was enjoyed in the evening. Deliveries were made only on the main floor from the postoffice, offices on the 11th floor were closed all day, and the city was also closed for half a day. No business was done at the Grain exchange.

Fear of Kidnaper Keeps Young Woman Away from School

Miss Hochtetler Does Not Attend Classes at Brownell Hall—No Developments.

No developments have appeared in the Smith-Hochtetler blackmail cases, it is said that private detectives have been engaged by the two families. A theory held by some of the police is that the blackmailing letters are the result of a college prank played upon young Smith and Miss Hochtetler. The young man is a student at Creighton university and a favorite with a set of practical jokes and college wags. Miss Hochtetler, it is understood, no longer attends Brownell hall where she was formerly a student. The young woman is said to be in fear of being kidnaped.

CATSUP DESTROYED AT REQUEST OF PURCHASERS

McCord-Brady Company Calls Federal Expert to Examine Suspected Shipment of Condiments. The action of federal authorities in ordering the destruction of a carload of catsup in the possession of the McCord-Brady company was taken following an examination made at the request of W. M. McDevitt, an officer of the firm. "We bought the goods under guaranty and are in no way responsible for the possession of the rejected catsup," said Mr. McDevitt. The catsup will be destroyed under the supervision of the United States marshal. It was made by an eastern concern.

TO CLOSE DANCE HALLS EARLY

Ordinance is Being Drawn by the City Attorney's Office.

MUST CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT

Boys and Girls Under Eighteen Are to Be Barred Altogether on Suggestion of Chief of Police Donahue. An ordinance licensing and regulating public dance halls is being drawn by Clinton Brome, assistant city attorney, at the request of License Inspector Schneider and Chief of Police Donahue. The draft will be offered to the city council either Monday or Tuesday and its passage asked. The draft provides that all public dance halls must close at midnight and prevent boys and girls under 18 years of age from frequenting these places. A nominal license fee will be exacted. Some doubt was expressed as to whether the city could force dance halls to close at midnight, but after an investigation of the laws relative to the case Brome came to the conclusion that they are amenable to the same as pool halls and other places of amusement. Chief Donahue has declared that public halls are a greater menace to public safety than even the all night pool halls. He suggested they be forced to close at midnight, saying that in the majority of instances all places that remained open after this hour were nothing more than resorts.

Omaha Presbytery that Met at Florence

DELEGATES AND VISITORS AT THE CLOSE OF THE MEETING LAST WEEK.

For the first time in its history Florence was erected and later in the first church erected Levi Levering of Blackbird Hill and M. Robertson, two fullblood Omaha Indians, were also present and added a touch of romance to the proceedings. Robertson as a subchief lived near Florence at the time of the Mormon encampment and was in their employ to guard them against the warlike Sioux on their journey across the state. He says he still has some of the money for his services coming to him. He says his first visit to Florence was in 1848 when he lived with Anton Cabanne, who had established a trading post north of Florence lake. In a fight with the Sioux on the hills west of Florence he lost two of his fingers on one of his hands and has many wounds and scars of other encounters. He is now an elder in the Presbyterian church at Martins and devotes his time to the raising of fine horses for which he receives a handsome sum of money in
