MILLER REPORTS ON BUILDING

State Inspector Examines Structures

at Kearney and Norfolk. FINDS LATTER POORLY BUILT of Supervision or Neglec of Specifications Vital Defects Exist, but Hospital May

Be Habitable,

(From a Staff Correspondent.) Land Commissioner Cowles today gave out substantially the purport of investigations nade by Burd F. Miller of Omaha, recently different state institutions. The statement given out by the Board of Public Lands and Buildings, of which E. B. Cowles is Burd F. Miller, supervisor of construc-tion of state buildings, has reported to the governor and oBard of Public Lands and buildings that the Kearney Industrial school is in bad sanitary condition, that it is infested with rates and that repairs must be made. He has reported the Norfolk asylum in good sanitary condition, but he finds much fault with the planning of the hospital building which remains unfinished hospital building which remains unfir and complains that the contractor either grossly incompetent or wilfully

Of the Kearney institution he says: "I find the premises are infested with rate is such an extent that I would consider it dangerous for the health of the inmates. However, this I think, can be easily and speedily remedied if the board will allow me to secure the services of some person who has some ferrets to go with me to this institution and rid it of these pests. I think this can be done at very small expense."

Plumbing is Unsanitary.

The reports further state that the base cents of nearly all of the buildings are ments of hearly all of the buildings are not properly ventilated and tife majority of the plumbing it unfit for use, and if not mmediately remedied may be a source of disease. New concrete floors in some basement rooms are recommended. These the could be dairy room, kitchen and that portion used by the cooling room. The cooling room is unfit for use and will have to be replaced.

Too Many Windows.

Tee Many Windows.

Mr. Miller says the interior doors are too large and the windows too large and too numerous and he fears even with storm windows it will be difficult to keep the hospital building warm. He found bath rooms on the north side with windows covering over half the interior wall and notwithstanding all of this glass surface no provision for heat had been made in these rooms. A defect in the building is its location with reference to grade lines. The concrete work in the basement is in bad condition, being checked and heaving.

Mr. Miller says: "It would seem to me as if this work had lacked proper supervision during construction, as there are many other parts of the building that show to poor workmanship, with apparently an attempt to evade specifications and details. I am not familiar enough with the dreumstances surrounding the construction of this building to give any further opinion."

He recommends methods by which the building can be completed and says with
